President Signs Air Base Bill

Funds Are Included In Big National Measure

President Truman Thursday signed a bill providing $46,600,000,000 in defense funds for the next 12 months including $12,464,000 for the Lincoln, Neb., Air Base.

The measure provides $9,092,000 for reactivation of the Lincoln Base and $3,372,000 for providing new accommodations for the Naval Air Reserve Station now at the Airport.

The Lincoln appropriation is included in the $2,140,000,000 global military construction section.

It brings to $41,600,000 the total appropriated for the Lincoln Base, since $29,000,000 has been appropriated last year.

The same bill provides $281,000 for Offutt Air Force Base construction near Omaha, the Associated Press said.

It furnishes the cash to establish a powerful 143-wing Air Force by the middle of 1953.

Ceiling Out

The effective strength of the Air Force now is about 90 wings. A wing ranges from about 18 heavy bombers to 75 fighters, with administrative and maintenance personnel.

Although the bill gives the Army, Navy and Air Force five billion dollars less than the President requested, it does not carry the 46 billion ceiling on military spending voted by the house.

Military leaders contemplate spending more than 50 billion this year, drawing on funds previously appropriated by Congress but not used. They argued that an arbitrary ceiling would wreck the military buildup. The ceiling was removed when Senate and House conferees worked out a compromise bill.

Extra Combat Pay

The bill also gives $45 a month extra in combat pay for servicemen in Korea since the fighting began there. A minimum of six days in the combat area is required for each month's eligibility.

The Navy is authorized in the measure to build a second 65,000-ton aircraft carrier of the Forrestal class. No new funds are supplied for this project, however.

Under the bill, the Army gets $12,239,000,000, the navy $12,842,000,000 and the Air Force $21,118,000,000.

Combat pay will cost an estimated 268 million dollars a year.

Rains Would Cinch Bumper Corn Output

Good rains during the next 30 days will assure Nebraska of one of its best corn crops in history.

This comment came Thursday from A. E. Anderson, state-federal crop statistician, as he studied July crop estimates issued by the Department of Ariculture.

In fact, with the rains the corn production could top the prediction of 254,880,000 bushels, as forecast Thursday, the crop expert pointed out. The stand is "good" and cultivation "excellent," he added.

That lush dark green color of the corn foliage this year, which has brought considerable comment from observers, is due to certain soil temperatures caused by the June heat wave.

Weight Champ At GOP Meet

Flash Fire Hits Storage Building

A flash fire, blamed by Asst. Fire Chief Richard T. Tucker on spontaneous combustion, swept through a small building housing Cliff's Auto Parts, 500 West A, Thursday night.

Tucker said the building was a storage house for old auto parts and other equipment, including mattresses. He estimated damage would be small.

No accurate damage figure could be ascertained until the owner, Cliff Dennis, could be reached, he said. The blaze originated in the south end of the building and extended to the roof.

GOP Platform Charts 'New Day March'

Full Text Of Platform On Pages 2 And 11

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—The Republican National Convention Thursday adopted a 1952 platform bristling with denunciation of the Truman administration—and in its words — charting a road for free men to "march into a new day."

A 6,000-word campaign document—which will become the textbook for GOP campaign orators in the months ahead—accused the Democratic administration with losing the peace and with trying to set up a Socialistic state at home.

An anticipated battle over the platform stand on the touchy issue of civil rights failed to develop. Northern proponents of compulsory federal action to end racial discrimination in employment of workers interpreted a "middle-of-the-road" plank as favoring their position.

It was this group that had threatened to demand that the civil rights stand be rewritten from the convention floor. But they gave up without a fight.

The foreign policy plank was approved by both Taft and his chief rival for the presidential nomination, Gen. Eisenhower, before the Resolutions Committee laid it before the convention.

In bitter tones of denunciation, the platform charged that the party in power has been fostering class strife for political purposes and hampering domestic progress by "unnecessary and crushing taxation."

It said that freedom and liberty at home had been lost, and promised to re-establish them. Such an achievement, it declared, would revive "contagious, liberating influences" that inevitably would set up stresses and strains behind the Iron Curtain and make Communist rulers impotent to carry out their goal of world domination.

Southern delegates had demanded it oppose federal action to require employers to refrain from racial or religious discrimination in the hiring and firing of workers.

Northerners, on the other hand, had battled at closed sessions of the Resolutions Committee for a compulsory federal program.

The plank submitted to the convention promised federal action against unfair employment practices in states which themselves fail to act. It did not say, however, whether such action should be of the compulsory or voluntary type.

Man's Foot Breaks When Hit By Bus

John J. Stech, 70, 1250 Sanders, suffered a fractured right foot Thursday night when struck by a bus at 10th and O.

Stech, police said, was crossing when the bus hit him, crushing his foot. He is reported in good condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

Motorcycle Officer Lowel Sellmeyer said the bus driver was W. E. Lyon, 37, of 4121 No. 65th, an employe of Lincoln City Lines.

Justice Simmons To Tell Far East Of American Legal System

JUSTICE SIMMONS . . . Going on Far East lecture tour for U. S. State Department.

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court will spend several months in the Far East, lecturing and discussing the American legal system for the State Department, it was announced.

He will visit the Philippines, Indonesia, Thailand, Burma and Formosa and return in time for the September term of the Court. He is to leave about July 14.

"It is my understanding that this is the first time any American judge has been asked to perform this sort of a mission," Judge Simmons said in a statement. "The nations involved have requested the service."

The State Department said the chief justice would "speak before interested groups on various phases of the American legal system and hold informal discussions and roundtable talks with law students, private attorneys, professors of law, federal and local government officials, members of the high court, the Supreme Court and barristers associations."

"As a representative American who has achieved a place of prominence in American life," the Department continued, "it is believed he will contribute effectively toward correcting many of the false impressions which are held abroad about this country."

Judge Simmons said his discussions would place special reference on the meaning of the constitutional guarantees and civil liberties, including the bill of rights, the writ of habeas corpus, protection of the rights of persons accused of a crime, and generally the "how and why" of the judicial system.

"The offer was made with the distinct understanding that there was to be no intervention on the part of the State Department as to what I would say," Simmons' statement said, adding:

"I am to go as a private citizen, free to express my own views bearing in mind only my responsibilities as an American citizen."

The assignment comes under the Department's general lecturer plan and Judge Simmons has been awarded a grant by the educational exchange service of the Department to carry out the project.

"I will receive my own traveling expenses, and also a modest honorarium," the judge said.

"Mrs. Simmons will accompany me. Her expenses including transportation will be paid for by ourselves."

Warren And Stassen Still Hoping For A Deadlock

Demonstrations Touched Off As Names Offered

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (Friday) (AP)—The GOP put in nomination for the presidency last night the names of the men who have split it into bitterly warring factions—Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.*

Gov. Earl Warren of California was nominated, too, at a Republican National Convention that rolled into today's early morning hours.

And followers of former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and Gen. Douglas MacArthur made it a five-way choice.

First it was Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois who paraded to the speaker's rostrum to present to weary delegates:

"Mr. Integrity, Mr. Republican, Mr. American, Robert A. Taft."

That was the signal for a 43-minute uproar.

More Bedlam

Another senator, California's William F. Knowland proposed Warren as a "candidate who can give the leadership the nation now so desperately needs." Twenty more minutes of bedlam.

Then it was Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, once a favorite son hopeful himself, who put in nomination the name of Eisenhower — the general who never before had tried for public office.

"He is a strong man," McKeldin said, "the Hercules to sweep the stench and stigma from the Augean Stables of the Washington administration."

Mrs. C. Edward Howard of Excelsior, Minn., nominated Stassen as a candidate who can "convert a lot of independent voters and Democrats."

MacArthur's Turn

MacArthur's turn came then, and it was Fred L. Coogan, delegate from Sayre, Okla., who put the general's name before the convention. It was 1:50 a.m. (CDT) and the balconies were almost bare of spectators.

With balloons, banners and bands, with flying paper saucers and state standards, partisans stormed into the aisles and paraded as best they could around this vast stockyards arena.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., the convention chairman, said speeches and demonstrations were eating up so much time the voting would have to be potsponed until Friday morning's session. Actually the final decision on that was up to the delegates themselves if anyone wanted to raise the issue.

There were other developments:

Taft, Warren and Stassen appeared to have formed a loosely-knit coalition designed to stop a first ballot stampede to Eisenhower. But among them, it was still each man for himself.

As Dirksen began speaking, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York stalked out. Dirksen had pointed a finger at the 1944-1948 nominee Wednesday night and grimly accused the governor of "leading us down the road to defeat."

This time Dewey is working for Eisenhower.

Dirksen

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft was placed in nomination as a Republican candidate for the presidency Thursday night by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who said "Taft has the courage to do the unpopular thing when principle demands it."

Dirksen lauded Taft on five major counts. He said of Taft:

1. He is a winner.
2. He is the best assurance to young men of military age.
3. He does not believe in meddling.
4. Labor will support him.
5. He is a campaigner and a fighter.

He concluded by describing Taft as:

"Mr. Integrity, Mr. Republican, Mr. American, Robert A. Taft."

Knowland

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland offered Gov. Earl Warren to the Republican convention as a presidential candidate who could unite the party and give the country an administration "of honor and purpose in both domestic and foreign affairs."

"He is a man who believes in constitutional government, the American system of competitive free enterprise and who has a deep conviction that within the framework of the constitution our people can obtain for themselves a better way of life and can leave to their children a better land than they themselves found, which in essence, has been the American concept over the years x x x"

McKeldin

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was put up for the Republican presidential nomination as the man to unite his party and drive "the stench and stigma" from Washington.

Gov. Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin of Maryland entered Eisenhower's name.

"He is a genius for victory," McKeldin declared.

"Spontaneously, the people of the United States have indicated their strong and growing desire to have him as their president.

"Here is a man to unite our party . . . our nation . . . our productive forces . . . our allies and potential allies," McKeldin said.

Communists hate Eisenhower, while Americans, their friends and enslaved peoples have faith in him, the governor went on.

Mrs. Howard

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—Harold E. Stassen was placed in nomination at the Republican national convention on his record as governor of Minnesota and his avowed belief in world co-operation.

Mrs. C. Edward Howard—one of the few women in GOP convention history to make a principal nominating speech—also attributed to the University of Pennsylvania President an ability to capture the independent voter and convert the Democrat.

Mrs. Howard said Stassen early understood "that we are no longer a small country in a big world but a big country in a small world."

Coogan

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was described as "true patriot . . . great soldier . . . master statesman . . . magnificient citizen . . ." as his name was placed in nomination by Fred L. Coogan of Sayre, Okla.

MacArthur's, Coogan said, "is a name that will not die and will not fade away."

Balloting Delayed; Senator Gets A Breather

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (Friday) (AP)—Arthur E. Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman who for months had tried to maintain neutrality in the presidential contest, announced early today he favors Gen. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower forces expected a chunk of Michigan votes to follow him into their camp.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey followed up with an announcement that New York will throw 92 votes to Eisenhower, four to Taft on the first ballot on the basis of a nose counting caucus.

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's victory-scenting forces built their strategy Thursday night on clinching the GOP presidential nomination on an early ballot before harried ranks of Sen. Robert A. Taft could regroup effectively for a desperate never-give-up fight.

However, Taft forces did get a breather. The balloting on a nominee was put off until Friday, with a series of "the-man-who" nominating speeches occupying Thursday night at the 25th Republican national convention. Even with that delay on a showdown, the Eisenhower camp was talking more and more of a first ballot blitz.

Yet favorite son candidates on whom Eisenhower depends to flock to his standard—Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—still held hopes of a deadlock that would give them a chance.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (Friday) (AP) — The eighth session of the 25th Republican national convention adjourned at 1:43 (CST) this morning until 9:30 a.m. (CST) Friday.

Rowdiest In Years

So the whole outcome of the roughest, rowdiest Republican convention battle in years remained in doubt.

Eiesnhower, nevertheless, was clearly out front at last and running hard. His leaders attempted to make capital at every turn of two key test vote victories on the convention floor that gave the general the bulk of the disputed Georgia and Texas delegations in the early morning hours.

Late Thursday Eisenhower had lined up nine more delegates, whereas Taft had picked up only one.

The Associated Press tally of delegates stood like this:

Eisenhower 523.
Taft 487.
Others 110.
Uncommitted 86.
Needed to nominate 604.

While the presidential contestants struggled for the grand prize, the convention adopted its 1952 platform without the fight leaders had feared. Northern delegates who had grumbled somewhat over a middle-of-the-road plank on civil rights looked it over again and decided they could accept it.

The platform accuses the Truman administration of fashioning a socialistic state at home and appeasing Communism abroad. It promises that the GOP will lead free men to "a march into a new day."

Taft looked chipper and unworried Thursday after delegate buttonholing and strategy conferences that left only three hours for sleep. Yet some of his lieutenants were conceding privately that the Ohio senator faced a rough, uphill road to the nomination that has eluded him twice before.

Polio Rate This Year Reaches Record Peak

NEW YORK (AP)—There is more polio so far this year than ever before, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported Thursday.

There were 3,683 cases reported for the first half of this year as against 3,182 cases the first half of 1949, called the worst epidemic year in history.

Nearly a third of this year's cases have been in Texas.

State's Simmons Seconds Warren Bid

By J. E. LAWRENCE
(Editor, The Lincoln Star)

CHICAGO—Young Robert G. Simmons, Jr. of Scottsbluff made one of the four second speeches for Gov. Earl Warren of California here Thursday night.

Mr. Simmons has voted with the fair play bloc during the delegate contests but remained uncommitted.

In seconding Warren's candidacy, Mr. Simmons called attention to the California Governor's record as an administrator.

"We came to the convention divided," he continued. "We must leave united, with confidence and friendship in each other, our platform and our candidate among us.

"There appears to me to be only one person whose Republican past is adequately clear, whose fighting Republican spirit is sufficiently strong, and whose political successes are impressively decisive."

Simmons had leaned toward Warren since the start of the convention. The Nebraska delegation expected to give 14 votes to Taft on the first roll call, divide the other four among Eisenhower and Warren.

In the hotel rooms of Chicago, Midwest Republicans up for election or re-election including some from Nebraska were doing some serious thinking.

They were not at all happy with the indicated outcome of the party's National Convention. It was not a matter of personalities with them although Taft's chief strength was rooted in the Midlands. The thing that bothered them most was the feeling that the selection of Gen. Eisenhower meant a continuation of what they called New Deal foreign policy. Also troubling them was the widespread opposition to universal military training which is stoutly opposed in many Midwestern areas especially among the churches. One Nebraskan who asked that his name not be used said that he had received a number of telephone calls Thursday expressing disappointment and voicing the fear that Republican candidates from Nebraska were in for some trouble.

It was not clear in advance of the actual balloting to select a nominee whether a hard core of Taft supporters would join in the Eisenhower parade.

Ted Metcalf of Omaha said he intended to stick to the end. Jack Devoe of Lincoln was a bit more philosophical.

The Taft group in the Nebraska delegation was grabbing at straws hoping that some queer quirk would bring Gen. Douglas MacArthur back into the picture or that Warren and Stassen who held a conference with Sen. Taft would undertake to stop Eisenhower.

State Chairman David Martin of Kearney may be one of the beneficiaries of the change in the rules approved at the convention. In practical effect the change will enlarge the membership of the Republican National Committee. In any state which goes Republican the state chairman becomes a member of the national governing group. This bonus package in the event that Nebraska continued in the Republican column will give the state three members of the national committee including National Committeeman A. V. Shotwell of Omaha, National Committeewoman Mrs. Edna Donald of Grand Island and Chairman Martin. The introduction of new blood did not originate with the national committee itself but grew out of a Midwest conference with party leaders.

Nebraskans anticipating a quick ending of the convention at the close of the week were checking into reservations for the trip home.

Youngsters Sample Smallfry Politics

Seems politics is getting to everyone this week—even the small fry.

Two youngsters, aged 9 and 10, wondered what their little pals thought about the Republican candidates.

So Perry Eagen, 10, of 2102 Bradfield Dr., and Dick Short, 9, 2125 Bradfield Dr., set up a "booth" at the corner of South and Bradfield Drive.

"Vote Hear For Ike or Taft or Sassten. VOTE HEAR," read the sign on their voting-table.

A shady tree, a couple chairs, two glasses and a milk-bottle full of water cared for the comforts of the pollsters from 10 a.m. through the afternoon.

Just before closing time, their opinion-sample of the neighborhood kids appeared to come close to that of the delegates at Chicago

Ike had 54 votes, Taft 17 and 15 for "Sassten."

STEAMROLLERS, GROUNDSWELLS AND TRENDS—Two amateur politicos concentrate on the results of the kid-poll conducted at their "booth." CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—It's definite now—as definite as anything can be at a political convention. Friday is the big day.

That is when balloting will start to select the Republican presidential nominee.

Based on the usual procedure, the remaining program on Friday shaped up about like this:

Call to order.
Invocation.
Roll call of states for selection of presidential nominee.
Nominations for office of vice president.
Roll call to select vice presidential nominee.
Selection of National Committee and announcement of meeting for organization.
Appointment of committee to notify the candidates for President and vice president.

GOP Platform Text

CHICAGO (AP)—Following is the text of the Republican platform, as adopted by the resolutions committee for presentation Thursday to the national convention:

Preamble:

We maintain that man was not born to be ruled, but that he consented to be governed; and that the reasons that moved him thereto are few and simple. He has voluntarily submitted to government because, only, by establishment of just laws, and the power to enforce those laws, can an orderly life be maintained, full and equal opportunities for all be established, and the blessings of liberty be perpetuated.

We hold that government, and those entrusted with government, should set a high example of honesty, of justice, and unselfish devotion to the public good; that they should labor to maintain tranquility at home and peace and friendship with all the nations of the earth.

We assert that during the last twenty years, leaders of the government of the United States under successive Democrat administrations, and especially under this present administration, have failed to perform these several basic duties; but, on the contrary, that they have evaded them, flouted them, and by a long succession of vicious acts, so undermined the foundations of our republic as to threaten its existence.

We charge that they have arrogantly deprived our citizens of precious liberties by seizing powers never granted.

We charge that they work unceasingly to achieve their goal of national socialism.

We charge that they have disrupted internal tranquility by fostering class strife for venal political purposes.

We charge that they have choked opportunity and hampered progress by unnecessary and crushing taxation.

Charge Of Waste

They claim prosperity but the appearance of economic health is created by war expenditures, waste and extravagance, planned emergencies, and war crises. They have debauched our money by cutting in half the purchasing power of our dollar.

We charge that they have weakened local self-government which is the cornerstone of the freedom of men.

We charge that they have shielded traitors to the nation in high places, and that they have created enemies abroad where we should have friends.

We charge that they have violated our liberties by turning loose upon the country a swarm of arrogant bureaucrats and their agents who meddle intolerably in the lives and occupations of our citizens.

We charge that there has been corruption in high places, and that examples of dishonesty and dishonor have shamed the moral standards of the American people.

We charge that they have plunged us into war in Korea without the consent of our citizens through their authorized representatives in the Congress, and have carried on that war without will to victory.

FOREIGN POLICY

The present administration, in seven years, has squandered the unprecedented power and prestige which were ours at the close of World War II.

In that time, more than 50 million non-Russian people of fifteen different countries have been absorbed into the power sphere of communist Russia, which proceeds confidently with its plan for world conquest.

We charge that the leaders of the administration in power lost the peace so dearly earned by World War II.

The moral incentives and hopes for a better world which sustained us through World War II were betrayed, and this has given Communist Russia a military and propaganda initiative which, if unstayed, will destroy us.

They abandoned friendly nations such as Latvia, Lithuania, Esthonia, Poland and Czechoslovakia to fend for themselves against the Communist aggression which soon swallowed them.

They required the national government of China to surrender Manchuria with its strategic ports and railroads to the control of Communist Russia. They urged that Communists be taken into the Chinese government and its military forces. And finally they denied the military aid that had been authorized by Congress and which was crucially needed if China were to be saved. Thus they substituted on our Pacific flank a murderous enemy for an ally and friend.

Pledges Flouted

In all these respects they flouted our peace-assuring pledges such as the Atlantic charter, and did so in favor of despots, who, it was well known, consider that murder, terror, slavery, concentration camps and the ruthless and brutal denial of human rights are legitimate means to their desired ends.

Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam were the scenes of those tragic blunders with others to follow. The leaders of the administration in power acted without the knowledge or consent of Congress or of the American people. They traded our overwhelming victory for a new enemy and for new oppressions and new wars which were quick to come.

In South Korea, they withdrew our occupation troops in the face of the aggressive, poised for action, Communist military strength on its northern border. They publicly announced that Korea was of no concern to us. Then when the Communist forces acted to take what seemed to have been invited, they committed this nation to fight back under the most unfavorable conditions. Already the tragic cost is over 110,000 American casualties.

Briton Sent To Prison For Aiding Soviet

LONDON (INS)—William M. Marshall, 24-year-old radio operator was sentenced to five years in prison for giving British secrets to a Russion diplomat.

The former foreign office employe was found guilty of three charges of passing information about the diplomatic wireless service to Pavel Kuznetsov, a Soviet Embassy secretary, and a fourth charge of illegally recording secret information.

Under the Official Secrets Act, he could have received a maximum sentence of 14 years, but the all-male jury in Old Bailey asked for the "utmost leniency."

The jurors said:

"We feel he has been led astray."

Tank-Led Allies Storm 3 Hills

SEOUL (Friday) (AP)—Tank supported United Nations infantrymen occupied three Korean hills without opposition and fought a bitter one-hour action for a fourth Thursday before withdrawing.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported the raids were northeast of Chorwon, on the Western front. All the U. N. raiding units returned to their bases.

A heavy overcast kept U.N. planes grounded, except for Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers which dived through the clouds over the Western front, destroying or damaging seven Communist gun positions.

Tax Appraisal In Madison Studied

Tax appraisal work completed in Madison, Wis., is being inspected this week by two members of the Lancaster County Tax Reappraisal Committee, Thomas R. Pansing and Frank Shugrue.

They are investigating work done by an appraisal firm in reevaluating property in Madison, which is approximately the same size as Lincoln. They are expected back in Lincoln Friday.

The committee is currently studying bids for reappraising all Lancaster County property, and plans to recommend a firm to do the work at the next County Commissioners meeting on Tuesday.

Auto Breakin Rash Reported

A rash of seven auto break-ins in which thieves gained entrance through ventilator windows, were reported to Lincoln police.

M. E. Giffid of 1520 So. 23rd reported his car radio valued at $89 and a billfold were taken. The empty billfold was found two blocks away.

A car radio was also stolen from the James Chapman auto, parked near his residence at 23rd and S.

Fourteen silver dollars and an electric razor were taken from the locked glove compartment of the car of Lewis Segelson, 1742 K. Lisebeth H. Beynon of 1705 C reported the loss of two cameras which had been left in her car.

The right vent winlow of an automobile owned by John Creighan of Los Angeles, California, was broken and a pair of glasses valued at $35 taken. The car was parked at 890 No. 23rd.

Milford Armour of Grand Island lost clothing, a suitcase, an electric razor and shaving kit after a break-in of his car parked at 18th and L.

Irma A. Newberry, Detroit, visiting at 612 No. 27th, told police that an unsuccessful attempt to enter her car was made during the night. A broken vent window was the only damage.

Fabulous Redfield Robbery Principal Spends Night Here

Mrs. Marie Jeanne D'arc Michaud, of Reno, Nev., convicted last month by a Federal Court of the fabulous $1,500,500 Redfield burglary, spent Thursday night in City Jail.

She, along with a companion also implicated in the crime, and two U.S. deputy marshals, is en route to the Federal Women's Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va.

The 36-year-old Reno song writer revealed during the trial that she was a house guest of Le Vere Redfield and "cased the job." She told police she wanted to get some of the eccentric's money in circulation.

The other woman, Mrs. Leona Mae Giordano, 40, gave police their first real clue in the burglary when she tried to change a "hot" $1,000 bill in a Reno gambling hall.

Mrs. Michaud was sentenced to five years in the West Virginia institution and Mrs. Giordano will be confined for one year and a day.

Cash Settlement Ends Beatrice Police Chief Tiff

BEATRICE (AP) — The dispute between L. C. Regler, ousted Beatrice chief of police, and Beatrice city commissioners was settled Thursday by agreement.

The commissioners authorized payment of $1,250 from the general fund to Regler and the former police chief agreed not to press any charges against the commissioners and to file his resignation as chief.

The settlement followed a ruling by District Judge C. B. Ellis Wednesday, ordering a proper hearing on Regler's dismissal. He held that while the city commissioners had the right to dismiss Regler, they had to follow statute procedures.

Regler was dismissed for what was termed lack of cooperation with Mayor Perry Barker. He countered that the mayor had gone over his head in dealing with police matters.

He then brought suit in District Court asking a writ of mandamus ordering his reinstatement.

The commissioners, Barker, Troy Ward and John Smith, unanimously agreed on a resolution pointing out that the agreement was reached because litigation contemplated would be long and costly.

Naval Air Secretary Offers Nothing New On Relocation

Assistant Secretary of Navy for Air John F. Floberg, stopping off at the Lincoln Naval Reserve Base enroute to California, had nothing new to reveal on relocation of the local unit, but said he had come here to "familiarize myself with the general conditions of the base."

However, Capt. Harold Murray, commanding officer here, received tentative plans from the Strategic Air Command at Offutt Field Thursday which would relocate the Navy on the southeast part of the field.

Drawings of the proposed relocation, Capt. Murray pointed out, do not show area measurements and are only tentative plans which must be approved by the Navy before acceptance.

The commanding officer set 70 acres as minimum space for the Naval Base.

The 36-year old Floberg said a series of talks have been going on for months with the Air Force in Washington but revealed no information on the outcome of such conferences.

The assistant secretary's arrival was scheduled three times before his North American trainer glided in with the civilian official, his aide, Capt. John Thach, famous for implementing the "Thach weave" in fighter tactics, and Marine Capt. Jerry McCallan.

Asked what his plans were for Thursday night, the assistant secretary quipped, "I'm going to watch television."

He had just left Chicago, scene of the battle among Republicans. Floberg is to speak at an aviation writers annual convention at Los Angeles July 11 on "Naval aviation in general."

The youngest secretary in any of the three services, and with the longest months of service, will confer with Capt. Murray Friday morning before leaving.

Reds Stand Pat In Closed Talk

MUNSAN, Korea (Friday) (AP)—Koren truce talkers started their second week of secret meetings today with Red broadcasts insisting the Communists will not yield in the prisoner exchange dispute.

The United Nations and Communist envoys were to meet again at Panmunjom at 11 a.m. (8 p.m. Thursday CST).

No reports of progress have come from the closed door meetings.

Demos To Enjoy Majority County Receiving Boards

Election Commissioner Harold Gillett is in the process of selecting new election receiving boards with a three to two Democratic majority.

The unusual Demo majority is the result of Lancaster County voting in favor of Democrat Walter Raecke in the last election for governor. The law provides that the receiving board majority shall go to the party with the heaviest vote in the last campaign for governor.

Counting boards will remain split as to party preference, two to two. Inspectors are not included in the political division.

Appointments to the existing boards expire Oct. 5. The new list must be completed and published before that date to afford opportunity for objections.

CU Study Award Teacher Granted

Kenneth Howland, a Hastings High School teacher, was presented a $150 scholarship for study at the University of Colorado aviation education workshop by the Lincoln chapter of the National Aeronautics Association.

George Farley, president of the local chapter, made the presentation.

Striking Steelworkers Resume Talks With Industry

More Than Ores Issue Discussed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The striking CIO United Steelworkers and top representatives of the industry resumed negotiations Thursday at a secret meeting.

There was no immediate report of progress.

Company officials would not comment but a top union spokesman, who asked that his name not be revealed, said:

"We're meeting again Friday."

The meeting was called by industry representatives ostensibly to find out what co-operation the union would give in getting iron ore for their blast furnaces next winter. Some 23,000 iron ore miners quit work in sympathy when 600,000 steelworkers struck June 2.

Since most ore is moved during the seven months the lakes are open industry leaders fear that unless ore shipments are resumed soon they will face shortages next winter.

Asked if Thursday's meeting involved more than iron ore and a discussion of all issues involved in the basic steel dispute the union spokesman said:

"You may assume that."

Heat Makes Hens Pokey—Prices Of Eggs Going Up

The man on the street isn't the only one affected by the summer heat — the torrid temperatures have lowered egg production, and prices have jumped five cents in the past week here in Lincoln.

Poultry wholesalers have noted a 35 to 40 per cent drop in egg production during this week's heat wave. Farm run egg prices have risen from 28 to 30, and again to 33 cents a dozen in the same period.

Quality of eggs has fallen off also, according to wholesalers. Top grade eggs are bringing as much as 40 cents a dozen; graded eggs 35 to 38 cents.

Prospects of a more stable market seem unlikely. One wholesaler said he wouldn't be surprised if prices jumped two cents in the next four or five days.

In Omaha, wholesale prices have gone up four to five cents a dozen in the past week. Grade one eggs will be sold in stores at prices eight to 10 cents higher than a month ago.

New Director Believes Southwest Center Nicest She Has Ever Seen

Lincoln's Southwest Community Center has "one of the nicest buildings" its new director has seen in a life of community-recreation and welfare work.

Mrs. Laura Dougherty, whose last community center was destroyed by the 1951 Kansas City flood, assumed charge of the Southwest Center this week. It had been closed for a week following the retirement of Miss S. Adelia Winter.

One facility at Southwest that especially impressed Mrs. Dougherty was the library and the use of it by neighborhood children. At Kansas City, Kan., it took her three years to promote and build one, she said.

The Kansas City agency, the Skyline Community Center, was in the packing house district, serving 27,000 persons. When she began working there, Mrs. Dougherty said, there was no heat in the building and very little to work with. Before the flood it had become the focal-point of the community.

Mrs. Dougherty got into community center work when a youngster in New Mexico. She learned Spanish early and used to help public health nurses as an interpreter.

Her plans for the Center will emphasize group work.

City Zoning Board Refuses Approval For Six Requests

The City Zoning Board of Appeals failed to give approval to any of six zoning applications heard before it Thursday.

The Board dismissed the application of C. W. Forburger for industrial zoning of property south and west of Highway 6 cutoff between X and Y because the property had already been so zoned in 1950.

A three to three tie vote was rendered on approval of the application of Pauline J. Orcutt for permission to operate a nursing home at 1701 A.

Other applications and action taken:

Robinson Outdoor Advertising, permit to erect signboard on West O, along Burlington tracks, deferred for further information.

Arthur F. Allen, permit to operate "Do-Nut" shop in basement at 3471 No. 53rd, denied.

E. L. Harris, garage set back waiver at 945 So. 31st, denied.

Alfred Henriksen, change in frontage from Dudley to 27th of building at that intersection, deferred.

Property Owner Protests Capitol Environs Zoning

Robert H. VanBoskirk, through Attorney H. B. Muffly, has filed a protest against the city's proposed new zoning ordinance and particularly against the zoning for property at the northeast corner of 13th and J.

Attacking setback requirements imposed on the J Street property, Muffly wrote the City Council that the zoning ordinance "is unreasonable and a confiscation of private property without compensation or due process of law."

The VanBoskirk property is within the proposed capitol environs zoning, which normally requires a 20 foot setback.

The ordinance, however, provides further that there shall be no setback requirements beyond a line drawn between the two existing structures nearest the curb line in any block.

Any existing structure, therefore, could not possible have a setback imposed upon it greater than is now in practice.

Man Of Destiny

By J. E. LAWRENCE

CHICAGO—Possibly before this appears in type, the Republican convention here in Chicago may have nominated a candidate for the presidency—and that candidate appeared certain to be Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

★

A ground swell of the kind that has been mounting here since the Taft forces suffered their initial reverse is not easy to stop when it gets to rolling and the Taft people simply have not had the stuff it takes. Eisenhowers shrewd seasoned team of workers frequently giving the impression of clumsiness, a dangerous notion to get, has squeezed every ounce of value out of the issue of honesty, fair-dealing and morality. They have played out their cards expertly so as to take full advantage of every mistake the Taft people made, and they made a good many. Tom Coleman of Wisconsin, one of the Taft strategists, is said to have advised strongly against going into a bare-knuckle floor fight over the Southern delegations but he was overruled. The rightness of his judgment was established in less than 10 minutes of heated debate. The issue placed in the hands of the Eisenhower people was of much greater value than the actual votes involved. It was the kind of appeal which stimulates emotion and inspires action.

★

Against the assumption that virtue lay with the Eisenhower delegates and the Taft delegates were the children of chicanery, the Taft camp was helpless. It could talk in stilted phrases about precedent or party practice but that line was cold, empty alongside the growing vision of a strong, regenerated, vital new Republican party of the South.

★

Only Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois from whose lips the words fall in musical cadence was able to pierce it and in the toughness of attack he turned loose, actually he solidified the opposition to Taft. But he fired a couple of shots that will be heard for some time. Recalling that the party functioned through the national committee, he asked the Eisenhower people how they expected voters to have any confidence in that machinery if the convention repudiated it. And pointing out that the credentials committee is a creature of the convention, he insisted the people could not be expected to take the convention seriously if delegates repudiated the labors of its own committee. He could have saved his breath. The Eisenhower people had sold the convention that virtue belonged to them and that was the end.

★

What is taking place actually is a historic milestone. The Atlantic seaboard, long out of grace, is bidding to return to power. The real power back of Eisenhower's campaign could be credited to not more than eight of the 48 states. First and foremost was New York under Gov. Tom Dewey. There was a solid bloc of votes representing about a twelfth of the entire convention. Then there were New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. They were the brains, the hard core of the Eisenhower campaign and they have been on the outside looking in hungrily for a long time while the Midwest and the South during much of it have been dominant. One of the ironies was that the Pacific seaboard, usually suspicious in growing industrial rivalry, was a helpful big brother.

★

So a man who 13 years ago returned from the Philippines after serving under MacArthur as a lieutenant colonel may find himself nominated for the highest gift within the reach of the American people and not only their faith and hope but the hope of much of the world. That kind of stuff does not happen often. It has a breathless quality of drama about it. Of Gen. Eisenhower's intentions there need be no fear. He has it in his heart to serve his people. He will have to watch the people around him night and day.

Full Parity For The Farmer

In one of the crowded hotel lobbies the editor met a friend who is a powerful factor in Republican politics in his state. We told him that the preliminary draft of the party platform dealing with agriculture called for "full parity prices for farm commodities at the market places."

★

He shook his head sadly. "Haven't they learned anything yet?" he replied, referring to a recent primary in the farm belt which saw an odds-on favorite go down to defeat unexpectedly against a veteran who has kept his place in the Senate largely because of his votes and his fight for the farmers of his state. In this primary campaign he based his plea for renomination largely upon the claim that he was needed back in Washington to see to it that his own party gave the farmer a square deal. The failure to spell out parity tends to prove the point.

★

But what is "full parity at the market places." Is it 50, 60, 90 or 100 per cent? The indefiniteness of the language is what disturbed our friend. Apparently the Farm Bureau Federation had a large part in the drafting of the preliminary farm plank, inasmuch as in many particulars there was a resemblance to the position which the Farm Bureau had taken. Ordinarily the party platform is brushed aside in the talk and the thoughts of people, but when it comes to agriculture it is a different matter. Generally the failure to provide adequate storage facilities in the Republican 80th Congress was credited with playing a considerable part in Mr. Truman's election. With a huge wheat crop this year and with a bright promise for corn in much of the country, the farm plank is apt to come in for more careful scrutiny in rural areas than usual.

★

Still another development of interest to the farmers came to our attention here. In the revolt against controls, Maryland tobacco farmers abandoned acre allotments. They paid dearly for their decision in taking about 10 cents less per pound for their crop. They have had enough. Now they are clamoring loudly for acreage controls and are anxious to get back under the program.

★

There was still the possibility that the candidate or the convention will redefine the party's position with reference to price supports for farm commodities. A lot of people from the farm belt have been dissatisfied with the failure to pin the matter of parity prices down in precise terms.

An Advisory Water Board

This telegram from the office reached the editor in Chicago:

"Advisory water board approved unanimously by City Council in resolution by Clark Jeary. Byron Dunn named chairman with four others to be appointed by Dunn and mayor in ten days. Jeary recommended "a thorough study of all phases of the city's present water supply and distribution system."

★

That is the best news. This paper suggested several days ago that an investment of the magnitude involved in Lincoln's water supply should not be left to the judgment of one man, no matter how competent Director Dave Erickson may be. On the basis of recommendations made to the city engineer and the council, Lincoln may find it desirable to expand as much as five million dollars in expanding and improving the water plant. As a matter of common sense, Mr. Erickson should have been the one to suggest an advisory group.

★

The choice of Byron Dunn to head the board presents him with a fine opportunity for public service of a most permanent character. A business man of recognized quality, Mr. Dunn can perform a great service to the community. It will take some time to complete the study and much more to make the necessary improvements but the selection of an advisory board actually will hasten the work. Its presence should satisfy people who have been critical of the City Hall.

Val Peterson's Pressuring

CHICAGO—The report that Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska was undertaking to pressure delegates to the Republican convention to support Gen. Eisenhower was a little bit unfair to him.

The governor made no secret as to where his sympathies were. He was with the delegates, talking to them, advocating Eisenhower vigorously, but to suggest he was undertaking to apply pressure was putting it too strong.

Actually Gov. Peterson was somewhat of a forlorn figure in the Eisenhower ranks during the thick of the fight. Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington, and Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut grabbed the spotlight in front of the microphone when Gov. Fine of Pennsylvania was not hogging it, while back of the scenes Tom Dewey was the whole show.

Some other Nebraskans were well up front in the Eisenhower show. One was Fred Seaton of Hastings who put in a lot of effort, and another, Delegate R. C. Johnson of Mead, the most enthusiastic Eisenhower man in the bunch.

A-Bomb In The Bible

In an attempt to prove that military conscription was not an invention of Napoleon, as historians commonly believe, some men in the selective service department put out a booklet claiming that the idea came directly from the Lord in a command to Moses. They cite Numbers, first chapter, first and second verse.

But a newsman on Worldover Press, looking to his Bible, found that even the A-bomb can be found in the Scriptures. He suggested that the selective service people look into the book of Daniel, 11th chapter, 31st verse, where it is written:

"And armed men going forth from him shall pollute the sanctuary, the fortress, and shall take away the continual sacrifice, and they shall set up the A-bomb-ination that maketh desolate."

Everest No More

Not even mountains are safe from the worried hand of Communists who fear that western influence must be battled at every turn. For more than 100 years the highest mountain in the world has been known as "Mount Everest," but the new name, courtesy of the Chinese Communist government, is "Chomolungma."

Mount Everest was named after the first British surveyor general of India, who led the mapping project which finally discovered how high the peak actually is. The new Chinese name means "Goddess Mother of the World," which, it must be admitted, is appropriate. It might easily have been named Stalin Summit, Mount Mao, or Panyushkin Peak.

Five Factors Working In Eisenhower's Favor

CHICAGO—For a man who knew almost nothing about politics, Ike Eisenhower has done pretty well at Chicago.

Lounging in a dark red bathrobe and a pair of shorts, Eisenhower sat in his suite at the Hotel Blackstone getting reports from division commanders in battle. There was not the same tension, of course, and it's also doubtful that Eisenhower understood all the political jockeying of his campaign commanders as he would the feints of his division commanders.

But, in politics as in war, victory usually goes to the man with the best organization—plus a cause. And though Sen. Taft has had 12 years of careful party organization behind him, together with some of the most devoted leaders in the GOP, here are factors which Eisenhower has had backing him:

1. A skilled chief of staff. What Gen. Omar Bradley was for the Normandy landing, Gov. Tom Dewey of New York has been for Ike's political battle. Though unpopular with many leaders, Dewey knows the political moves, has built up a smooth machine, and it really functioned at Chicago.

2—A cause. It wasn't until Taft handed Eisenhower the "vote steal" slogan in Texas and Louisiana that Ike really began to gather steam. This gave him a chance to argue that the Republicans should not go in for the corruption that they had pinned on the Democrats. The argument carried weight.

3.—A high-powered publicity campaign. No convention since that which nominated Wendell Willkie in 1940 has seen anything to equal Ike's ballyhoo. It was done by some experts from General Mills in Minneapolis and from Young and Rubicam in New York: There's been a lot of merely spontaneous Ike sentiment, too. Pretty girls boosting Ike have been everywhere, passing out buttons by the handful. Taft buttons were passed out parsimoniously only one at a time.

4—Money. Though Taft seemed to have most of the cash at first, and the Eisenhower forces were slow in paying their hotel deposit, someone has really taken the rubber band off the Eisenhower bankroll recently. Taft claims that Wall Street opened up for Ike are probably correct. Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase Bank and a member of the Rockefeller family, is an old and faithful Dewey supporter.

5—Economic Pressures. In every convention, whether Republican or Democratic, it's the deals and the last-minute pressures that swing big blocs of delegates. FDR got the nomination in 1932 by promising two cabinet posts to William Gibbs McAdoo for his friends and the vice presidency to John Nance Garner.

☆ ☆ ☆

—TAFT'S JIG UP?

Bitterness has been so great between Eisenhower-Taft leaders that Taft lieutenants, figuring the jig is up, have begun to look for a compromise candidate.

They have in mind: First, Gen. Douglas MacArthur; second, Sen. William Knowland of California.

Privately, of course, Taft lieutenants do not admit that he will lose. They are planning to make a terrific fight on the convention floor when the balloting starts. But the Eisenhower victory on Taft's southern delegates has so shaken the Taft machine and so increased bitterness that they want to take almost anyone rather than lose to Eisenhower.

Some of them feel that MacArthur did not make the showing they had hoped in his keynote speech, but they are still canvassing the possibility of the Pacific commander as a compromise. For that reason the following proposition has been put up to Sen. Knowland: If he will throw California's support to Taft on the first ballot, then, if Taft does not get the nomination, Taft in turn will come out for Knowland for President.

This proposal was made in order to obtain California's huge bloc of 70 delegates which, however, are controlled by Gov. Warren. If Taft could secure these 70 votes, he figures he could get the nomination on the first ballot.

However, Knowland, who was appointed senator by Gov. Warren, was noncommittal. He told Taft's forces he would take the matter under consideration.

Typical of the wavering sentiment among the Taft forces was the caucus of Idaho delegates shortly after the Eisenhower victory over contested delegates. Lloyd Adams, who dominates the Idaho delegates, remarked: "Taft broke his pick yesterday. If we stop Eisenhower we'd better start looking for someone else right now."

MERRY-GO-ROUND—

More has leaked out on the New York caucus at which Tom Dewey really cracked the whip. To keep his delegates in line on the question of changing the old 1912 rules on seating contested delegates, Dewey urged: "It's all right to have a difference of opinion, but I'm a regular Republican and a great believer in party regularity. You can still be a Republican and disagree with me in this fight, but not a New York Republican." . . . State Chairman Bill Pfeiffer echoed Dewey: "I also have a long memory and I won't forget those who desert us on this issue." . . . New York's Sen. Irving Ives was milder. He said: "If we are going to fight corruption in the Democratic administration we have got to keep our own house clean." . . . They won the day. With the exception of one delegate, New York stuck with Dewey on the contested delegates issue . . .

MARQUIS CHILDS

Warren, Eisenhower A Study In Contrasts

CHICAGO — When you see Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the midst of the political melee, there is at first a moment of disbelief. This surely cannot be the man who a few short weeks ago gave crisp, assured orders to a smart, efficient staff that from top to bottom knew its business and went about it without fuss or hesitation.

In the living room of his lakefront suite in the Blackstone Hotel, from 20 to 25 photographers are ringed around him with lights and cameras. On his lap is a baby as small as a doll, dressed in little-girl clothes, including a green and white bonnet. The little girl is wearing a large Ike button and a somewhat unhappy and bewildered expression.

The general has no Ike button but he also has a somewhat bewildered look. Could this really all be happening to me, he seems to be asking himself. That look disappears when his good-natured grin flashes on at the command of the photographers.

It is his lack of experience in this complicated game, and not only at the baby-holding level, that has made some delegates hesitate. They wanted to be for him because they could not be for his chief opponent, Sen. Robert A. Taft. But even as the feverish atmosphere of a deeply tormented convention generated what began to feel like the whirl and the rush of an inevitable victory, they had their doubts.

In the matter of experience or the lack of it, this meeting has offered some striking contrasts. One of the experienced Republicans available for the nomination is Gov. Earl Warren of California. He has been three-times governor of the vastly expanded empire of California on the Pacific slope. In the war and postwar adjustment, every conceivable kind of problem has come to him, demanding an answer of some sort.

At the game of politics he has proved himself a master player. One evidence of this is the calm reality with which he has contemplated his own destiny in the midst of the Chicago scramble.

Several things he has kept sharply in the foreground. One was that under no circumstances could he give any delegate strength that he might influence to Taft. Another was the realization that his own chances for the nomination in the unlikely event of a deadlock were small indeed. So far as the outward eye can detect, Warren has never been afflicted with that most-deadly of all viruses—presidentitis extremis. He knows that many of the older and more reactionary delegates consider him a dangerous radical because of his stand for a program of moderate reform adapted to the needs of the mid-twentieth century.

So, as a realist, Warren's problem has been to make whatever strength was his count most effectively for Ike when and if the Taft-Ike showdown should come. He would do this even though, as he has said to friends, he was not sure in his own mind why Eisenhower should be considered a liberal Republican. Warren has felt that Ike has not yet succeeded in articulating his views. And as a skilled politician, he was startled, quite apart from the rightness or wrongness of the statement, by the political implications of the general's reference to the French as a decadent people who were 50 per cent agnostic or atheistic.

But he saw no choice, and in a showdown Warren's careful estimate was that 57 to 60 of the 70 California delegates, once released, would go for Ike. A factor capable of upsetting this calculation has been the yeasty ambition of Sen. Richard Nixon of California, who apparently was willing—a political understatement—to be Eisenhower's vice president.

In temperament Warren and Ike have much in common. That is to say, they are both warm-hearted men. In that expression that has been so dubiously misused, they are both men of good will.

The crucible of decision may show that the imponderable as between Taft and Ike is temperament; the simple fact that on balance Ike attracts and Taft repels. It is galling for the Taftites to think that human affairs and individual destiny turn on such things, and especially it is galling when they remember the warm-hearted Wendell Willkie who was nearly as new to politics as is Eisenhower.

Men who are adaptable and perceptive learn very quickly. A lieutenant-colonel, 49 years old, Eisenhower came back from the Philippines where he had been serving under Gen. Douglas MacArthur in 1939. Four years later he took the leadership—diplomatic and political as well as military—of the greatest coalition of armed forces, land, sea and air, that the world had ever seen.

It was a new and terrifying challenge and Eisenhower met it. Those who have believed in him most ardently through this political struggle put their faith in his demonstrated capacities. But still, as the old copybooks used to put it, there is no substitute for experience.

Personal Views Of Chicago

Hats In Ring—And On Wrong Chairs

By J. E. LAWRENCE
Editor, The Lincoln Star

CHICAGO—Gen. Eisenhower's meeting with the Nebraska delegation may have escaped the attention it deserved.

One newspaperman present reported that the general in rambling, off-the-cuff observation relating to France said the French had become so rationalistic that they have not made the progress hoped for them. Then followed a few words that the French—too many of them—had become atheistic.

The general revealed to Nebraskans he had seen two planks of the party platform. He expressed himself pleased with the one on foreign affairs, largely the work of John Foster Dulles, although apparently in Eisenhower's judgment, too wordy in discussing the past. He was not satisfied with the plank on national security, apparently.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was old home week for the editor. One University of Nebraska student left a call for him at the hotel which turned out to be a fervent plea for tickets into the convention. Still another former student, the former Miss Elizabeth Evans greeted him at the convention hall following the Hoover speech. Now married, she is living in Chicago.

☆ ☆ ☆

For a brief second the eyes played tricks. On the seat of every chair of a row occupied by the Nebraska delegates was a nifty straw hat of good make, featuring an Eisenhower band. It was a mistake. The hats were intended for the New York delegates seated directly back of Nebraska. Hugh Brown of Kearney occupies the chair directly in front of Gov. Tom Dewey.

☆ ☆ ☆

Nebraska was given considerable attention in the final strategy of the Eisenhower planners. The pressure was being applied to Sen. Hickenlooper of Iowa who had not committed himself. With Hickenlooper in the fold, the board of strategy thought the chances of breaking into the hard core of Taft strength was enhanced. It is the Midlands where Sen. Taft is strongest.

☆ ☆ ☆

For the first time, Nebraska's standard came out of its holder to join the parade of states which took place during the Hoover ovation. Delegate Johnson was handling it.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Dog That Went A-fishin'—Pig Without An Ear

By MONA B. PARKER

A. C. Huber had this to say about the relentless hailstorm which struck York, along with other parts of Nebraska and the Midwest:

"If a man could fight back, it wouldn't be so bad. If he could get out in the middle of a storm and shake his fists at the sky and beat back the hail, he would gladly take a few stones on the chin—if he thought he could save some of his precious crop. But unfortunately man is helpless. . ."

Tekamah's first load was brought in by the Elliott Brothers. Testing 61 pounds per bushel, it was harvested from a ten-acre field that was flooded under four feet of water in April, and yielded 18.1 bushels per acre. In Dundy County, in the Big Timber section, Harry Gunther estimated his yield from a stubble field that had been hit by both hail and hot winds at 15 bushels per acre.

Animal, vegetable, mineral—none escape the fury of elements

on the loose. "It was one less pig or one less ear on a pig at the Simon Van-Boening place," explained The Blue Hill Leader, following a severe windstorm in that area last week.

The little porker's squeals attracted attention to where he was found under a timber unable to free himself. A jack was found and placed on a board but the pig, apparently released, failed to move. His ear was under the board—and he was still squealing. There was the pig's ear, the board, jack, and heavy timber. It was either lower the jack and lose the pig—or use a jack-knife.

"The earless pig is doing nicely," concluded The Leader.

That institution which is part of every rural home—the party line—sometimes fills the need for advertising in the local want ads, but makes up for it by providing material for the feature columns . . .

Herb Meier of Hooper lost five calves and was faced with the nuisance of rounding them up again. He lifted the receiver to make inquiry of his neighbors when he heard that "There are five deer down in our pasture."

☆ ☆ ☆

From Elgin comes word of the loss of 400 month-old chickens belonging to Frank Selting. A badger disposed of the chicks in two nights, bringing the monetary loss to the Seltings to $120. . .

☆ ☆ ☆

The elements by no means provide the majority of hazards an animal encounters these hazardous days. Man, that unpredictable animal, claims his just share. . .

Fisherman Delbert Falk of Auburn has snared perhaps the truest "dog fish" on record. The bait—to which certain political forces might take exception today—was a "Lazy Ike."

Mr. Falk let go with all he could muster and the resulting strike brought forth a terrific yelp. The "catch" started and the fisherman began to play out line, but there just wasn't any chance to tire out this fish. He was going for the shed. In fact, there wasn't any line left on the reel. "After a half mile's trudge and apologizing to the farmer," elaborated The Nemaha County Herald, "Deb cornered the dog and got his plug back."

☆ ☆ ☆

Some Beatrice 'teen-agers will perhaps cast a bit more carefully next time, also. They made the mistake of tossing a firecracker under the car belonging to—State Patrolman Tom Edwards.

The officer saw the explosive arcing toward him and was thus able to trace the boys who were in the corner of a field.

☆ ☆ ☆

Mrs. Lester Eastwood had an enlightening statistic for The Pawnee Republican. Someone figured out that during an average lifetime, a farmer's wife is worth approximately $56,000 to her husband. "The fact is a very useful one to tuck away in your mind, girls," she advised. "It might not get you a mink coat but maybe a new dress or a living room suite."

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Same Size Head

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish to apologize for the error I made in my letter to The Star which appeared on July 8 ("The Lattimore Incident"). The editorials were very good—which they are generally in cases such as that involving Dr. Lattimore. And, as you say, the accusation was big news, big enough for headlines. And, of course, the clearing of the man by the sober investigators of the State Department was of such major import that it received a small spot in the lower right corner of the front page—which is, I grant, quite an important spot in a newspaper—or was buried somewhat on page eight.

The point I want to make here is this: In order to achieve fairness, should we not have received notice of Lattimore's clearance via a headline just as big, just as black, just as eye-catching as the one with which you indicted him?

Too Personal

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems that magazines and papers are likely to offend, no matter what the stand they may take on questions. A story is told in publishing circles about the editor of a small-town newspaper who, when hard up for material on one occasion, had his compositor set up the Ten Commandments without any editorial comment.

A day or so later he received a letter which read:

"Cancel my subscription. You are getting entirely too personal."

20-Year Record

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The public records show how Capitalism has thrived during the past 20 years of national Democratic administrations. Business also has thrived as never before in the history of the USA. The remarkable growth of American business during this two-decade period shows that Capitalism and not Socialism is on the upsurge. Here are a few facts about the expansion of the Capitalistic system:

Last year corporate profits—after taxes—totaled 18.1 billion dollars. In 1929, the so-called Republican "boom year," profits amounted to only 8.2 billion dollars. In the depths of the GOP depression in 1932, corporations went into the red 3.4 billion dollars. A search of the records show the value of goods and services by American business was nearly three times as great in 1951 as in 1932 and nearly three times as much as in 1929. In 1929 there were 3,097,000 private businesses in the USA. Today the number of businesses has increased by one-third. The number of independent businesses and professional people in the USA jumped from 4,822,000 in 1929 to 6,218,000. Ownership of farms and homes, another good index of a healthy Capitalistic system, has been increasing steadily.

Minatare Youth Dies In Sutherland Crash

Lincolnite Is Injured In Accident

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—James Schuman, 19, of Minatare, was killed when a paint cart on which he was riding was run over by a semi-trailer truck Thursday four miles west of Sutherland.

Schuman and another passenger on the cart, Robert Stewart, 18, of Lincoln, were wedged between the crushed cart and the semi-truck.

Stewart was pulled from the wreckage alive and his condition at a Sutherland hospital was decribed after a preliminary examination as satisfactory. He was said to be suffering from chest and back injuries, a broken arm and shock.

Towed By Truck

The cart was being towed by a state truck driven by Donald Miller of Lincoln. Witnesses told investigating state troopers Lt. L. L. Hubka and Jack Sexton that the state truck was making a left turn off Highway 30 and the semi-truck was attempting to pass when the accident occurred.

Both Miller and Kenneth D. Shinley, 29, of North Platte, driver of the semi truck, were taken to a Sutherland hospital in a condition described as shock. They were released following examination.

A winch was used to lift the wreckage sufficiently to enable ambulance attendants to remove the badly mangled body of Schuman.

Coroner J. G. McIntosh of North Platte said death was instantaneous.

Yellow paint, the kind used to make safety markers on the highway, formed a large puddle on the side of the heavily traveled road.

Schuman's death was the 154th traffic fatality in Nebraska in 1952 compared to 138 on this date in 1951.

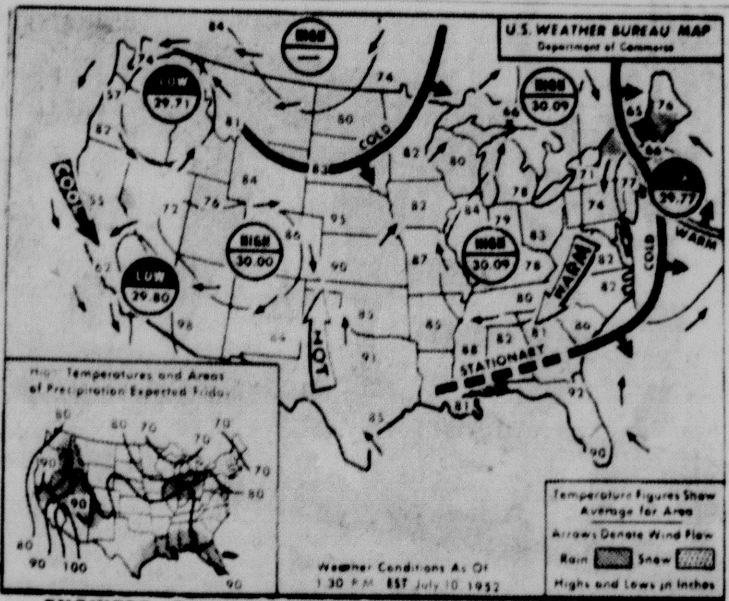
Stewart is the son of Mrs. Mildred Stewart of Lincoln who went to Sutherland to be at her son's bedside.

Patron Asks Order To Re-Open School

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — A mandamus action has been filed in District Court against the school board of District 14, southwest of Stella, by Floyd E. James, one of the district patrons.

The question involved is whether to operate the district's rural school, or to contract with one of the nearby town schools—Stella, Dawson and Humboldt—for the education of the district's children.

James asks the court to issue an order of mandamus requiring the school board to hire a teacher and make preparations to operate the school in compliance with a vote of the patrons in a June 26 meeting. The vote was 19 to 15 to operate the school.



SHOWERS—Scattered thundershowers will fall in the Lakes region and Gulf states Friday. Showers and thundershowers also are foreseen for the Rockies and great basin. It will continue cool in New England while a warming trend is expected in middle Atlantic states and Ohio Valley. It will be slightly cooler in Great Lakes region and upper Mississippi valley but it will continue hot in northern Rockies. (AP Wirephoto Thursday Night.)

Southeast County Corn, Hogs Down In Tax Valuation

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Corn and hogs have dropped $1,358,050 in valuation for tax purposes in 1952 in Richardson County.

In March of 1951 county farmers had 1,480,115 bushels of corn on hand. At the same date this year 521,165 bushels was reported to the assessors. With valuations for tax purposes at $1 for both years, that left a net decline of $958,850 in corn valuations resulting from the unusually poor crop year.

Hogs declined in number from 37,139 head in 1951 to 27,868 in 1952, while the value dropped even more—from $747,740 in 1951 to $348,630 in 1952.

However, there were approximately 2,000 more cattle on the farms of the county at assessing time this year than at the same date in 1951—36,064 head this year and 34,086 in 1951.

Neighborliness Shown To Clearwater Farmer

CLEARWATER, Neb. (AP)—Good neighborliness ruled at the Cletus Muff farm home near Clearwater this week.

Muff's mother, sister and brother-in-law recently were killed in a highway accident.

So 30 neighbors and friends came to the Muff home with tractors and equipment and cultivated 165 acres of corn for the bereaved family. They completed the job in 3½ hours.

State Veterinarian Confident Spread Of Hog Disease Halted

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

Spread of vesicular exanthema has been halted, Dr. E. P. Anderson, state veterinarian, said confidently as he announced quarantine of the Corn States Serum Co. plant and livestock at Omaha Thursday.

He explained that the outbreak in the 3,500 hogs of the serum company was not unexpected and that they have been under constant observation since the previous quarantine placed on one of their lots containing 417 head.

"All movement of animals and materials from the Corn States plant has been halted," Dr. Anderson said.

The state veterinarian gave 12,378 as the number of swine quarantined in infected lots in the state. None of the infected animals have been found on farms of the state, he continued.

Inspect Farms

Where infected hogs have been found in shipments by buyers for west coast sale, Dr. Anderson said that every farm that had hogs in the shipment is being inspected. Six teams of two men each are making inspections of the 400 farms that had animals in the shipments held up in western states, he explained.

It is expected that the farm inspections will be completed by next Monday or Tuesday as the inspectors are averaging examining about 72 farms per day.

Of the diseased hogs all are in the Omaha area with the exception of 198 at Fremont, 248 at Alliance and 3,500 at Grand Island. The Grand Island animals under quarantine include mostly fat hogs of the Norden Company of Lincoln which have showed no signs of the disease but are held because of the outbreak in a small lot owned by the company.

Dr. Anderson will attend a meeting Tuesday called by B. T. Sims, chief of the federal bureau of animal industry in Washington. All livestock sanitary officials in the states where vesicular exanthema is now occurring have been asked to attend in an attempt to agree upon uniform procedures in handling outbreaks.

"Railroads, auction markets and owners of swine herds where outbreaks have occurred have all cooperated in preventing spread of the disease," Dr. Anderson asserted. "To them must go much of the credit for keeping it from the approximately 3,000,000 hogs in the state and from being spread to other states."

Movement of hogs to market for immediate slaughter is not stopped by the state embargo if the market has federal inspection, he explained. Stock hog movement between farms through auction rings is the only type effected.

Dr. Anderson warned that out-of-state shipments of fat hogs for slaughter should not be made unless permits are first obtained from the state of destination.

Omaha Terminals Keeping Ahead Of New Wheat Flow

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha's grain terminal elevators are still keeping ahead of the flow of new wheat, E. F. Moberg, Omaha grain exchange traffic manager, said Thursday.

Terminal storage is still adequate and elevators have cleaned up a good share of the backlog of unloaded cars.

Reduced Wheat Estimate Is Still Record Production

36 Bushel Corn Crop Predicted

(By the Associated Press)

The Department of Agriculture Thursday reduced its estimate of Nebraska's 1952 winter wheat crop by more than nine million bushels, but still saw it as the largest crop of record for the state.

The new estimate, based on conditions July 1, is for production of 98,946,000 bushels, or 23 bushels per acre from 4,302,000 acres for harvest.

The all time record production year was 1946, with 89,723,000 bushels reaped.

The reduction in estimated yield apparently reflects a combination of unfavorable factors—torrid weather, lack of rain, hail storms and some flooding—which hit the crop last month.

By way of compensation, the government's first estimate on this year's Nebraska corn crop, also out Thursday, called for a bumper 254,880,000 bushel production, or 36 bushels per acre from 7,080,000 acres.

Such a corn crop would be the sixth largest in the last 86 years, since records began to be kept. In yield per acre, it would be the 16th largest in that period.

Nezraska best corn production year was 1927 with 294,036,000 bushels. Top yield per acre on record is 41 bushels in 1884 and 1878.

A lot of adversity still can hit the corn crop but the wheat crop is about made. In southern Nebraska the wheat harvest is virtually finished. It's picking up speed in the panhandle.

Last year's wheat crop was 57 million bushels and the 10 year average is 69 million bushels.

Third Wheat State

The current estimate establishes Nebraska as the third biggest wheat producing state in the country, topped only by Kansas with 301,497,000 bushels and Oklahoma with 107,927,000. In yield per acre, however, Nebraska is equalled or topped by Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

In current corp crop estimates, Nebraska is topped only by Iowa (with 647,940,000 bushels or 60 per acre) and Illinois (525,027,000 bushels or 57 per acre).

Last year's Nebraska corn crop amounted to 187,620,000 bushels or 26.5 per acre.

Here are other Nebraska crop estimates made:

Oats—59,712,000 bushels, or 24 per acre. Last year's production was 60,816,000 bushels or 28 per acre.

Rye—1,806,000 bushels, or 10.5 per acre. Last year's rye production was 1,717,000 bushels or 8.5 per acre. The 10-year average is 3,570,000 bushels. The current estimate is 66 thousand bushels under the estimate made a month earlier.

Dry beans—784,000 bags (of 100 pounds each), or 1,400 pounds per acre. Last year Nebraska produced 838,000 bags, or 1,250 pounds per acre.

Peterson Plans Tour Of Native Home In Denmark

DeWITT, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special) — William Petersen, DeWitt manufacturer, will this month visit his native Denmark for the first time in 50 years.

Traveling via air, Petersen, with Mrs. Petersen and son, Christian, and his wife, will leave from New York on July 13. They will arrive first in London, proceeding directly to the city of Thisted, Denmark, in the province of North Jutland.

At Jutland, Mr. Petersen will visit with his two sisters and become reacquainted with the city of his birth and his boyhood.

Mr. Petersen, who was a blacksmith upon coming to this country at the age of 20, settled in DeWitt in 1902. A self-developed skill in tool working led him to the invention of the Vise-Grip wrench, the first toggle wrench ever to be manufactured.

Crane Crushes Omaha Worker

OMAHA (AP)—Paul Cunningham, 43, of Omaha was killed Thursday when a heavy crane crushed him.

Workmen at the scene of a new addition to the First Lutheran Church here said a pile driver began sinking in the soft earth and the crane swung downward, knocking out a power line and pinning Cunningham to the ground.

Cunningham was leadsman on the pile driving crew. Ralph Huff, 41, operator of the crane said he saw the crane dipping and yelled at Cunningham but Cunningham apparently "froze" at the sight of the sparks when the crane knocked out the powerline.

Acting County Coroner George Sullivan said death was caused by a crushed pelvis and back injuries.

County Treasurer Resigns; Burdens Of Job 'Too Heavy'

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Walter Rose, who has resigned as Richardson County treasurer, said that the office cost him $500 more than the salary in 1951.

Because the office is understaffed and his assistants haven't been getting enough money, Rose said, "I have been paying them extra out of my own pocket."

"It just isn't worth it," he commented.

Rose, who gave reasons of health as his main reason for stepping down, said that the burdens of the office are too heavy for him, particularly since the mix-up and extra work which will be entailed through the state Supreme Court decision upsetting the blanket tax levy for rural school districts.

The county treasurer pointed out that he had installed a new set of books, as suggested by the state auditor's office, and that, in so doing, he had worked every Sunday in 1951 except four.

His resignation is effective July 31.

Highway U.S. 83 Between Thedford, Stapleton Opened

The State Highway Department announced opening of U.S. 83 between Stapleton and Thedford to traffic.

State Engineer Harold Aitken explained that contractor's forces have completed work on the bituminous sand surface which was temporarily laid in 1951.

Armor coating of the surface is yet to be done, Aitken said, but will be done while the highway is serving traffic. While U.S. 83 has been closed, traffic has been rounted by No. 92 from Stapleton to Merna and by No. 2 from Merna to Thedford, approximately an additional 60 miles.

With the opening of the highway, those traveling north and south across this part of Nebraska will save more than 120 miles in a round trip.

Steel Strike Threatens 95 Pct. Auto Shutdown In Next Few Days

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government said Thursday that the steel strike will shut down about 95 per cent of the automobile industry in the next few days along with most of the 35,000 other producers of consumer durable goods.

National Production Authority officials forecast that the big squeeze will start this week end with no immediate prospect of reopening the closed mills.

Officials said this means that supplies of new cars will disappear "very quickly" from dealers' showrooms and that it creates the threat of consumer shortages in coming months.

The auto industry is said to have shut off 80 per cent of its normal production up to this point.

The figure is expected to reach 95 per cent as Oldsmobile and Chrysler join other producers Friday night in bringing operations to a virtual standstill.

On the consumer goods front, NPA said that most manufacturers of refrigerators, washing machines, household appliances, television and radio sets are planning to order their employes on three-week "vacations."

Normally, these producers allow only two-week vacations. Some manufacturers such as Hot Point, Apex and Westinghouse have or are about to close their doors for lack of steel.

Blaze Sweeps Storage Area

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (INS) —Fire roared out of control and devastated four acres of government storage buildings southwest of Clarksburg Thursday.

The blaze caused more than a million dollars damage to materials stored by a group of companies in buildings leased by the federal government and several civilian firms. Smoke billowed more than a mile in the sky, drifting over the town and blotting out a bright sun.

Defense Department officials refused to disclose types of materials stored there and brushed off requests for estimates of damages.

Ten volunteer fire companies and the Clarksburg Fire Department were withdrawn to make way for dynamite crews about an hour after the flames were discovered in the Central Storage Co.

Hebron Man Is Sued On Farm Credit Loans

A suit for recovery of $1,407 has been filed in Federal Court by assistant U.S. Attorney James L. Brown against Dan Schafer, who lives near Hebron.

The complaint stated that Schafer had borrowed a total of $740 from the Farm Credit Administration on three separate occasions, and has repaid only 23 cents of the total. The complaint also requested payment of $667 interest accrued since the payment date on the three loans, Aug. 31, 1938, Nov. 1, 1935 and Aug. 31, 1935.

NOW, TIDE WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!

YES! TIDE ALONE WASHES WHITER! NO NEED TO BLEACH EXCEPT FOR STUBBORN STAINS!
Wash with TIDE ALONE
Wash with ANY OTHER WASHING PRODUCT with bleach added

In fact, TIDE washes WHITER than any soap or "detergent" with bleach added!

It's a new Tide miracle!

Whiter washes—with no bleaching! It's true! Tide—used all alone—will actually wash your clothes whiter than any other washing product with a bleach added. It's washday's big news! Try it—and when you see how much whiter Tide alone gets your clothes, you'll never want to put bleach in the wash water again!

Cleaner clothes, too! When you rinse out a Tide wash you've got cleaner clothes than any woman will get with any soap of any kind. Millions of women have proved it. No soap known will get out so much grimy dirt, yet leave clothes so free of dulling film! There's nothing like Tide for washday miracles!

The wash test proves TIDE washes whiter—you can see the difference!

Take any soap or "detergent" you like—make your suds and add your bleach—then wash a load of white clothes. Wash a second load in Tide suds alone . . . then compare the two loads. The Tide-washed clothes will be so much whiter, you'll be amazed! From now on, you just needn't bother with bleaching except for stubborn stains.

TIDE is milder for hands than any other leading "detergent." So safe for washable colors!

YES! With all its cleaning and whitening action, Tide has an amazing new mildness. Not even the mildest "detergents" made especially for dishwashing are so kind to hands as Tide!

ACTUALLY BRIGHTENS COLORS! For dramatic proof of Tide's wonderful safety, watch soap-dulled colors come brighter after just one Tide wash. Tide really cares for clothes and colors just as it does for your hands.

AND TIDE IS SO THRIFTY TO USE! Such a little Tide makes such oceans of rich, long-lasting suds . . . goes so far in hardest water, it's a miracle of economy.

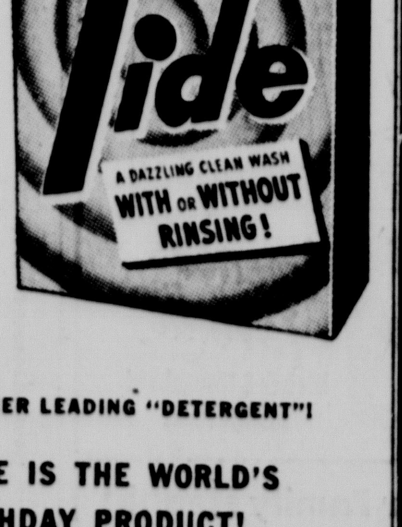
"No more bleach for me! I saw my wash come whiter with Tide alone!"
says Mrs. Helen D. Larsen of New Canaan, Conn.

"Wonderful Tide's done it again! I couldn't believe it till I tried it, but one wash proved it to me! I saw my white things come whiter with Tide alone than I ever got them before when I used a bleach in the wash water!"

NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT CAN PROMISE ALL THIS!

WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!

GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP OF ANY KIND!



MILDER FOR HANDS THAN ANY OTHER LEADING "DETERGENT"!

NO WONDER TIDE IS THE WORLD'S FAVORITE WASHDAY PRODUCT!

Republican Vice Presidential Race Still Wide Open

CHICAGO (AP)—The Republican vice presidential nomination race—if it can be called that—was wide open.

In practical fact, the No. 2 spot on the ticket will be filled at the direction of the presidential nominee.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, leading rivals for the top spot, made it clear through their supporters that they haven't even begun to get down to brass tacks on that secondary problem.

Important Delegation

Sen. Richard Nixon of the important California delegation was being discussed by some Eisenhower supporters as a possible choice. Nixon has been regarded as pro-Eisenhower, although he is going down the line for Gov. Earl Warren of California as long as Warren has a chance.

Before the Eisenhower camp would approach Nixon, however, it seemed likely that Warren himself might be offered the second place spot. He has said he wouldn't take it, but he said the same thing in 1948, then changed his mind.

Knowland Considered

Sen. William Knowland of California might give the Eisenhower slate a friendly link with the GOP elements behind Taft—if Knowland could be induced to take the second place spot. Knowland has worked hard here to keep peace between the Eisenhower and Taft factions.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, an Eisenhower supporter, suggested in a statement that the loser in the Taft-Eisenhower contest take No. 2 place on the ticket. But neither camp seemed to be giving this any consideration.

'Cedars Important Delinquency Curb'

The Cedars Home for Children "has been an important factor in curbing juvenile delinquency in Lincoln," Thomas M. Davies, president of the Lincoln Juvenile Council, said at a report luncheon of the Cedars Building Fund Campaign Thursday at the Capital Hotel.

"When Cedars was established in 1947 it filled a vital need of the community in the provision for the care of unfortunate children of broken homes," he said.

"The Home provides for the child's physical and spiritual needs at a most critical period in the child's life," Davies stated.

The drive to raise $55,000 for the new building was 28.30 per cent compelte, with a total of $15,565.99 collected so far, Joseph J. Cariotto and Louis H. Babst, co-chairmen, reported.

Certificates for meritorious achievement were conferred upon W. C. Harper, Elmer E. Magee and Ray J. Becker.

Five Nebraskans Heading For U.S.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Five Nebraskans were aboard the Navy ship M. M. Patrick due to arrive here with 635 passengers from the Far East and 50 passengers from Adak, Alaska.

The Nebraska rotation troops were:

Cpl. Leroy W. Acklie, Brunswick.
Sgt. Jack E. Allgood, 229 North Twelfth Street, Lincoln.
Cpl. William C. Fellers, Lexington.
Sgt. Raymond G. Kirkpatrick, Grand Island.
Pvt. William E. Wackerla, Oconto.

A Hello And Goodbye Courtesy

On Thursday Miss Pat Nellis was a luncheon hostess at Hotel Cornhusker when she complimented Mrs. Gerald Goede, the former Phyllis Kaufman, just home from Bangor, Me., and ready to take off again with Mr. Goede for their new home in Indianapolis where, back in civilian life once more, they will reside.

We'll Make It Yet

EMULATING THE convention speakers we'll take up matters today where we left off yesterday, and trust to luck that all of the news sees the light of day—Have some news of guests—or rather duration residents—that will be of particular interest to former Nebraska Wesleyan circles—There are homecomers, of course, and we have a postscript or two on some news we had the other day—And now let's get it told—

* * *

OUR DURATION residents are Mrs. Harvey Waldo, her son Joe, and daughter Linda, who with Major Waldo, are the house guests of Mrs. Waldo's mother, Mrs. Milton Gates. Major Waldo is in the army medical corps and leaves early in August on an overseas assignment—So, Mrs. Waldo, the former Jean Gates, and the two young Waldos, will reside in Lincoln during his absence.

* * *

AS A WELCOME home to Mrs. Waldo, Mrs. Carl London will be hostess to a group of guests next Tuesday when she entertains at luncheon at her home.

* * *

APROPOS OF courtesies—farewell variety this time—we hear that Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sias will be a dinner host and hostess this evening at the Lincoln Country Club when they honor the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. A. McKim Jr., their daughters, Gloria, Marybelle and Patsy, and the Rev. McKim's mother, Mrs. C. E. A. McKim.

The Rev. McKim will leave next Tuesday for the World Convention of Christian Churches at Melbourne, Australia, and on the same day Mrs. McKim and her daughters leave for Indiana—their first stop on a trip to the east coast.

An out of town guest at the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Sias's grandson, Del Harding, who arrived on Thursday from Boulder, where he is attending the University of Colorado, to spend the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Harding.

* * *

AND THAT reminds us of another farewell courtesy—an informal luncheon on Thursday just to say goodbye to Miss Daisy DuTeau, who is leaving with her family, for a vacation at Sister Bay, Wis. In the group were Miss Nancy Aitken, Miss Sue Jouvenat, Miss Kitty Lilly and Miss Courtenay Campbell.

* * *

CONVENTION chatter and apron making may go hand-in-hand, but whether they do or not the Junior Leaguers are scattered around town in groups this week making aprons to sell at their booth at the State Fair—

* * *

MORE CONVENTION news—this time the Delta Gamma national at Greenbrier, has a sidelight that will be of interest to Lincoln people in general and Delta Gamma circles in particular—The convention treasurer, we hear, is Mrs. Frank Harris of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Harris—just in case you need a refresher, is the former Frances Coryell, sister of Earl Coryell. Incidentally, Mrs. Glenn Coryell of St. Petersburg, also formerly of Lincoln, is attending the DG convention as a delegate from the St. Petersburg alumnae chapter.

* * *

THOSE POSTSCRIPTS we mentioned have to do with the Robert Davies and their two daughters, Vickie and Ann — Understand that the homecoming date has been moved up to October, but that there are wonderful trips for the family in the interim—The Davies family will spend a vacation in Madrid, Spain—after which Mr. Davies probably returns to Casablanca — However Mrs. Davies and her daughters will go to England where they will spend two months as the guests of friends—Later, with Mr. Davies, they will tour Europe —and then return to the States.

* * *

BACK TO New York City again has gone Robert Anderson who spent two weeks in Lincoln, the guest of his parents. Mr. Anderson is as busy as the proverbial bee, we hear, with all sorts of singing committments, plus his work with the New York City opera company.

* * *

SOMEONE TOLD us that Mrs. James Pittenger and her two children, Janet Louise and Chip, leave this morning for Chicago to join Mr. Pittenger who is attending the Republican convention. However the Pittengers plan to spend a post-convention week in Chicago, the guests of Mrs. Pittenger's uncle and aunt.

* * *

AND WE heard that the Rev. and Mrs. David Gracey and their two children, Heather and David, plan to spend the entire month of August at Lake St. Clair, Harsens Island, Mich. During their stay on the island the Graceys plan to cross the border for a visit with relatives in Canada.

MRS. ALAN LEVITON

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ralph Robertson this morning announce the marriage of their daughter, Gladys Ann, to Alan Leviton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Herbert of New York City, which took place on Monday, June 30, at Elko, Nev.

Mrs. Leviton is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a member of Kappa Phi. Mr. Leviton was graduated from Leland Stanford University, where he now is working towards his Ph. D. and is a member of Sigma Xi, honorary science fraternity.

Mr. Leviton and his bride will reside in Sacramento, Calif., where Mrs. Leviton will be a swimming instructor at the Del Paso Heights High School.

Marriage Is Solemnized

LIEUT. AND MRS. JAMES BIGLIN

The altar of St. Mary's Cathedral was arranged with white and pink feathered carnations and gladioli for the 9:30 o'clock marriage of Miss Ann Truhlar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Truhlar, to Lieut. James E. Biglin, son of Mrs. John Biglin of Hastings, Monday morning, July 7. The Rev. Conrad J. Marrama read the lines of the service.

Preceding the ceremony, Louis Demma sang, "Panis Angelicus," and "Ave Maria," accompanied by Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, who also played the wedding music.

The maid of honor was Miss Libbie Truhlar, and Miss Marianne Michael of Hastings, was bridesmaid. The honor attendant, in pale green, and Miss Michael, in yellow, wore identical gowns fashioned with fitted lace bodices and full skirts of chiffon. Lace mitts and headdresses of braided net completed their costumes, and they carried bouquets of daisies shaded to contrast with their frocks.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of white satin. A deep yoke of Chantilly lace accented the molded bodice, which had long, fitted sleeves, and the lace motif was repeated in the trim of the full satin skirt which ended in a train. An Elizabethan cap of satin, ornamented with orange blossoms, held her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

Richard Biglin of Denver, Colo., served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Edward Truhlar, brother of the bride, and Bud Yetman of Hastings.

A wedding luncheon followed by a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where included among those assisting were Mrs. Thomas Swedlund, Miss Jolene Ericksen and Mrs. Charles Michael, all of Hastings, Mrs. Albert Pottlmeier of Lawrence, Miss Maxine Kozisek, and Miss Ella Rasmussen.

For their wedding trip to southeastern states, the bride wore chartreuse linen frock with white accessories. Lieut. and Mrs. Biglin will reside at Columbus, Ind., where the bridegroom is stationed with the Army at Camp Atternbury, Ind.

We Hear That

Visiting in Lincoln the past two weeks were Mrs. Robert M. Sherwood and her children, Linda and Craig, of Los Angeles, Cal., who have been the guests of Mr. Sherwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sherwood, and other members of the family including Mrs. Sherwood's brothers and sister, Duane Way, Roy Way and Mrs. Melvin Keszler.

★

The guests left on Wednesday for Kansas City, Kan., where they will visit Mrs. Sherwood's sister, Mrs. Maurice Herman, Mr. Herman and family, formerly of Lincoln. And before returning to the west coast, Mrs. Sherwood and her children will be the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Way of Wichita, Kan., also former Lincoln residents.

Brides At Late June Weddings

The marriage of Miss Mildred Smith of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Smith of Powell, to Eugene Kreuzberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kreuzberg of Beatrice, was solemnized at 9:30 o'clock, Saturday morning, June 21, at St. Michael's church in Fairbury. The Rev. Jerome Murray read the lines of the service, and the wedding music was played by Joan Krepcik. Miss Krepcik also accompanied Mrs. Mabel Svoboda of Lincoln, who sang, "Panis Angelicus", "Ave Maria", and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother".

MRS. EUGENE KREUZBERG

Miss Esther Smith was her sister's maid of honor and was frocked in pale pink net over taffeta designed with fitted bodice and flaring skirt. Wearing alike gowns of blue, lavender and yellow net over taffeta were the bridesmaids, Miss Helen Smith, sister of the bride, Miss Patricia Kreuzberg, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Pauline Hergott. The attendants wore wide-brimmed hats of net and carried bouquets of pink and yellow roses and carnations. Wearing a gown of white taffeta was the flower girl, Miss Gretchen Kreuzberg, sister of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and embroidered net. An off-shoulder band of satin and tulle framed the deep net yoke of the satin basque, and long sleeves ended in points over the hands. A vertical insertion of the embroidered net trimmed the full skirt, which tapered into a train, and her lace-edged illusion veil was held by a bonnet brim of lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of American Beauty roses, and wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Serving his brother as best man was Jerry Kreuzberg, and the ushers were John Kreuzberg, Russell Spurgin and Herman Mestl.

A reception for one hundred twenty-five guests was held in the parish hall of the church, and included among those assisting were Mrs. Mildred Nemecek and Mrs. Helen Brehan, both of Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Kreuzberg will reside at Beatrice upon their return from a wedding trip to Colorado and Wyoming.

MRS. HERBERT RINGENBERG

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Brakhage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brakhage, to Herbert Ringenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ringenberg of Lexington, was solemnized on Sunday, June 29, in the chapel of St. Paul Methodist Church. Dr. Frank A. Court read the lines of the late afternoon ceremony in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Mrs. Gilbert Heine, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. Heine also played the wedding music.

Miss Lois Howsden was the maid of honor and was gowned in aqua nylon net designed with a fitted basque and full ballerina-length skirt. Frocked identically in yellow nylon net were the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Brakhage and Miss Dorothy Brakhage, sisters of the bride. Chignon bandeaux of white daisies and nosegay bouquets of the daisies completed the attendants' costumes.

White Chantilly lace over bridal satin fashioned the bride's gown designed in the ballet mode. A rounded collar, edged with satin, and a row of lace-covered buttons accented the molded bodice, and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. Scallops of the lace edged the flaring skirt, and her veil of English illusion was held by a lace cap. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Serving as best man was Cloid Ringenberg, and the ushers were David Fischer and Bill Karr. ing the ceremony.

Weber Family Has Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Weber and Mr. Weber's sisters, Mrs. Carl Fritzler, and Mr. Fritzler, and Mrs. John Reigert, and Mr. Reigert, have been hosts and hostesses the past week at a reunion of the Weber family.

Climaxing a series of family dinners, picnics and informal parties, was the dinner held Monday evening which was attended by forty members of the family.

Coming from out of town for the gathering were Mr. Weber's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Con Kreiger, and their sons, Wayne Kreiger, Mrs. Kreiger, Shirley and Dickie, and Bob Kreiger, Mrs. Kreiger, Kenny and Arlene, all of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. Weber's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weber of Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritzler's daughter, Mrs. Randall Colvert, Mr. Colvert, Bobbie and Barbara, of Denver, Colo., and their son, Kenneth Fritzler, Mrs. Fritzler, Janet, Nancy and Kenny, of Kimball; and Mr. and Mrs. Reigert's daughter, Mrs. Gene Lingfelder, Mr. Lingfelder, Cynthia, Sheryl and Greg, of Columbus.

Text Of 1952 Republican Platform — Victory Road For 'Free Men' Offered; Democrats Denounced

STALEMATES IN KOREA

With foresight, the Korean war would never have happened.

In going back into Korea, they evoked the patriotic and sacrificial support of the American people. But by their hampering orders they produced stalemates and ignominious bartering with our enemies, and they offer no hope of victory.

They have effectively ignored many vital areas in the face of a global threat requiring balanced handling.

The people of the other American republics are resentful of our neglect of their legitimate aspirations and co-operative friendship.

The Middle East and much of Africa seethe with anti-American sentiment.

The peoples of the Far East who are not under Communist control find it difficult to sustain their morale as they contrast Russia's "Asia First" policy with the "Asia Last" policy of those in control of the administration now in power.

Here at home they have exhibited corruption, incompetence, and disloyalty in public office to such an extent that the very concept of free representative government has been tarnished and has lost its idealistic appeal to those elsewhere who are confronted with the propaganda of communism.

They profess to be following a defensive policy of "containment" of Russian communism which has not contained it.

Those in control of the party in power have, in reality, no foreign policy. They swing erratically from timid appeasement to reckless bluster.

Republican Co-Operation

The good in our foreign policies has been accomplished with Republican co-operation, such as the organization of the United Nations, the establishment of the trusteeship pirinciple for dependent peoples, the making of peace with Japan and Germany and the building of more solid sécurity in Europe. But in the main the Republican party has been ignored and its participation has not been invited.

The American people must now decide whether to continue in office the party which has presided over the disastrous reversal of our fortunes and the loss of our hopes for a peaceful world.

The Republican Party offers, in contrast to the performance of those now running our foreign affairs, policies and actions based on enlightened self-interest and animated by courage, self-respect, steadfastness, vision, purpose, competence and spiritual faith.

The supreme goal of our foreign policy will be an honorable and just peace. We dedicate ourselves to wage peace and to win it.

We shall eliminate from the state department and from every federal office, all, wherever they may be found, who share responsibility for the needless predicaments and perils in which we find ourselves. We shall also sever from the public payroll the hordes of loafers, incompetents and unnecessary employes who clutter the administration of our foreign affairs. The confusions, overlappings, and extravagance of our agencies abroad hold us up to the ridicule of people whose friendship we seek.

We shall substitute a compact and efficient organization where men of proven loyalty and ability shall have responsibility for reaching our objectives. They will reflect a dynamic initiative. Thus we can win the support and confidence which go only to those who demonstrate a capacity to define and get results.

We shall have positive peace-building objectives wherever this will serve the inlightened self-interest of our nation and help to frustrate the enemy's designs against us.

Will Shun Meddling

In Western Europe we shall use our friendly influence, without meddling or imperialistic attitudes, for ending the political and economic divisions which alone prevent that vital area from being strong on its own right.

We shall encourage and aid the development of collective security forces there, as elsewhere, so as to end the Soviet power to intimidate directly or by statelites and so that the free governments will be sturdy to resist Communist inroads.

In the balanced consideration of our problems, we shall end neglect of the Far East which Stalin has long identified as the road to victory over the west. We shall make it clear that we have no intention to sacrifice the east to gain time for the west.

The Republican party has consistently advocated a national home for the Jewish people since a Republican Congress declared its support of that objective 30 years ago.

In providing a sanctuary for Jewish people rendered homeless by persecution, the state of Israel appeals to our deepest humanitarian instincts. We shall continue our friendly interest in this constructive and inspiring undertaking.

We shall put our influence at the service of peace between Israel and the Arab states and we shall co-operate to bring economic and social stability to that area.

Our ties with the sister republics of the Americas will be strengthened.

Freedom For Captives

The government of the United States, under Republican leadership, will repudiate all commitments contained in secret understandings such as those of Yalta which aid Communist enslavements. It will be made clear, on the highest authority of the President and the Congress, that United States policy, as one of its peaceful purposes, looks happily forward to the genuine independence of those captive peoples.

We shall again make liberty into a beacon light of hope that will penetrate the dark places. That program will give the voice of America a real function. It will make the end of the negative, futile and immoral policy of "containment" which abandons countless human begins to a despotism and Godless terrorism which in turn enables the rulers to force the captives into a weapon for our destruction.

We shall support the United Nations and loyally help it to become what it was designed to be, a place where differences would be harmonized by honest discussion and a means for collective security under agreed concepts of justice. We shall seek real meaning and value for our regional security treaties, which implies that all parties shall contribute their loyal support and fair shares.

We shall see to it that no treaty or agreement with other countries deprives our citizens of the rights guaranteed them by the federal constitution.

We shall always measure our foreign commitments so that they can be borne without endangering the economic health or sound finances of the United States. Stalin said that "the moment for the decisive blow" would be when the free nations were isolated and were in a state of "practical bankruptcy." We shall not allow ourselves to be isolated and economically strangled, and we shall not let ourselves go bankrupt.

Cannot Buy Good Will

Sums available by this test, if competently used, will be more effective than vastly larger sums incompetently spent for vague and endless purposes. We shall not try to buy good will. We shall earn it by sound, constructive, self-respecting policies and actions.

We favor international exchange of students and of agricultural and industrial techniques, and programs for improvement of public health.

We favor the expansion of mutually advantageous world trade. To further this objective we shall press for the elimination of discriminatory practices against our exports such as preferential tariffs, monetary license restrictions, and other arbitrary devices. Our reciprocal trade agreements will be entered into and maintained on a basis of true reciprocity and to safeguard our domestic enterprises and the payrolls of our workers against unfair import competition.

The policies we espouse will revive the contagious, liberating influences which are inherent in freedom. They will inevitably set up strains and stresses within the captive world which will make the rulers impotent to continue in their monstrous ways and mark the beginning of their end.

Our nation will become again the dynamic, moral and spiritual force which was the despair of despots and the hope of the oppressed. As we resume this historic role, we ourselves will come to enjoy again the reality of peace, security and solvency, not the shabby and fleeting counterfeit which is the tift of the administration in power.

CIVIL RIGHTS

We condemn bigots who inject class, racial and religious prejudice into public and political matters. Bigotry is un-American and a danger to the republic.

We deplore the duplicity and insincerity of the party in power in racial and religious matters. Although they have been in office as a majority party for many years they have not kept nor do they intend to keep their promises.

The Republican Party will not mislead, exploit or attempt to confuse minority groups for political purposes. All American citizens are entitled to full, impartial enforcement of federal laws relating to their civil rights.

We believe that it is the primary responsibility of each state to order and control its own domestic institutions, and this power reserved to the states, is essential to the maintenance of our federal republic. However, we believe that the federal government should take supplemental action within its constitutional jurisdiction to oppose discrimination against race, religion or national origin.

We will prove our good faith by:

Appointing qualified persons, without distinction of race, religion or national origin, to responsible positions in the government.

Federal action toward the elimination of lynching.

Federal action toward the elimination of poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting.

Appropriate action to end segregation in the District of Columbia.

Enacting federal legislation to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory empolyment practices. Federal action should not duplicate state efforts to end such practices; should not set up another huge bureaucracy.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

On the prudent assumption that Communist Russia may not accommodate our own disgracefully lagging program for preparedness, we should develop with utmost speed a force in being, as distinguished from paper plans, of such power as to deter sudden attack or promptly and decisively defeat it. This defense against sudden attack requires the quickest possible development of appropriate and completely adequate air power and the simultaneous readiness of co-ordinated air, land and sea forces, with all necessary installations, bases, supplies and munitions, including atomic energy weapons in abundance.

Generally, we shall see to it that our military services are adequately supported in all ways required, including manpower, to perform their appropriate tasks in relation to the defense of this country and to meet our treaty obligations.

We shall co-ordinate our military policy with our foreign policy, alway sseeking universal limitation and control of armaments on a dependable basis.

We shall review our entire preparedness program and we shall strip it clean of waste, lack of co-ordination, inertia, and conflict between the services. We shall see that our fighting men in Korea, or wherever they may be, shall not lack the best of weapons or other supplies or services needed for their welfare.

COMMUNISM

By the administration's appeasement of Communism at home and abroad it has permitted Communists and their fellow travelers to serve in many key agencies and to infiltrate our American life. When such infiltration became notorious through the revalations of Republicans in Congress, the executive department stubbornly refused to deal with it openly and vigorously. It raised the false cry of "Red Herring" and took other measures to block and discredit investigations. It denied files and information to Congress. It set up boards of its own to keep information secret and to deal lightly with security risks and persons of doubtful loyalty. It only undertook prosecution of the most notorious commuists after public opinion forced action.

The result of these policies is the needless sacrifice of American lives, a crushing cost in dollars for defense, possession by Russia of the atomic bomb, the lowering of the Iron Curtain, and the present threats to world peace. Our people have been mired in fear and distrust and employees of integrity in the government service have been cruelly maligned by the administration's tolerance of people of doubtful loyalty.

There are no communists in the Republican Party. We have always recognized Communism to be a world conspiracy against freedom and religian. We never compromised with Communism and we have fought to expose it and to eliminate it in government and American life.

A Republican President will appoint only persons of unquestioned loyalty. We will overhaul loyalty and security programs. In achieving these purposes a Republican President will co-operate with Congress. We pledge close co-ordination of our intelligence services for protecting our security. We pledge fair but vigorous enforcement of laws to safeguard our country secure and restore the confidence of the american people in the integrity of our government.

SMALL BUSINESS IN A FREE ECONOMY

For twenty years the administration has praised free enterprise while actually wrecking it. Here a little, there a little, year by year, it has sought to curb, regulate, harass, restrain and punish. There is scarcely a phase of our economic and social life today in which government does not attempt to interfere.

Such hostility deadens initiative, discourages invention and experiment and weakens the self-reliance indispensable to the nation's vitality. Merciless taxation, the senseless use of controls and ceaseless effort to enter business on its own account, have led the present government to unrestrained waste and extravagance in spending, irresponsibility in decision and corruption in administration.

The anti-monopoly laws have been employed, not to preserve and foster competition but to further the political ambitions of the men in power. Wage and price controls have been utilized, not to maintain economic stability, but to reward the friends and punish the enemies of leaders of the party in power.

"Remove Injurious Controls"

Neither small nor large business can flourish in such an atmosphere. The Republican Party will end this hostility to initiative and enterprise.

We will aid small business in every practicable way. We shall remove tax abuses and injurious price and wage controls. Efforts to plan and regulate every phase of small business activity will cease. We will maintain special committees in Congress whose chief function will be to study and review continuously the problems of small business and recommend legislation for their relief. We shall always be mindful of the importance of keeping open the channels of opportunity for young men and women.

We will follow principles of equal enforcement of the anti-monopoly and unfair competition statutes and will simplify their administration to assist the businessmen who, in good faith, seeks to remain in compliance. At the same time, we shall relentlessly protect our free enterprise system against monopolistic and unfair trade practices.

We will oppose federal rent control except in those areas where the expansion of defense production has been accompanied by critical housing shortages. With local co-operation we shall aid slum clearance.

Our goal is a balanced budget, a reduced national debt, an economical administration and a cut in taxes. We believe in combatting inflation by encouraging full production of goods and food and not through a program of restrictions.

TAXATION AND MONETARY POLICY

Only with a sound economy can we properly carry out both the domestic and foreign policies which we advocate. The wanton extravagance and inflationary policies of the administration in power have cut the value of the dollar in half and imposed the most confiscatory taxes in our history. These policies have made the effective control of government expenditures impossible. If this administration is left in power, it will further cheapen the dollar, rob the wage earner, impoverish the farmer and reduce the true value of the savings, pensions, insurance and investments of millions of our people. Further inflation must be and can be prevented. Sound tax and monetary policies are essential to this end. We advocate the following tax policies:

1. Reduction of expenditures by the elimination of waste and extravagance so that the budget will be balanced and a general tax reduction can be made.

TAX LAW REVISION

2. An immediate study directed toward reallocation of fields of taxation between the federal, state and municipal governments so as to allow greater fiscal freedom to the states and municipalities, thus minimizing double taxation and enabling the various divisions of government to meet their obligations more efficiently.

3. A thorough revision and codification of the present hodge podge of internal revenue laws.

4. Administration of the tax laws free from politics, favoritism and corruption.

We advocate the following monetary policies:

1. A federal reserve system exercising its functions in the money and credit system without pressure for political purposes from the treasury or the White House.

2. To restore a domestic economy, and to use our influence for a world economy, of such stability as will permit the realization of our aim of a dollar on a fully convertible gold basis.

AGRICULTURE

The good earth is the food storehouse for future generations. The tending of the soil is a sacred responsibility. Development of a sound farm program is a high national duty. Any program that will benefit farmers must serve the national welfare. A prosperous agriculture with free and independent farmers is fundamental to the national interest.

We charge the present administration with seeking to destroy the farmers' freedom. We denounce the administration's use of tax money and a multitude of federal agencies to put agriculture under partisan political dictation and to make the farmer dependent upon government. We condemn the Branan plan which aims to control the farmer and to socialize agriculture. We brand as unscrupulous the administration's manipulation of grain markets during the 1948 election campaign to drive down farm prices and its deliberate misrepresentation of laws passed by the Republican 80th congress which authorized a long range farm price support program and rovided for adequate grain storage.

We condemn as a fraud on both the farmer and the consumer the Brannan plan scheme to pay direct subsidies from the federal treasury in lieu of prices to producers.

We favor a farm program aimed at full parity prices for all farm products in the market place. Our program includes commodity loans on non-perishable products, "on-the-farm" storage, sufficient farm credit and voluntary self-supporting crop insurance. Where government action on perishable commodities is desirable, we recommend locally controlled marketing agreements and other voluntary methods.

Our program should include commodity loans, on all non-perishable products supported at the level necessary to maintain a balanced production. We do not believe in restrictions on the American farmers' ability to produce.

We favor a bi-partisan Federal Agricultural Commission with power to review the policies and administration of our farm programs and to make recommendations.

We support a constructive and expanded soil conservation program administered through locally controlled local districts and which shall emphasize that payments shall be made for practices and improvements of a permanent nature.

Flood control programs should include the application of sound land use, reforestation and water management practices on each water shed. These, so far as feasible, should be decentralized and locally controlled to insure economy and effective soil conservation.

More Research

We recommend expanded agricultural research and education to promote new crops and uses, new markets, both foreign and domestic, more trustworthy crop and market estimates, a realistic trade program for agriculture aimed as restoring foreign markets and developing new outlets at home. Promotion of world trade must be on a basis of fair competition.

We support the principle of bona fide farmer-owned, farmer-operated co-operatives and urge the further development of rural electrification and communication, with federally-assisted production of power and facilities for distribution when these are not adequately available through private enterprise at fair rates.

We insist that an adequate supply of manpower on the farm is necessary to our national welfare and security and shall do those things required to assure this result.

The Republican Party will create conditions providing for farm prosperity and stability, safeguarding the farmers' independence and opening opportunities for young people in rural communities. We will do those things necessary to simplify and make efficient the operation of the department of agriculture, prevent that department from assuming powers neither intended nor delegated by Congress, and to place the administration of farm programs as closely as possible to state and local levels.

LABOR

The Republican Party believes that regular and adequate income for the employee together with uninterrupted production of goods and services through the medium of private enterprise are essential to a sound national economy. This can only be obtained in an era of industrial peace.

With the above in mind, we favor the retention of the Taft-Hartley Act, which guarantees to the working man:

The right to quit his job at any time.

The right to take part in legal union activities.

The right to remain in his union so long as he pays his dues.

The right to protection against unfair practices by either employer or union officials.

The right to political activity of his own choice and freedom to contribute thereto.

The right to a job without first joining a union.

The right to a secret ballot in any election concerned with his livelihood.

The right to protection from personal financial responsibility in damage cases against his union.

To the labor unions:

The right to establish "union shop" contracts by agreement with management.

The right to strike.

The right to free collective bargaining.

The right to protection from rival unions during the life of union contracts.

The right to assurance from employers that they will bargain only with certified unions as a protection against unfair labor practices.

We urge the adoption of such amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act as time and experience show to be desirable, and which further protect the rights of labor, management and the public.

We condemn the President's seizure of plants and industries to force the settlement of labor disputes by claims of inherent constitutional powers.

NATURAL RESOURCES

We vigorously advocate a full and orderly program for the development and conservation of our natural resources.

We deplore the policies of the present administration which allow special premiums to foreign producers of minerals available in the United States. We favor reasonable depletion allowances, defense procurement policies, synthetic fuels research, and public land policies, including good faith administration of our mining laws, which will encourage exploration and development of our mineral resources consistent with our growing industrial and defense needs.

We favor stockpiling of strategic and critical raw materials and special premium incentives for their domestic exploration and development.

We favor restoration to the states of their rights to all lands and resources beneath navigable inland and offshore waters within their historic boundaries.

We favor protection of our fisheries by domestic regulation and treaties, including safeguards against unfair foreign competition.

PUBLIC WORKS AND WATER POLICY

The federal government and state and local governments should continuously plan programs of economically justifiable public works.

We favor continous and compresensive investigations of our water resources and orderly execution of programs approved by the Congress. Authorized water projects should go forward progressively with immediate priority for those with defense significance, those in critical flood and water shortage areas, and those substantially completed.

We favor greater local participation in the operation and control, and eventual local ownership, of federally-sponsored, reimbursable water projects.

We viborously oppose the efforts of this national administration, in California and elsewhere, to undermine state control over water use, to acquire paramount water rights without just compensation, and to establish all-powerful federal socialistic valley authorities.

Public Lands

We favor restoration of the traditional Republican public land policy, which provided opportunity for ownership by citizens to promote the highest land use. We favor an impartial study of tax-free federal lands and their uses to determine their effects on the economic and fiscal structures of our states and local communities.

In the management of public lands and forests we pledge the elimination of arbitrary bureaucratic practices. To this end we favor legislation to define rights and privileges of grazors and other co-operators and users, to provide the protection of independent judicial review against administrative invasions of those rights and privileges, and to protect the public against corrupt or monopolistic exploitation and bureaucratic favoritism.

VETERANS

We believe that active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States of America during a state of war or national emergency constitutes a special service to our nation and entities those who have so served to aid and compensation in return for this service.

Consequently we propose:

That the aid and compensation given to veterans of previous wars be extended to veterans of the Korean conflict;

That compensation be fairly and adequately adjusted to meet changes in the cost of living;

That aid be given to veterans, particularly disabled veterans, to obtain suitable employment, by providing training and education, and through strict compliance with veterans' preference laws in federal service;

That the Veterans' Administration be maintained as a single, independent agency in full charge of all veterans' affairs, and that the Veterans' Administration manage veterans' affairs in an efficient, prompt and uniform manner;

That the Veterans' Administration should be equipped to provide and maintain medical and hospital care of the highest possible standard for all eligible veterans.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Inflation has already cut in half the purchasing power of the retirement and other benefits under the federal old age and survivors insurance system. Sixty million persons are covered under the system and 4.5 million are now receiving benefits.

The best assurance of preserving the benefits for which the worker has paid is to stop the inflation which causes the tragic loss of purchasing power, and that we propose to do.

We favor amendment of the old age and survivors insurance system to provide coverage for those justly entitled to it but who are now excluded.

We shall work to achieve a simple, more effective and more economical method of administration.

We shall make a thorough study of universal pay-as-we-go pension plans.

HEALTH

We recognize that the health of our people as well as their proper medical care cannot be maintained if subject to federal bureaucratic dictation. There should be a just division of responsibility between government, the physician, the voluntary hospital, and voluntary health insurance. We are opposed to federal compulsory health insurance with its crushing cost, wasteful inefficiency, bureaucratic dead weight, and debased standards of medical care. We shall support those health activities by government which stimulate the development of adequate hospital servcies without federal interference in local administration. We favor support of scientific research. We pledge our continuous encouragement of improved methods of assuring health protection.

The tradition of popular education, tax supported and free to all, is strong with our people. The responsibility for sustaining this system of popular education has always rested upon the local communities and the states. We subscribe fully to this principle.

CIVIL RIGHTS

We condemn bigots who inject class, racial and religious prejudice into public and political matters. Bigotry is un-American and a danger to the Republic.

We deplore the duplicity and insincerity of the party in power in racial and religious matters. Although they have been in office as a majority party for many years they have not kept nor do they intend to keep their promises.

The Republican Party will not mislead, exploit or attempt to confuse minority groups for political purposes. All American citizens are entitled to full, impartial enforcement of federal laws relating to their civil rights.

We believe that it is the primary responsibility of each state to order and control its own domestic institutions, and this power, reserved to the states, is essential to the maintenance of our federal Republic. However, we believe that the federal government should take supplemental action within its constitutional jurisdiction to oppose discrimination against race, religion or national origin.

We will prove our good faith by:

Appointing qualified persons, without distinction of race, religion or national origin, to responsible positions in the government.

Federal action toward the elimination of lynching.

Federal action toward the elimination of poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting.

Appropriate action to end segregation in the District of Columbia.

Enacting federal legislation to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory employment practices. Federal action should not duplicate state efforts to end such practices; should not set up another huge bureaucracy.

CENSORSHIP

We pledge not to infringe by censorship or gag order the right of a free people to know what their government is doing.

EQUAL RIGHTS

We recommend to Congress the submission of a constitutional amendment providing equal rights for men and women.

We favor legislation assuring equal pay for equal work regardless of sex.

STATEHOOD

We favor immediate statehood for Hawaii.

We favor statehood for Alaska under an equitable enabling act.

We favor eventual statehood for Puerto Rico.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

We favor self-government and national suffrage for the residents of the nation's capital.

INDIAN AFFAIRS

All Indians are citizens of the United States and no longer should be denied full enjoyment of their rights of citizenship.

We shall eliminate the existing shameful waste by the Bureau of Indian Affairs which has obstructed the accomplishment of our national responsibility for improving the condition of our Indian friends. We pledge to undertake programs to provide Indians with equal opportunities for education, health protection and economic development.

The next Republican administration will welcome the advice and counsel of Indian leaders in selecting the Indian commissioner.

CIVIL SERVICE

We condemn the flagrant violations of the civil service merit system by the party in power.

We favor a personnel program for the federal career service comparable to the best practices of progressive private employers. Federal employes shall be selected under a strengthened and extended merit system. Civil servants of ability and integrity shall receive proper recognition, with merit the sole test for promotion.

DELIVERY OF MAIL

We pledge a more efficient and frequent mail delivery service.

GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION

We pledge a thorough reorganization of the federal government in accordance with principles set forth in the report of the Hoover commission which was established by the Republican 80th Congress.

We denounce the duplicity in submitting to Congress for approval, reorganization plans which were represented as being in accordance with the principles of the Hoover Commission recommendations but which in fact were actually intended to further partisan political purposes of the administration in power.

CORRUPTION

The present administration's sordid record of corruption has shocked and sickened the American people. Its leaders have forfeited any right to public faith by the way they transact the federal government's business.

Fraud, bribery, graft, favoritism and influence-peddling have come to light. Immorality and unethical behavior have been found to exist among some who were entrusted with high policy-making positions, and there have been disclosures of close alliances between the present government and underworld characters.

Republicans exposed cases of questionable and criminal conduct and relentlessly pressed for full investigations into the cancer-like spread of corruption in the administration. These investigations uncovered a double standard in federal tax law enforcement—lenient treatment to political favorites including even some gangsters and crooks but harassments and threats of prosecution for many honest taxpayers over minor discrepancies.

Besides tax fixes and scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau, investigators have disclosed links between high officials and crime, favoritism and influence in the RFC, profiteering in grain, sale of postmasterships, tanker ship deals in the maritime commission, ballot box stuffing and thievery, and bribes and payoffs in contract awards by officials in agencies exercising extraordinary powers and disbursing billions of dollars.

Under public pressure, the administration took reluctant steps to clean house. But it was so eager to cover up and block more revelations that its clean-up drive launched with much fanfare ended in a farce.

The Republican Party pledges to put an end to corruption, to oust the crooks and grafters, to administer tax laws fairly and impartially and to restore honest government to the people.

REPUBLICAN 80TH CONGRESS

The Republican Party does not rest its case upon promises alone. We have a record of performance which was grossly defamed by the party in power. The Republican 80th Congress launched the program to stop Communism; unified the Armed Services; authorized a 70-group Air Force which the President blocked; enacted a national service law; balanced the budget; accumulated an eight billion dollar surplus; reduced taxes with 70 per cent of the tax savings to those with incomes under $5,000; freed 7,400,000 wage earners in the lower brackets from having to pay any further income tax at all; allowed married couples to divide their incomes for tax purposes, and granted an additional $600 exemption to those over 65 years of age and to the blind; enacted the Taft-Hartley Law for equitable labor-management relations; passed the first long-range agriculture program; increased social security benefits; and carried out every single pledge they made to the voters in the 1946 election.

CONCLUSION

Upon this statement of truths and this pledge of performance, the Republican Party stands confident that it expresses the hope of the citizens of America and certain that it points out with integrity a road upon which free men may march into a new day—a new and better day—in which shall be fulfilled the decent aspirations of our people for peace, for solvency and for the fulfillment of our best welfare, under the guidance of divine providence.

Skunk Bites Bloomfield Tot 3 Times

BLOOMFIELD, Neb. (AP) — An infuriated skunk has given Mrs. Harold Thelen and her children an experience they will not likely soon forget.

Mr. and Mrs. Thelen and their four children arrived at the farm home of Mrs. Thelen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beckman.

While the children were outside, Mrs. Thelen heard a noise, looked out and saw the skunk on the porch, chasing everything in its way and biting the boards and vines.

She managed to get three of the children into the house without injury. But by the time Mrs. Thelen could reach three-year-old Norma Jean, the skunk had bitten the youngster three times.

Mrs. Thelen grabbed the little girl in her arms and rushed into the house with the skunk in pursuit.

The injured child was taken to a doctor.

Mrs. Thelen's uncle, Fred Kumm of Omaha, also visiting at the farm, shot the skunk.

Council Continues Auditorium Plans Talk Until Monday

The City Council has concluded its auditorium discussions for this week with no conclusions reached except to continue talks at 1:30 Monday afternoon.

While possible, it is doubtful now that any agreement on a new auditorium will be reached at that time. Two general lines of action are receiving equal consideration, according to acting Mayor Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme, but more facts are needed on each before a decision can be made.

It is expected that the Council will adopt one of two proposals:

1. Build an auditorium complete wtih some of the originally planned features left out.

2. Build the major auditorium facilities now with other features planned for completion at a later date when more funds are available.

The Monday meeting will be of the Council alone. Meetings this week have been held with the Associated Auditorium Architects, Auditorium Advisory Committee and other undisclosed individuals.

NU Instructor Invited To Onamastic Congress

A University of Nebraska English instructor Miss Mamie J. Meredith, has been invited to attend the fourth international congress of Onamastic Sciences in Sweden in August.

The congress will be attended by specialists interested in determining the origin of names of families and places. Miss Meredith, a well known scholar in this field, is one of three women selected last spring as one of the founding sponsors of the American Name Society. Miss Louise Pound, retired University English professor, is also one of the founding sponsors.

Miss Meredith has been active in the work of the American Dialect Society, especially in the field of new words.

Latin America Resents U.S. Policy, Alexis Says

Many Latin Americans resent U.S. foreign policy, pointing out that sending our troops over the world looks aggressive and militaristic, Optimist Club members were told.

Dr. Joseph E. A. Alexis, University of Nebraska professor who returned from a visit to Mexico City this summer, said that individual Americans can do a lot to remove this resentment.

They can promote good will toward the United States by personal, favorable contact with Latin Americans. It is important, he stressed, that Americans put aside their feelings of superiority when dealing with people of other nations.

$5,539 State Tax On Cora Eldredge Estate

The estate of Cora G. Eldredge of Omaha, who died in March, 1951, has paid a state tax of $5,539, the tax commissioner's office reported.

The estate grossed $476,612, and the amount subject to tax after deductions was $357,945.

The county inheritance tax was $3,115.

Thieves Have Good Start On Construction Material

If the thieves in two cases reported to the sheriff's office could get together, they might have a good start on a construction job.

Mrs. Thomas Morris reported that her vacant property at 301 Groveland had been broken into several times recently. The garage was entered, and a number of tools were taken.

The theft of 20 gallons of paint in five gallon cans, stored behind the U-Co-Op Oil Company, was reported by Robert Rager, 2346 West O. He valued the paint at $80.

Case Transferred

The cases of Earl F. Miller and Leonard Eugene Slade, who are charged with damaging three Dundy County mail boxes, have been transferred to the Lincoln division of Federal Court from McCook. The transfer was at the request of the two men.

Lincoln Athletics Sweep First Home Doubleheader

White Sox Dump Nats Twice, 2-0, 4-2; A's Blast Tribe; Pirates Nudge Giants

Yankees Continue Roll As Brownies Fall, 10-2

(From Press Dispatches)

The Chicago White Sox bit a half-game off the New York Yankees' edge in the American League standings Thursday night as they swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 2-0 and 4-2.

The Yanks, meanwhile, were doing all in their power to stay ahead of the race, ripping the St Louis Browns in a single game, 10-2.

The Philadelphia Athletics also did a little ripping. They slaughtered the aspiring Cleveland Indians, 11-1. Detroit's slated appearance at Boston was postponed because of rain, to round out the slate.

Southpaw Billy Pierce tossed a two-hit shutout to win the Sox opener and in the nightcap Saul Rogovin and Harry Dorish combined their talents on a six-hit performance.

The White Sox sewed up the second game in the sixth inning when Eddie Robinson banged a homerun to initiate a three-run rally. The Sox added another run in the ninth as they rounded out a 13-hit attack against four Senator pitchers.

The Chicago southpaw, in notching his 10th win of the year, had to out-duel Bob Porterfield and Sandy Consuegra, who limited the White Sox to five hits. Pierce struck out 10 and walked only one.

Chicago collected both runs in the sixth off Porterfield. Nelson Fox opened the frame with a triple and Minnie Monoso singled him home. A pair of walks and an infield out enabled Minoso to score.

Lefthander Alex Kellner provided the defense and Rightfielder Elmer Valo the offense as the Athletics walloped the Indians. Kellner set the Indians down with four hits. Valo walked twice, hit two singles and a triple to bat in four runs and score three others.

Ferris Fain, the A's first baseman, hit a double in the first inning to run his batting streak to 22 consecutive games, longest on record in the American League this season.

The Yankees smear of St. Louis extended the Browns' losing streak to nine games. Home runs by Yogi Berra and Billy Martin paced the Yankee 13-hit attack while Lefty Bob Kuzava scattered nine blows to post his fifth victory.

The Browns took a short-lived 2-0 lead in the fourth inning on singles by Bob Nieman, Jim Dyck, Clint Courtney and Joe Demaestri.

Martin homered with one on and one out off Duane Pillette in the Yankee fourth to tie the score and the Yanks forged ahead for keeps in the fifth, scoring three runs on only one hit.

Mrs. Adna Dobson Wins Inter-City Go

Mrs. Adna Dobson, with an 18-hole total of 85, and Mrs. C. E. Squires, who had a 51 for nine holes, walked off with the honors in this month's Lincoln Women's Intercity Golf Meet held Thursday at the Pioneer layout.

About 50 entrants were reported. The next, and final, Intercity meet will be on August 8 at Lincoln Country Club.

Micro-Midgets Set To Race Here Sunday

. . . Nine-Event Program

Micro-midget racing will make its debut in Lincoln Sunday afternoon with a nine-event program, Clyde Clymer, president of the Lincoln Micro-Midget Racing Association, has announced.

The diminutive autos, powered by special modifications of motor-scooter engines, will whip around the one-eighth mile track at 600 West Van Dorn Street in time trials starting at 2:30 p.m.

Slated to follow are four 10-lap heat races, a consolation race for non-money winners at the same distance, a seven-lap trophy dash, a novelty race and a 20-lap feature.

Clymer said that a minimum of 18 cars and drivers are expected to be on hand for the inaugural program. In addition to a probable eight entries from Lincoln, drivers from several other Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas points have indicated that they expect to take part in the race meet.

Two of the state's hottest micro-midgets will be on hand to carry on a feud started early in the season. Jim Love of Lincoln, piloting the Clymer Special, and Wayne Ward of Ralston, Neb., at the wheel of the Alton No. 7—currently running one-two in state association point standings—will be spotlighted in Sunday's meet.

The Clymer car holds the state record—:15.95 seconds or an approximate 30 miles per hour—set over the one-eighth mile oval at Ralston two weeks ago.

The trophy dash, open to the three fastest cars in the time trials, should provide one of the best races of the afternoon. Also high on the list of competitors are two other Lincolnites—Jack Stanley driving his No. 00 and Bill McMullen driving No. 5—who will be among the favorites.

Cubs Hand Brooklyn Dodgers 7-6 Defeat

(From Press Dispatches)

The New York Giants had their chance Thursday but failed to cash in.

In an afternoon tilt the Brooklyn Dodgers were handed one of their infrequent surprises by the Chicago Cubs, who copped a 7-6 triumph, but the Giants were kayoed by the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates in a night game to nullify their chances of picking up a game on the current loop-leaders. The Bucs prevailed, 6-4.

Two other games in the senior circuit found the Cincinnati Reds clipping the Boston Braves, 5-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals toppled the Philadelphia Phillies, 10-3.

Gus Bell smashed a dramatic 12th inning homer with one man aboard to give the last-place Pirates their win over the second-place Giants. The Giants' Jim Hearn was coasting along on a shutout when the Bucs sent the game into extra innings by scoring four runs in the ninth.

Bell's smash, coming with two men out, was hit off Relief Pitcher George Spencer, who had followed Hearn, Hoyt Wilhelm and Dave Koslo to the mound. Dick Groat had opened the inning with a single.

The win was credited to Relief Pitcher Ted Wilks, who went into the game in the 10th after Starter Howie Pollet had been lifted for a pinchhitter.

The Cubs blasted out four runs in the first inning and three more in the fourth to edge the Dodgers.

But the Cubs wiped out that margin in their turn at bat in the same inning and forged ahead in the fourth to pile up their winning edge. Gene Hermanski's second of three hits scored Eddie Miksis with what proved to be the Cubs' winning run in the fourth inning

Gerry Staley registered his 12th pitching victory of the season as the Cardinals defeated the Phillies for their 10th consecutive triumph. The Redbirds hopped on Curt Simmons for four runs in the first inning to hand him his third defeat.

Ken Raffensberger was credited with his 10th victory of the season while the Braves' Jim Wilson was the losing pitcher.

HOST TURNS FISHERMAN—Axel "Hickory" Johnson of Uehling stands with the string of rainbow trout which earned him The Lincoln Star's "Fisherman of the Week" award. Mr. Johnson took time out from his duties as host for Southway Lodge in Grand Lake, Colo., to haul in his catch from the Colorado River.

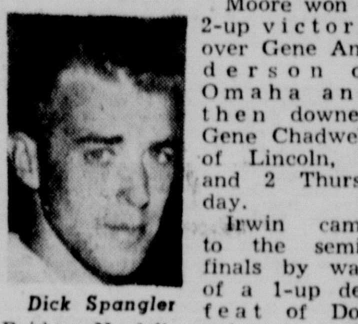
Dick Spangler's Putter Overcomes Stroh, 1 Up

OMAHA (AP) — Dick Spangler Jr., of Lincoln charged into the semi-final round of the Nebraska Invitational Amateur Golf Tournament with a pair of victories in Thursday's tourney play.

Spangler meets another Lincoln winner, Jack Heckenlively, in the 36-hole semi-final round.

Thursday Spangler whizzed by Jim Belcher, Grand Island, 7-5, but had trouble at first with par-bust Stan Stroh of Lincoln before winning 1-up.

Heckenlively took a 3-2 win from Bob Bender of Omaha in the third round and then impressively eliminated another Omahan, Bill Spring, 5 and 4.



Dick Spangler

Moore won a 2-up victory over Gene Anderson of Omaha and then downed Gene Chadwell of Lincoln, 3 and 2 Thursday.

Irwin came to the semi-finals by way of a 1-up defeat of Don Bridge, Norfolk, and a 1-up—in 19 holes—victory over Bob Fraser of Omaha.

Spangler was 4 down after 10 holes against Stroh, and at that point, his hopes had taken a beating.

He had taken a bogey six on the tenth against Stroh's second straight birdie. And it didn't look like the 22-year-old University of Nebraska student would recover.

Then Spangler and his silver-headed putter began to sizzle.

Starting with the 11th hole, Spangler birdied six of the last eight holes to end up with a 4-under-par 32 and the 2-up victory over Stroh.

Spangler played perfect golf from tee to cup from the 11th through the 16th. He birdied the 11th with a 10-footer, the 12th with a 4-footer, nestled his approach three feet from the 13th pin for a birdie and parred the 14th. He rammed a 20-footer for another birdie on No. 14 and a 12-footer on No. 16. That was the sixth consecutive hole he won as Stroh staggered from that 4-up lead to be dormie two.

Spangler let up on No. 17 but on the 18th Spangler's seven-iron left a tricky 10-foot putt, which he tapped unerringly into the coup for his sixth birdie.

The Firing Line

Mr. Baugh And The Fountain Of Youth

THERE was a wirephoto the other day that went comparably unnoticed, yet had strong impact, at least to this writer.

The picture showed Sammy Baugh, age 39 and not a Jack Benny 39, signing his 16th contract with the pro Washington Redskins.

Truly, the lean Texas passer has located that long-sought fountain of youth.

Sammy Baugh

Consider that Sammy was heading into his senior year at Texas Christian when the United States sent its Olympic teams to Berlin in 1936.

That was the year that Jessee Owens came out a triple winner in the 100 and 200 meters and broad jump, setting Olympic records in each.

Pittsburgh's Johnny Woodruff used his seven-foot stride for victory in the 800 meters and Archie Williams won the 400. Forrest Towns and Glenn Hardin won the hurdle races.

Cornelius Johnson copped the high jump and Earle Meadows won the pole vault. Ken Carpenter led the discus tossers.

That was the collegiate era of Samuel Adrian Baugh. Seems like centuries ago, doesn't it?

The year 1936 marked the Yankees' defeat of the Giants in the World Series. Of that championship team, Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri are now dead. A rookie named Joe DiMaggio was breaking in with the Yanks.

JOE Louis won the world's heavyweight crown from Jimmy Braddock in 1937. Tony Manero and Denny Shute were winning the U.S. Open and PGA titles that year and Don Budge and Alice Marble ranked as king and queen of tennis.

All of those time-honored athletes were prominent in the days when Sammy Baugh was known as the best passer in football. They have all faded into middle-aged obscurity, but Mr. Baugh, brother, he's still tossing that pigskin!

Last season, at 38, Sammy completed 44 percent of his passes for a total of 1,104 yards.

Consider that, of all sports, the career of a pro footballer or pro boxer is the shortest.

Sammy is now playing with many pro gridders who were not even born when he started throwing a football for Sweetwater, Tex., High School.

Seward Juniors Blast Wahoo, 20-2

SEWARD—Led by the booming bats of Jim Hille and Bob Beckman the Seward Legion team thumped Wahoo, 20-2, here Wednesday night.

Hille contributed a double and a triple. Beckman had a single and a grand-slam homer.

The victory was the third for Seward. They defeated Geneva 6-2, and York, 2-1.

Angling Angles

By Jim Clark

AXEL "Hickory" Johnson, native son of Uehling, took time out from his duties at Grand Lake, Colo., last week to win the Lincoln Star's "Fisherman of the Week" award.

Mr. Johnson's winning catch was a string of rainbow trout, weighing from 1½ to three pounds, taken from the Colorado River.

He caught his string of fish in three hours and says that "trout in the pan is a delicacy fit for kings."

Johnson claims that one of the hazards of trout fishing is the extremely cold water which keeps the angler's feet mighty chilly. He advises the wearing of heavy wool socks under one's boots.

During the summer months Mr. Johnson is maitre de and host for Southway Lodge at Grand Lake. In the winter, he is Uehling's first citizen. During the State Basketball tournament of 1950, Axel was a front row patron, cheering the Uehling cagers to the Class D title.

While Axel was having his share of the luck in Colorado, fishermen in the state were comparatively few. And those that were out were meeting with little success.

ONLY one catch was turned into the State Game Commission by wardens throughout the state during the past week. This catch belonging to D. Falk and son of Auburn. Their catch included eight carp, the largest weighing 8½ pounds.

Earlier in the week, Harold Finke of Bennett hauled in 10 catfish weighing a total of 24 pounds on night lines.

Using crawdads and minnows for bait, Finke caught his fish in the Republican River near Alma.

Dick Shaffer of the State Game Commission said that the hot weather and the number involved in harvesting throughout the state has kept the fishermen from the lakes' shores.

Wardens report that the loss of fishermen, dropping water level and heavy growth of moss in the lakes have provided only fair to good fishing.

Those waters providing the best fishing were the Platte River, where catfish were hitting quite well; the Elkhorn River for catfish and carp; the Fremont Lakes and Dead Timber Lakes for bullheads, and Mahoney, Sutherland and Jeffrey Canyon Reservoirs for catfish and carp.

Carp fishermen have been faring the best, Shaffer points out, because game fish become dormant in hot weather while carp are always active.

Des Moines Falls Before Aroused Bellmen, 7-6, 3-2

By NORRIS ANDERSON
(Sports Editor, The Star)

A milestone of monumental proportions was passed at Sherman Field Thursday night.

Lo and behold, the cellar Lincoln Athletics toppled the Des Moines Bruins, 7-6 and 3-2, and thus swept their first doubleheader of the home season.

By virtue of this accomplishment, Manager Les Bell's hard-striving A's crept within four and a half games of escaping the Western League basement.

All of the elements of baseball, good and bad, were packed into a marathon bill that ended at 11:55 p.m., with part of the 834 spectators already departed to relieve baby sitters and the matter of an early morning awakening.

The opener, supposed to be a seven-inning affair, stretched 12 frames before the A's finally squeezed home the winning run. This automatically made the second game seven innings, which were barely accomplished before the Western League curfew law.

Each victory was a thriller, carried right down to the final out.

Lincoln appeared hopelessly lost in the first game at the fifth inning post. The Bruins led, 6-1, and had already shelled out Mason Bowes and Harry "Sahara" Desert.

Nary a citizen paid much attention as the A's sneaked across two runs in the sixth on singles by Jim Trew and Ken Weiss and a walk. You heard a murmur in the seventh as the home guard rang across three runs on four walks and three singles by Bill Hockenbury and Joe Mangini.

Joe Kunel, the Prague, Neb., lad who four nights back pitched a two-hitter against the parent Chicago Cubs, walked in the tying run.

At a 6-6, the count remained until the 12th with Cy Buker, one-time member of the Brooklyn Dodgers, holding up the pitching end for the A's. It seemed a question of whether either side could muster enough plate punch for victory.

In their end of the 12th, Trew and Junior Reedy of the A's worked Kunel, last of four Bruin hurlers, for walks.

Lew "Shine" Richardson, the ancient backstopper from the hills of Kentucky, led off the A's flurry in the 12th with a hearty double to left. He moved to third on Buker's sacrifice.

After Kunel, last of four Bruin hurlers, had walked Trew and Reedy and forced Gardner to fly out, Mr. William Stewart stepped to the mound.

He caught Kunel's third pitch, a curve, squarely on the nose and sent the ball scurrying toward second base. At first the ball appeared ripe for a force-out, but a sudden hop carried it into the outfield.

In came Mr. Richardson and the A's had won themselves a game.

After Lincoln had scored in the first and fourth frames and Des Moines had tied the score with two runs in the fifth, the A's waited until the sixth to sew up the nightcap.

Joe Mangini and Billy Shantz were on base with singles and Hockenbury with a walk when Trew came up.

One of Lefty Paul Schneiders' fast balls flew wild and struck Trew on the leg. As he went automatically to first, Mangini was forced home with what turned out to be the winning run.

Despite a Western League ruling which says no inning shall start after 11:50, the umpires let Des Moines start batting in the seventh at exactly 11:52, Western Union time.

Big Ed Hrabcsak, who had relieved Starter Al Romberger at the start of the seventh, however, set Ley, Magliolo and Tangeman down in order.

The A's and Bruins wind up their series tonight at 8 p.m. in a single game. Mike Kume (3-5) of the A's will be opposed by Vic Verbic (3-5) of Des Moines.

Footnotes . . . Danny Holden of the A's was ejected by Umpire John "Puffed" Rice in the first inning of the first game for tossing his bat down on the plate in strong protest of a called third strike. . . Third Baseman Charley Teague of the Bruins was tossed out in the second inning of the nightcap. . . He was protesting a decision at second. . . Stewart and

Peter Pan 'A' Team Wins First Game

The Peter Pan Class A midget baseballers won their first game of the season Thursday afternoon as they exploded for 16 runs off 16 hits to wallop Antelope, 16-3.

The winners racked Pitcher Greer—the only moundsman for Antelope—for nine hits and 10 runs in the fourth frame. Stoneman got credit for the victory.

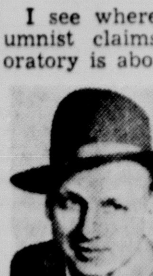
Results Thursday:

Class A
Randolph 10-6-4; College View 6-3-5
Cripe, Arms and Arms, Hamell; Duff and Myers, Cline.
Peter Pan 16-16-2; Antelope 3-5-2
Greer and K. White; Stoneman and White.

Class B
Randolph 8-2-4; College View 2-6-4
Popras, Donovan and Frank; Larson, Russel and Meyer.

Overhauling THE NEWS

By WALLY DeBROWN



I see where a national columnist claims that campaign oratory is about as effective as a crocheted ice pick. The big ballyhoo is based on the idea that most of us live in a vacuum for years and only start concentrating when we see ourselves heading for that November voting date every fourth year. Maybe the political parties ought to realize that many Americans don't go into a coma immediately after making a ballot. We even remember a flock of things that have been said and done for several years back. . .and it'll take more than a well-turned phrase to get us to shift into reverse.

A Detroit man who was arrested for stealing a city truck, said he was trying to get a city job and wanted to be able to say he could drive a truck. That's qualifying the hard way.

Fremont Thumps West Point, 6-5

WEST POINT — (Lincoln Star Special)—Fremont continued its dominance in Pioneer Nite League play Thursday night by squeezing past West Point here, 6-5.

Paul Hiller, undefeated in league play, gained credit for the win, although he required the services of Floyd Thierolf to squelch a West Point uprising in the last frame.

Husker Milt Frei led the Fremont batters with five singles in five trips to the plate. Galen Moyer was West Point's ace batter with two doubles and a single in five attempts.

Fremont's Outfielder Vaughn Hazen turned in the fielding gem of the evening when he made a one-handed catch of Clem Bruning's drive into deep center field.

Fremont .... 003 010 200—6 10 2
West Point .... 000 005 000—5 12 1

Batteries: Hiller, Thierolf (9) and Smith. Parr and Harrison.

McCook Cats Blast Kearney Irishmen

McCOOK—(Lincoln Star Special)—The McCook Cats made another strong bid here Thursday night to get out of the cellar spot in the Nebraska Independent League by trouncing Kearney, 10-4.

Les Studener, on the mound for McCook, picked up his third straight win with no losses.

At the plate, McCook's Daryl Nuckolls hit a triple in two trips, and Bill Burgess and Joe Mohorcich each had four hits in four attempts.

Tom Ross had two hits in three attempts for Kearney and Frank Sajevic had three for five.

Kearney .... 110 200 000— 4 10 4
McCook .... 043 100 02x—10 13 3

Batteries: John Rapp, Walt Ibsen and John Burchardt. Les Studner and Leo McKillip.

Reedy led the A's in the field. . . Bill made amazing catches in the ninth and 10th innings of the opener. . . Junior's catch and accurate peg home in the fifth inning of the nightcap cut off a Des Moines run. . . Kuncl said he didn't have sufficient warm-up time to get his curve working. . . Harold George, Western League secretary, was in the stands. . . So long and strenuous was the evening that Hank Cech, public address man, lost his voice in the second inning of the nightcap. . . He was relieved by Peter Janetos of the Husker coaching staff.

Kansas Miss Is Broadmoor Ace

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS)—A 15-year-old Kansas girl Thursday invaded the semi-finals of the 11th annual Broadmoor Women's Invitational Golf tournament at Colorado Springs.

Judy Bell of Wichita, Kansas Women's champion, ousted Mrs. H. R. Staats of Davenport, Ia., 4 and 3 to win a berth in today's play against Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas.

Mrs. Riedel stepped into the semi-finals by defeating Janice Boigt of Denver 7 and 6.

The second match will see Mrs. Ernie Blanton of Enid, Okla., 1949 winner of the tourney, against Bee McWane of Birmingham, Alabama state titlist.

Miss McWane eliminated Mrs. L. M. Keating of Houston 3 and 2 Thursday.

'Community Has Key To Education'

Cecil Hartung

"The strength for solving the problems of public education lies within the community," said Cecil H. Hartung of Minneapolis, Minn., regional director of the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools, here Thursday.

Hartung and Dr. Calvin H. Reed, assistant professor of elementary education at the University of Nebraska, shared the speaker's rostrum at a conference sponsored by the University Teachers College and the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Explaining the role of a successful citizen's committee in improving education, Hartung said "it must represent a good cross-section of the entire community, it must begin with study and research rather than moving in with preconceived ideas, and it should work co-operatively with legally-constituted school authorities."

Two Goals

The national commission is a non-profit corporation with members who are leading U.S. citizens not professionally identified with education, religion or politics.

The commission has set for itself two immediate goals:

To help Americans realize how important our public schools are to our expanding democracy.

To arouse in each community the intelligence and will to improve our public schools.

"There is no basic conflict between the PTA and the national commission—rather, they supplement each other," explained Hartung. As director of a six-state region, it is his purpose to provide information, material and services from the Midland Bank Building headquarters in Minneapolis for "interested citizens."

One Way Streets

Dr. Reed, speaking on the role of the PTA in improving education, declared that in Nebraska "we have one-way streets." "What our boys and girls need is a broad two-way street which will give parents and teachers plenty of room to exchange ideas."

The PTA, he said, can give Nebraska this "two-way street in ideas." He urged parents and teachers to use the PTA as an effective instrument for "community action."

The conference was later turned over for a round-table discussion led by Dr. Galen Saylor, chairman of the department of secondary education at the University of Nebraska.

Russia Gets All - German Elections Offer From West

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western powers offered Thursday to meet with Russia for the specific purpose of creating an "impartial" commission to determine whether free elections can be held throughout divided Germany.

The proposal might mean a break in the long East-West debate over German Unification, but it was hinged on conditions which some diplomats doubted Moscow would accept.

Identical Notes

The United States, Britain and France, in new identical notes, gave notice that Russia must agree in advance to genuinely free elections in the Soviet Zone, and to participation of a Free German government in negotiation of a peace treaty.

Russia, which has been pressing for a Big Four conference on Germany for the past four months, thus far has failed to make a commitment on these points. Instead it has urged simultaneous discussion of unity and a peace treaty, by the occupying powers themselves.

Way Left Open

As proposed by the West, the meeting would be confined to "the first question which must be settled if further progress is to be made, namely the composition and functions of the commission of investigation to determine whether the conditions necessary for free elections can exist."

The Western powers restated their contention that their pending separate peace contract with the Bonn government left the way open for a final peace settlement with a unified Germany, regardless of Soviet charges that the west was to blame for the division.

Mrs. Edwin O. Malone Services Here Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Edwin O. Malone, 71, 4160 Folsom, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Roper and Sons, Rev. E. L. Cochrane officiating. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Mrs. Malone

Mrs. Malone died Wednesday. She was born at Letman, Ind., and came to the Lincoln vicinity 60 years ago. She was a resident of Lincoln for 15 years.

Mrs. Malone was married in 1901, and moved to Douglas where she lived until coming to Lincoln. She was a member of the Douglas Methodist Church.

Surviving are her husband; five daughters, Mrs. La Verne Sanborn and Mrs. Leota Hurd, both of Lincoln, Mrs. Vera Dovel and Mrs. Maybeth Morrell, both of Palmyra and Mrs. Stella Hartman of Burr.

Also surviving are two sons, Ansell of Douglas and William A. of Lincoln, and 15 grandchildren.

Mrs. Radmore To Get Father's Insurance Cash

Mrs. Dorothy Righter Radmore of Lincoln has been named as the rightful beneficiary of her father's insurance, according to a decision by Federal Judge John Delehant.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society had requested the decision, since Mrs. Radmore and two sons claimed that they should receive $2,143, the amount due from insurance from their late father, Charles B. Righter. In previous insurance policies, Righter had named his sons as beneficiaries, but changed to his daughter several months before his death.

Hospital Fan Taken

The theft of a fan from the Veterans Hospital was reported to the sheriff's office by Ralph T. Martin. He said the fan had been stolen from the main office.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

CHICAGO—This is our first brunch session . . . it opened on an unsettled Wednesday and continued into a windy Thursday.

Kiernan

☆ ☆ ☆

We suspected something unique was in store when the delegate from the Virgin Islands requested that he not be asked to poll himself . . a small request and eagerly granted.

☆ ☆ ☆

He followed the case of the Puerta Ricans which was the best act of the Pacific since the three Hawaiians.

At the moment it looks like Conrad Hilton on the second ballot.

☆ ☆ ☆

Hilton isn't running but he has most of the delegates' shirts in his laundry and many delegates in his elevators.

☆ ☆ ☆

He isn't buying votes but he keeps buying hotels and either a delegate is pledged to Hilton or may lose his franchise on a room outside showers.

☆ ☆ ☆

Joe Martin showed up to inspect the gavel and speak to a non-listening audience . . . then he returned to the ante room and resumed filing his nails.

☆ ☆ ☆

In case you have for gotten . . . Joe is the permanent chairman of the temporary convention which has put the permanent shine on every seersucker two-pants suit in the place.

'Sun Cooker' Developed

NEW YORK (AP)—British scientists have come up with a "sun cooker" which may eliminate charcoal from the backyard barbecue, the British Information Service reports here.

The device collects heat by a system of mirrors and lenses and focuses it on the cooking chamber. Scientists believe solar energy for industry may develop from this small start.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Wheat, Soys Drop; Corn Backs Down

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures moved lower Thursday on hedging sales in rather dull trading. Corn featured the market, however, moving upward around a cent and then backing down.

Oats were mixed and soybeans dipped after moving ahead around 2 cents at times.

Corn buying was influenced partly by reports of the sale of three cargoes of domestic corn to Austria. Receipts were lighter also, at 54 cars. Cash corn prices were about a cent higher.

Wheat closed ½ to 1⅛ cent lower than the previous finish, corn ¾ higher to ⅝ lower, oats ⅝ higher to ⅜ lower, rye unchanged to 2½ lower, soybeans 1¼ lower to ¾ higher, and lard 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Many traders stayed out of the market Thursday pending the government's monthly crop report, which was issued after the close of trading.

Stocks Mark Time In Slow Session

NEW YORK (AP) — Another familiar quietly cautious session ran its course in the stock market Thursday with a slight selloff in the final hour.

The market showed considerable resistance to any deline, but whether it was resistance or sheer apathy was the question.

Oils displayed strength once during the day, as they did Wednesday But in the end they subsided and lost most of their gains with a few slipping to the losing side.

Railroads held steady through most of the session, and at the close they were down slightly, the same trend they followed Wednesday.

In fact Thursday's market was much the same as the day before wtih a final-hour selloff. But Thursday the decline was much less pronounced.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost only 10 cents at $106.10. The decline Wednesday was 60 cents.

The industrial component of the average lost 20 cents, and the rails lost 20 cents, while utilities held unchanged.

The list narrowed down to 1,052 individual issues on the tape compared with 1,071 issues Wednesday. Only 292 advanced while 467 declined with 18 new highs and 11 new lows for the year during the session.

The fact that the volume was so low bolstered Wall Street opinion that the market is marking time. Not until volume expands with a flourish, it is contended, will the market indicate which way it intends to break the current indecisive phase.

Curb stocks were pretty thoroughly mixed in active areas with trading amounting to 270,000 shares as compared with 280,000 shares.

THE OWNER

Who was Assistant Manager of one of Lincoln's leading department stores has been transferred to Iowa. It's tough for him to have to leave this distinctive home in Kimbalcrest, but it's a lucky break for you. Like a picture in a magazine are these livable rooms. A step up from the living room, with its recessed fireplace, takes you to the dining space which is lovely with grooved plywood walls. The breakfast nook is separated from the super kitchen by a stone planter. Three smart bedrooms. Here's a home with personality. Can you go see it now?

Foreign High Schoolers Visit Here

The flatness of the grain belt states, Americans' love for gadgets, the National Republican Convention and 'the Nebraska State Capitol were all points of keen interest among 36 foreign teenagers here Thursday.

Representatives of 13 countries, the students have completed one year of high school or prep school in the United States and are on a 24-day traveling scholarship tour of the U. S. before returning to their native lands.

The students who arrived in Lincoln Thursday make up one of six such groups now visiting communities throughout the country under the sponsorship of the American Field Service—an organization of volunteer war ambulance drivers.

See Country

Purpose of the six tours is to provide the students an opportunity to see the people, scenery, resources and industries of a large portion of the country.

Traveling with the students, who made Lincoln their 16th stop, are Peter Welgos and Miss Harriet C. Suydan, both of the American Field Service in New York.

Jens-Erik Fenstad, 17, of Trondheim in mountainous Norway, said, "Nebraska is too flat for me and the weather, too hot."

Fenstad, whose father is purchasing manager for a steamship company in Norway, said he was most impressed by the "Americans' efficiency and gadgets."

Follow Politics

He said all of the students have been following the Republican convention in Chicago with a keen interest. "Most of us are for Ike," he explained.

Jeltje Kekhuyzen, 18, daughter of a Zaandam, The Netherlands lawyer, said Nebraska "reminds me of Holland, with its flatness." When asked of her political views, Miss Dekhuyzen displayed an "I Like Ike" button.

Juan Maiguashca, 18, whose father is a teacher in Quito, Ecuador, said he was impressed with the originality shown in American architecture.

"Nebraska is nice, but you need more forests," was the comment of Jean Perrin, 19, of Lyon, France.

John R. Baylor, Lincoln attorney, Dr. Carl E. Borgmann and Dr. William E. Hall, both of the University of Nebraska, made arrangements for the students' entertainment in Lincoln. Dr. Borgmann's daughter is an exchange student of the AFS and is studying in Europe this summer.

Evangelical Free Church Set Up Here

Rev. Leonard Rev. Faugerstrom

The Evangelical Free Church will be established officially in Lincoln for the first time "within the near future."

A congregation of 25 is now meeting Wednesdays and Sundays with the new minister, Rev. J. R. Leonard, formerly of Lakota, N. D., at the YMCA, but it has not yet drawn a charter and elected officers of the church.

The new minister had sevred Congregational Churches in North Dakota the past 10 years. He was ordained in the Evangelical Free Church in 1942 at Aneta, N. D.

Rev. Leonard, a 31-year-old graduate of the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, has brought his wife, Etta Mae, and their two daughters, Kay, 7, and Sharon, 4, with him.

Rev. Leonard and his family will live at 1735 So. Cotner, at a home purchased by his congregation.

The local church-to-be is one of 30 churches in Nebraska in the Midwest District Conference with headquarters at Holdrege. Rev. H. A. Faugerstrom of Stromsburg is district superintendent.

Postal Reserve Unit To Train In Colorado

Leaving Saturday for two weeks training at Camp Carson, Colo., will be 10 Lincoln men in the postal unit which trains at the Army's Organized Reserve Corps building here.

The group includes Cpl. Al Emerson, Cpl. Harold G. Schwartz, Cpl. Leonard Vesina, Sgt. Duane Telacka, Cpl. Howard Galbraith, Sfc. R. Smith, Cpl. Marvin D. Elliott, M. Sgt. Don Mills, Sfc. Harold G. Olson and Capt. Clarence Meyers.

Training will include work in the postal facilities at Camp Carson. The men are employed in the Lincoln post office as clerks and carriers.

Judge In Iowa Rules Against Rice's Widow

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP)—A ruling that private corporations in Iowa may practice discrimination against minority groups in certain instances was on file in District Court Thursday.

District Judge Ralph Crary made the ruling in connection with one portion of a $180,000 damage suit filed by Mrs. Evelyn Rice of Winnebago, Neb., against a cemetery which declined to permit burial of her Indian war hero husband.

The burial rites last August for Sgt. John Rice, Winnebago Indian who was killed in the Korean War, were halted when Memorial Park Cemetery Association said the interment contract with the widow could not be carried out because its regulations forbade burial of non-Caucasians.

Judge Crary, in ruling on Mrs. Rice's contention that the racial discrimination clause in her contract violated Iowa law, the U. S. Constitution and the United Nations Charter, held that discrimination by a privately-owned cemetery was "not a matter of public policy."

GOP Ready To Go Home, But Bitterness Remains

By J. E. LAWRENCE
(Editor, The Lincoln Star)

CHICAGO—It was over, and by comparison to earlier turbulence, the Convention Hall was strangely silent with its thousands of delegates and visitors seeking to measure fully the nomination of a party candidate for President.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, after numerous changes by state delegations in the recorded vote, won by 845 to 280 for Bob Taft and 77 for Gov. Earl Warren.

Before those announced changes the roll call—there was only one—established Taft as the favorite with the delegations, frequently by narrow margins, in 25 of the 48 states. Eisenhower had the advantage in 21.

Earl Warren had the solid backing of California and Stassen most of the Minnesota delegates. It was Stassen's shift to Eisenhower which cinched it.

Eisenhower's victory can be attributed to support in six big delegations — New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Maryland and Texas. Actually it was New York's bloc of 92, standing firmly, carefully held in line by Gov. Tom Dewey, which spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

Without that support there would have been a different story. Amazingly, the final hours found Dewey the chief target of the Taft forces, a man on the sidelines but actually the central figure. It was New York which decided the earlier showdown on delegate contests.

Without Texas and Georgia, Eisenhower delegations in these two states being seated over the ruling of the Republican National Committee and the Convention's committee on credentials, Taft would have lead on the first ballot and neither man would have been within hailing distance of nomination.

On the offiical roll call, Nebraska cast 13 votes for Taft, the April primary winner; four for Eisenhower (Weaver, Carpenter, Reed and R. C. Johnson) and one for Warren (Simmons).

Three Nebraskans—Fred Marsh, Charles Thone, and Hughes joined the four Eisenhower delegates in between the first call and the final record vote.

The others, obedient to the instruction of the April primary which Sen. Taft won, remained firm. When Nebraska was called there was a demand for poll of the delegation, one of the relatively few states where there was insistence to place each delegate on record.

For the most part, the Nebraskans escaped some of the sharp undercurrents which injected themselves into the closing hours. R. C. Johnson and Terry Carpenter joined in the Eisenhower demonstration carrying banners. Carpenter had bought and paid for his out of his own pocket.

A woman spectator, a Nebraskan, spotting him, sent word to him by one of the pages that Nebraska liked Taft but Terry brushed it off. Mayor Glenn Cunningham of Omaha also had a minor run-in with some of the Nebraska alternates over putting a Nebraska standard in the Eisenhower demonstration.

Chairman Sam Reynolds displayed a sheath of telegrams he had received, with 47 for Taft and one for Eisenhower.

The tension broken, many delegates stormed the railroad stations to catch the first trains home. Through Sen. John Bricker, the Taft forces moved to make the nomination unanimous and were joined in it by California, the customary gesture of love and kisses.

It did not deceive many people in the Convention Hall, no matter how genuinely it expressed the feeling of the chief actors.

The hard core of the Old Guard had taken its fourth straight drubbing, perhaps the last, and its head was bloody but unbowed.

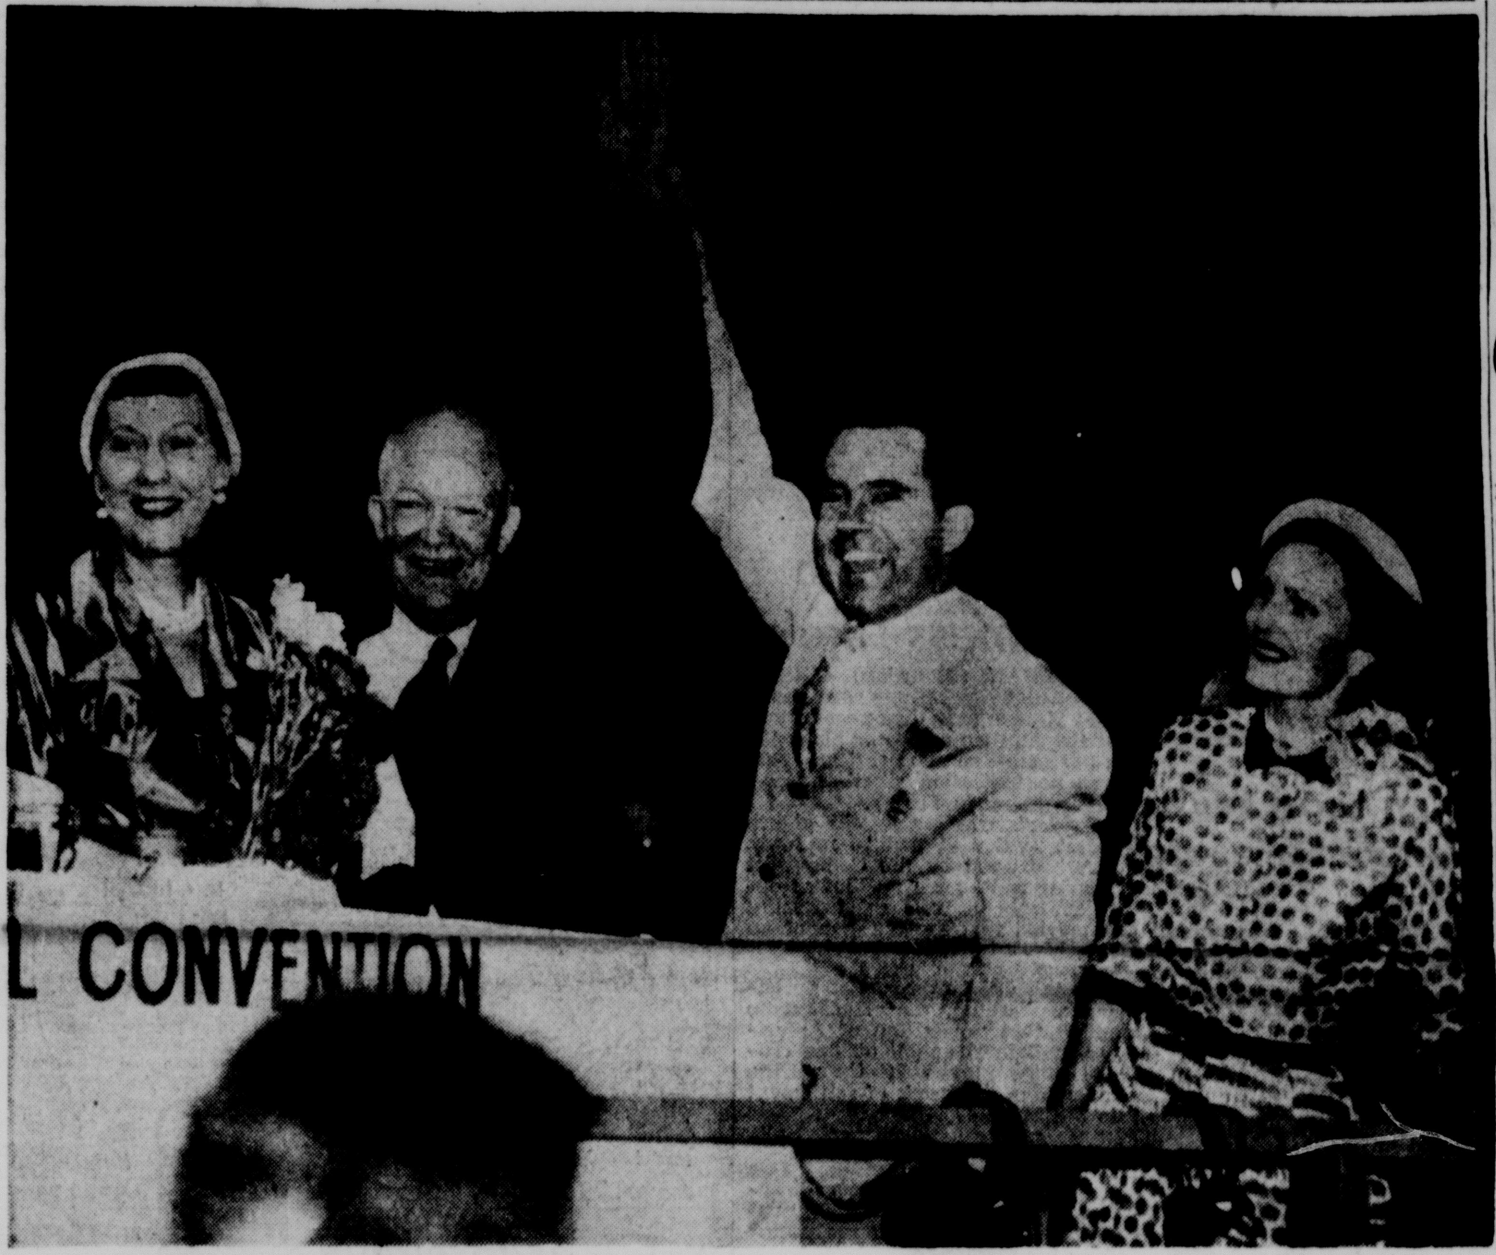
IKE, NIXON FACE DEMOS



GOP NOMINEES AND THEIR WIVES — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, GOP presidential nominee, had his hand held aloft by Sen. Both Set To Fight For GOP Victory

General Picks Californian After His First Ballot Blitz

BY BOB CONSIDINE

AMPHITHEATRE, CHICAGO (INS)—The GOP's new-found "one-two punch," Gen. Ike Eisenhower and California's boyish Sen. Dick Nixon, set out Friday night on a "fighting road" they promised would lead the Republicans to their first presidential election in nearly a quarter of a century.

The 62-year-old former supreme commander and his 39-year-old running mate who became the vice presidential choice when defeated Sen. Robert A. Taft declined the bid, won their banner-carrying roles at the climax of the stormiest GOP convention in years.

Eisenhower swept aside Taft, Gov. Earl Warren and Gen. Douglas MacArthur with a one-ballot triumph stimulated by the capitulation of dark horse Harold Stassen's Minnesota votes. The verdict then was made unanimous.

Gen. Eisenhower, a victor in politics as well as in war, appeared before the convention to make his acceptance speech and touched off a vigorous demonstration.

Ike, with Mamie at his side, strode the length of the big hall's center aisle while delegates shouted themselves hoarse. Even though the doors were opened to the general public at the last minute, the galleries were not filled. But the uproar was there.

End Finally Comes

The new candidate won another booming ovation when he finished his acceptance speech. And then, after Nixon added his acceptance pledge of a fighting campaign, the 1952 convention adjourned at 7:21 p.m. (CST).

Nixon apologized for his hoarseness and recalled to the delegates that he, too, knew the unyielding properties of the chairs on the floor. He pledged a fighting campaign that would, among other things, enable Joe Martin to swing a gavel as the speaker of the House, Sen. Styles Bridges to become majority leader in the Senate, and Sen. Taft to be the chairman of the Majority Policy Committee in the Senate.

He appealed to Republicans to "work. . . contribute. . . and vote," as he concluded his remarks.

The convention tempo picked up hurricane force in the closing hours. That it was going to be D-day (D for delegate) for Like was apparent almost before the balloting began.

The former supreme commander, making good his first bid for elective office, was nominated for President unanimously Friday.

He led his closest rival, Sen. Robert A. Taft, by 595 votes to 500 at the end of the first and only formal ballot—nine short of needed 604.

But dark horse Harold Stassen, abiding by an agreement made with the general Friday morning over a pot of tea, threw his Minnesota votes to Eisenhower and put him over the top before a second ballot could be called.

The Minnesota capitulation opened the flood gates and swept way all possibility that any candidate except Ike would be the party's standard-bearer. When all states had been given a chance to change their minds, if they pleased, the totals stood:

Eisenhower	845
Taft	280
Gov. Warren	77
Gen MacArthur	4

Moves For Unanimity

And then while a sometimes tearful victor and phlegmatic loser shook hands in Taft's downtown headquarters, the curiously placid convention hall relaxed to await the formal surrender of the Ohio senator, beaten for the nomination for the fourth and announced last time in his life.

It was soon forthcoming. Taft's sombre-faced senator colleague, John Bricker, moved that the nomination be made unanimous. The motion was seconded by Gov. Warren's representative, Sen. Bob Knowland.

The "ayes" had it, easily. But there were a few muffled "nays" and it was noticed that Ohio, Illinois and several other Midwestern delegations made no visible effort to join in the pleas of Bricker and Knowland to end the discord that has rent the convention and to concentrate on "routing the rascals."

Nixon's selection as running mate by acclamation was the gesture of a convention tired of wrangling and eager to rid the party of the "old fogey" label successfully pinned on it by triumphant Democrats of the past generation. Homesickness sped his nomination, too.

A brief and futile effort was made by the GOP hierarchy to persuade Taft to take second place. But the senator felt he could better serve the party from his strategic position in the Senate.

The Nixon drive was on immediately. By the time the delegates reassembled after an afternoon recess, "the word" had spread. The briskly friendly Nixon was cheered and serenaded when he appeared on the floor of the evening session, and had difficulty getting to his seat in the California delegation.

The boyish-looking Californian, would have been nominated a bit sooner, save for ex-Congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce.

Wanted Mrs. Smith

Mrs. Luce, an ornament in the Connecticut delegation, spoke briefly in behalf of the vice presidential candidacy of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

She had hoped to place Mrs. Smith's name before the convention at the request of "hundreds of Republican women." But Mrs. Smith had called her off in the interests of "harmony."

Nixon was nominated by acclamation, a measure proposed by Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania—who sounded like a happy Chamber of Commerce man when he told the delegates that Nixon's parents have a farm in Pennsylvania, as does Eisenhower. Sen. Knowland seconded, and the people yelled it official.

Chairman Martin's gavel moved the convention swiftly toward its conclusion.

He said he felt that as long as Nixon was in the hall, he might as well come up and let the people see him.

Mrs. Nixon is a pretty blonde with a smile as easy as her husband's. She bussed Joe Martin, a perennially eligible bachelor, and then her husband, and was certainly the most radiantly happy woman on earth.

Eisenhower, In Accepting Call Of GOP, Asks Nation To Follow Him In 'Crusade'

AMPHITHEATRE, CHICAGO (INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower appeared before the Republican convention Friday night and pledged in a ringing speech accepting the presidential nomination to lead a "crusade" against the Democratic administration.

Eisenhower, in his first appearance before the 1,206 delegates who earlier had bestowed upon him the highest honor in their power, called on all GOP workers "from the precinct level up" to give "even greater devotion to this cause."

At the scene of his greatest civilian triumph, Eisenhower declared:

"I know something of the solemn responsibility of leading a crusade. I have led one. I take up this task, therefore, in a spirit of deep obligation. Mindful of its decisive importance: I accept your summons. I will lead this crusade."

Eisenhower aimed heavy blows at the present administration in Washington.

He said:

"Our aims—the aims of this Republican crusade are clear: to sweep from office an administration which has fastened on every one of us the wastefulness, the arrogance and corruption in high places, the heavy burdens and the anxieties which are the bitter fruit of a party too long in power.

"Much more, it is our aim to give to our country a program of progressive policies drawn from our finest Republican traditions; to unite us wherever we have been divided; to strengthen freedom wherever among any group it has been weakened; to build a sure foundation for sound prosperity for all here at home and for a just and sure peace in our world."

Stresses U. S. Power

Eisenhower spoke of the power of the United States and how it should be used to find a solution to the critical cold-war situation facing the world. He said:

"We must use our power wisely for the good of all our people. If we do this, we will open a road into the future on which today's Americans, young and old, and the generations that come after them, can go forward—go forward to a life in which there will be a far greater abundance of material, cultural and spiritual rewards than our forefathers or we ever dreamed of.

"We can then so undergird our freedom that today's aggressors and those who tomorrow may rise up to threaten us, will not merely be deterred but stopped in their tracks. Then we will at last be on the road to real peace."

The former Allied commander in Europe called on the youth of America to join the "Republican crusade" as well as all persons in all walks of life and economic and social divisions of the country.

He said:

"Americans in every walk of life can have confidence that our single-minded purpose is to serve their interest, guard and extend their rights, and strengthen the America we love."

Eisenhower called not only for a national victory in November, but said to achieve the aims of the Republican party, "We must have total victory" in state and local offices as well.

He pledged an all-out fight for a Republican victory, saying:

"Today is the first day of our battle. The road that leads to Nov. 4 is a fighting road. In that fight I will keep nothing in reserve."

He informed the convention of his earlier "peace" talk with his defeated rival, Sen. Robert A. Taft, and of conferences with Gov. Warren of California and Harold Stassen, two other defeated GOP presidential aspirants.

He said:

"I wanted them to know, as I want you now to know, that in the hard fight ahead we will work intimately together to promote the principles and aims of our party.

"I was strengthened and heartened by their instant agreement to support this cause to the utmost. Their co-operation means that the Republican party will unitedly move forward to a sweeping victory."

In conclusion, Eisenhower said: "It is more than a nomination that I accept today. It is a dedication—a dedication to the shining promise of tomorrow. As together we face that tomorrow, I beseech the prayers of all our people, and the blessing and guidance of almighty God."

Bomber Down Near Alaska

EDMONTON (AP) — A United States Air Force B-17 search bomber has been reported wrecked 30 miles northeast of Snag, near the Yukon-Alaska border, with at least five survivors in the crew of eight or nine.

The plane previously was reported overdue on a flight from Elmendorf Air Force Base near Anchorage, Alaska, to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, 1,000 miles north of Edmonton.

The plane was assigned to the U. S. 10th Rescue Unit at Elmendorf.

It was searching for a Canadian Mitchell bomber which disappeared June 30 with four men aboard.

Apartment Fire Here Does Little Damage

A fire in an apartment at the President Apartments at 1340 J, caused "probably by a match or cigaret" according to Assistant Fire Chief J. G. Schmidt, did little damage Friday night.

The origin of the fire was a waste basket under the sink. The bottom of the sink was scorched and the waste container, a card board box, demolished.

The apartment was occupied by Faye Nelson and Audrey McCull.

Bill For Air Base Funds Is Unsigned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The President has not yet signed the bill which provides about 7¼ million dollars for the Lincoln, Neb., Air Force Base.

An Associated Press story had incorrectly reported that the Lincoln Air Base appropriation was included in the bill signed Thursday by the President providing $46,600,000,000 in defense funds.

The Lincoln appropriation is contained in a supplemental bill.

Congress authorized $9,093,000 for the air base but the Air Force must ask again to get the difference between the authorized amount and that actually appropriated.

City Nets $5,040 On Barracks Sale

The sale of 25 barracks at Huskerville has netted the city $5,040.

Sold at public auction Friday afternoon, the old Build-It-Yourself housing units brought an average price of $205. The highest price was $250 and the lowest $175.

City Treasurer Frank J. Miller stated the average sale price was a little better than the last auction. Another sale of 25 units to be held later this month will completely clear the area.

The money credited to the Housing Authority on its debt to the city for the purchase of Huskerville properties.

Day Filled With Emotion

Loses Self-Control

CHICAGO (INS)—Gen. Eisenhower broke down and wept on learning that he had been nominated for President by the GOP.

Tears filled his eyes and he went to the next room to be with his wife, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

Capitalizes On Choice

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — The phrase "Ike wins" was too prosaic for one Indianapolis newspaper boy. Selling his special Ike victory editions on crowded Monument Circle in the center of the Hoosier capital city, the newsboy repeatedly cried: "Eisenhower's got Truman's pajamas. He's going to sleep in the White House."

Goes Into Seclusion

NEW YORK (INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, keynoter at the GOP convention and a Taft backer, declined to see reporters or issue a statement on Gen. Eisenhower's nomination.

Regrets Outcome

CHICAGO (INS) — Charles P. Taft, brother of Sen. Taft and GOP candidate for governor of Ohio, expressed regret at his brother's defeat but pledged vigorous support of Gen. Eisenhower.

The gubernatorial nominee, whose policies often have been in sharp conflict with his brother's, issued the following statement:

"Because of Bob and Martha," he said, "I am deeply regretful of the result. . . But I give my heartiest congratulations to Gen. Eisenhower and pledge my vigorous support in Ohio of his candidacy."

Forget Neutrality

TOKYO (Saturday) (INS) — The newspaper Yomiuri quoted Japanese foreign office sources today as saying they expected Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to win the presidential race in the United States.

It was the first comment attributed to Japanese government quarters on the U. S. political situation.

West Europe Hails Eisenhower Choice

Feeling Prevails That U.S. Aid To Continue Regardless Of Which Party Wins Election

By KINGSBURY SMITH

PARIS (INS)—America's European allies have hailed the nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Republican presidential candidate with a deep sigh of relief.

Ike's victory encouraged the belief that current American policy on foreign aid and global defense will be continued regardless of which party wins the election in November.

The great mass of people in free Europe felt gratification over the Chicago convention result because of their admiration for Eisenhower and the conviction that he knows and understands their problems.

Allied governmental leaders generally were pleased because they felt the United States now is unlikely to shift the emphasis from a "Europe first" to an "Asia first" policy.

French Set Theme

Western Europe's attitude was summed up in an editorial appearing in the French provincial newspaper La Montagne. It said realization of Sen. Taft's policy would have meant "a maximum effort in Korea with all its consequences."

The newspaper expressed the belief that an Eisenhower victory in November will assure "maintenance of American forces in Europe."

The West German government was jubilant as Bonn officials expect that Ike's nomination victory will result in swift ratification by the German parliament of the West German peace contract and the European army treaty.

Avoid Direct Comment

Many officials, however, refrained from direct comment on Ike's first-ballot triumph on the grounds it might be construed as interference in the internal politics of the United States.

But their private views were reflected in the informal remark of French Defense Minister Rene Pleven:

"He brought out the best in all of us and thus gave substance to the idea of unification effort."

In Rome, official Italian government circles were reported elated over the choice of Eisenhower as the Republican standard-bearer because he is looked upon there as an "internationalist." The Eisenhower victory was said to have been well-received in the Vatican.

Party Jobs Available For Pair

Weeks, Summerfield May Receive Reward

CHICAGO (AP)—A new Republican National Committee was formally named Friday night, and Arthur Summerfield of Michigan was reliably reported to be in line for the chairmanship.

Summerfield, whose last-minute public swing to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower added firepower to the general's first ballot blitz at the national convention, was said to be the first choice for the job if he wants it.

Also in line for a prominent role in the Eisenhower campaign is another supporter who gave the general's nomination campaign help at critical points—Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts. He recently came out for the general and urged Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio to withdraw from the race.

Likely Second Choice

There had been speculation earlier that Weeks might be in line for the chairmanship, and he still seemed a likely choice if Summerfield didn't want it.

Leaders close to Eisenhower said either man could have his choice of jobs. They added that the two probably will sit down with the general to talk the matter over before the National Committee meets Saturday to reorganize.

At that time a successor for Guy E. Gabrielson, present chairman, will be chosen and the first move made to add about 31 members to the committee.

South's Influence Dwindles

These will be the state chairmen of those states which elected (A) Republican governors or (B) a GOP majority among their members of Congress.

This will lessen the influence of Southern members of the committee. It also will put men in the majority on the committee, which previously had been divided equally among men and women with one from each state.

Choice of Weeks or Summerfield for national chairman would mean an extensive reorganization of the committee and a radical change in its policies.

Judge Advises Not Guilty Plea For Fighting Youth

Judge John Jacobson advised a slightly-built young man to change his plea to "not guilty" of disturbing the peace by fighting after looking over his two husky but battered antagonists, who were both sailors.

"You might deserve a medal instead of a fine," the Municipal Court judge told the unmarked youth. "I think we should bring out the facts in this case."

Both other men arraigned on the same charge pleaded not guilty. One sported a blackened eye and cut from the incident which occurred early Thursday morning.

The bruises were pointed out as evidence by the attorney for the two after it was announced that the trial would be postponed until July 15.

Ike Wants 'Veep' To Move Harry's Piano, Hope Says

By BOB HOPE

CHICAGO (INS)—Well, Eisenhower is in. Then they named Nixon the Vice-President. Ike didn't really care who's Vice-President—all he wants to know is can he help move a piano.

The convention ended just in time. Everybody had lost their voice. Friday morning when the chairman called the meeting to order he sounded like a bull frog being pulled through a knothole.

The convention consumed a tremendous amount of food—80,000 hotdogs, 10,000 hamburgers and four delegates are missing.

Taft put up a great fight and I understand he's going to get a real big job out of the convention anyway. The Puerto Rican delegation is going to hire him for a straight man.

There is a report from Washington that President Truman just sent Gen. Vaughan on a vacation. Right now Harry is allergic to anybody in a uniform.

State High Court Affirms District Action In 5 Cases

In five apepals in which the state Supreme Court gave decisions Friday, all affirmed the actions of the District Courts.

Setting aside of the Workmen's Compensation Court award to Mrs. Alcie McCoy against the Gooch Milling and Elevator Co., as a result of the death of her husband, Lloyd A. McCoy, was affirmed.

McCoy fell from a ladder while working on the sixth floor of the company's mill in April, 1950. He died following an operation two weeks later.

The court concluded the accident "in no way affected the hernial condition which led to the operation.

The 10-year sentence imposed on Merle Onstott in Banner County on a charge of assault with intent to commit rape was affirmed.

Other cases affirmed:

Butler County: Upholds dismissal of appeal in a will contest in the estate of John R. Vandermeulen. Suit was brought by Hattie E. Hill against C. M. Humlicek et al.

Scotts Bluff: Judgment of $20,000 given the Scottsbluff National Bank against Blue J. Foods, Inc., upheld.

Scotts Bluff: Upheld verdict in favor of Scottsbluff National Bank in suit brought by Blue J. Foods, Inc., which charged an officer of the company unlawfully withdrew company funds for personal use.

Omaha Elevators Prepare For Big Flow Of New Wheat

Omaha elevators prepared Friday for what may be a record influx of new wheat this week end as Lincoln elevators generally reported they had reached the tail end of their rush.

In Omaha the Association of American Railroads reported there were 1,176 unloaded cars on hand in the Omaha-Council Bluffs area. Thursday's receipts totaled 581 cars and unloading accounted for 384 cars.

The big rush in the Lincoln area came during the last two weeks. Farmers Co-op Grain Company in Waverly reported the largest take of dry wheat ever in that time.

Spotted trouble in obtaining cars was reported, but heavy storage of new wheat took off some pressure for empty cars in Lincoln.

Last Monday's receipts of 913 cars of wheat were the largest in recent years in the Omaha market.

FIRST NIGHTERS—More than 3,000 music lovers of all ages watching a first night performance of Victor Herbert's immortal "Naughty Marietta," at Pinewood Bowl. (Star Photo.)

Pinewood's Production Pleases All

By RAY SCHAUMBURG

The large crowd which attended the opening night performance of "Naughty Marietta" at Pinewood Bowl was not the type of purist that looks down its nose at Victor Herbert.

This large and responsive audience found the opening night performance most enjoyable, overlooking the several inevitable hitches that always accompany opening night.

True enough, Herbert's music is a sort of frosting, but it is a most excellent frosting and well worth a listener's time.

The production, directed by Prof. Oscar Bennett, starred Miss Virginia Ralles in the title role of Marietta, and she was never lovelier. She looked and acted the part beautifully, but what is more, she sang the role beautifully.

Mr. Helmut "Hal" Sienknecht sang the role of Captain Dick. His singing and acting were on a par with Miss Ralles' stage work. He is not a tenoro robusto but he uses his fine lyric voice to the utmost advantage and his acting was as professional as anyone could expect.

The comedy accolades go to Miss Arlene Stetina, who played the part of Lizette to hilarious perfection, chasing men throughout, and to Mr. Ned Conger, who played the part of Silas Slick, Captain Dick's servant.

Others in the cast: Lt. Gov. Grandel played ably by Edwin King, Sir Harry Blake played by Ray Barnette, Roudolpho played by Eugene Kuyper, who handled his foreign dialogue better than anyone else, in the entire cast; Adah played by Beverly Shumann, Nanette played by Jean Lindstrom, Felice, who was played by Sylvia Slater, Florenze played by Clair Rickel, and Graziella by Marian Greenwood.

The chorus was large and at the opening unwieldy, with too many missed cues and too much aimless wandering about the stage. But the finales at the end of the first and second acts were well done.

The orchestra, too, missed some minor cues and at times sounded rather overbalance by strings.

But these were but opening night hitches, and will probably be rectified in following performances.

And those who have not seen the operetta should make it a point to, for they will certainly find it a pleasurable and memorable experience.

New Strike Settlement Offer Seen

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top officials of several big steel companies and the striking CIO United Steelworkers held a 90-minute meeting Friday amid reports a new offer may be made to end the 40-day old strike.

There was no report of progress in the second consecutive day of secret huddles.

After a morning meeting, industry and union negotiators held separate sessions.

Emerging from a conference room Friday night where he had been conferring with other union officials, steelworkers president Philip Murray declared:

"I have nothing to report on today's meeting with industry and that's that."

Spokesmen for the industry refused comment after their separate meeting. An aide explained they feel greater progress can be made toward ending the nationwide walkout if no statements are issued.

Ike's 'Lack Of Color' Once Worried Pentagon

It was during World War II.

A worried public relations officer at the Pentagon told newspapermen:

We are going to name a little known officer to a big job.

He is a military expert, an all around good man.

But there's one unfortunate thing—he's pretty colorless and doesn't have an appealing personality.

His nickname might help. It's Ike.

800 Planes Hit Korea's Red Capital

Raids Among Biggest Ones Of Korean War

SEOUL. (Saturday). (INS)—Nearly 800 Allied warplanes smashed Communist military depots in North Korean Friday and Friday night in two of the biggest air raids on the war.

More than 700 planes in two great waves blasted targets in and around the North Korean capital of Pyongyang during daylight hours Friday.

At night, 65 Japan and Okinawa-based Superforts rained explosives on other Communist installations at Pyongyang, Hamhung, Kyomipo and Sinmak. Pyongyang got the worst of it again with 45 tons of bombs.

The B-29 assault, greatest night air raid of the Korean War, was led by Col. Winton R. Close of Los Angeles, Calif. He reported excellent results and said fires started in the daytime raids were still burning when the B-29s flew over the target areas.

The night raiders encountered moderate flak and observed Red night fighters but none of the enemy planes made a firing pass.

An Allied air officer said the massive day and night raids would have a direct effect on armistice negotiations at Panmunjom.

He said they were part of Gen. Mark W. Clark's campaign to knock out tremendous Red buildups accomplished during the year-old truce talks.

North Korean and Chinese Communist military headquarters in the North Korean capital were among the targets. Other targets were blasted in the Hwangju and Sariwon areas.

The Air Force said extra precautions were taken to avoid hitting a prisoner of war camp southeast of Pyongyang where many captured Allied soldiers are held.

Some of the planes were from the British carrier HMS Ocean off the Korean west coast. U.S. Navy pilots flew from the carriers Bon Homme Richard and Princeton.

The attack was in three-waves —392fighter-bombersin the first —392 fighter-bombers in the first, U.S. Sabre Jets and Australian Meteors flew protective cover.

Truce Huddle 'Business-Like'

MUNSAN (Saturday) (INS)—An Allied spokesman said today that Korean armistice negotiations at Panmunjom are going along "in a business-like manner" but there was no indication whether progress was made Friday.

Friday's meeting — the eighth secret session—lasted 26 minutes.

A broadcast by the Communist Peiping radio gave no hint of developments in the meetings but reiterated that the question of an armistice hinges on the secret sessions.

In the usual Communist propaganda fashion, the Red radio added that "repetition of American unilateral action at this crucial stage may well throw the talks from the brink of settlement to the brink of collapse."

Finds Himself Upset

CHICAGO (INS)—Gen. Eisenhower has admitted he is "a little bewildered, upset and uncertain" over his nomination.

Jubilant Abilene Greets Ike's Win With Rousing Celebration

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's nomination for President set off a rousing celebration in his hometown.

Crowds gathered quickly in the downtown district as the news spread that Gen. Ike had been named the Republican party's standard bearer on the first ballot at the Chicago convention.

There was shouting—and happy smiles — on every side. People grabbed each other and pumped hands.

Blasts from the air raid whistle at the fire station and ringing of the fire alarm got the celebration rolling.

Appearing quickly were banners, placards and posters left over from Eisenhower's visit to his home in June when he formally entered the presidential race. Signs read, "I Like Ike" and "Win With Ike."

Automobiles filled with celebrators began filing through the streets immediately.

Traffic At Standstill

A band was formed within 15 minutes after Eisenhower was nominated. The musicians just grabbed their instruments, got together and began playing in the heart of the business district. The crowd blocked traffic.

Just about every store in town had a radio, and clusters of people gathered about them as the roll was called in Chicago. When the decision was announced, the groups burst into cheers — and poured out onto the streets.

Draft Of New Sunday Closing Law Studied

A new Sunday closing ordinance for Lincoln businesses has been submitted to members of the City Council for study for possible action on Monday.

City Attorney C. Russell Mattson has drafted and sent out the document. The basis of the new law, said Mattson, is a provision forbidding drug stores and other firms from selling items on Sunday that are sold by establishments which must close on the Sabbath.

Drug stores, under the new law, said Mattson, could not sell appliances, hardware items, groceries and similar merchandise on Sundays.

The only exception to the law provides that a merchant, for religious reasons only, may close his shop or business on Saturday and remain open on Sunday for the sale of the above items.

The city's existing Sunday closing ordinance has been declared unconstitutional in part by the Supreme Court. A new law has been advocated by both grocers and hardware merchants.

Two Injured Slightly

Two women were treated for minor injuries received when their automobile crashed into a tree on D Street between 33rd and Elmwood.

Police said Mrs. Reha Kuklin, 37, of 1042 So. 31st told them fire from her cigaret dropped on her lap. When she reached down the automobile swerved and hit the tree. She was treated for cut knee and her passanger, Faye Klein, 26, of Chicago was treated for a bruised chin.

'Council Won't Get Fluoridation Resolution'

Sheaff Will Seek Delay Of Proposal

By BILL DOBLER
(Star Staff Writer)

City Councilman Roy Sheaff reports he will not bring up his resolution Monday for approval of fluoridation of the city's water supply and will request it be delayed if brought up by any other Council member.

Sheaff said he wanted to give medical and dental men an opportunity to study and submit an answer to the proposed Jeary amendment to the resolution.

Members of the medical and dental profession have stated that, whether deliberate or not, the amendment is "just another stall" and a way to kill fluoridation.

The amendment provides that no fluoridation equipment shall be purchased until the dean of the University of Nebraska Medical College and the director of the state and City-County Health Department file written proof that no ill effects will result.

Sufficient Tests

Sheaff and members of the medical profession made it clear they had no fear of the amendment in itself but felt that it would delay fluoridation possibly "75 to 80 years."

"We feel," stated Dr. Merritt C. Pedersen, "that sufficient tests and experiments have already been made. There have been no ill effects found due to fluorine where people have had the chemical in their water naturally all their lives."

And from Dr. Ralph Ludwick Jr. came assurance that there is no difference in artificial or natural fluorine content in the water.

No reputable chemists or medical men, said Dr. Ludwick, have been able to find any indication that the end results of natural and artificial fluoridation are in any way different.

Dr. Thompson Agrees

Agreeing wholeheartedly with the above statements was Dr. J. R. Thompson, director of the dental health division of the State Department of Health.

"These people raise these questions," commented Dr. Thompson, "but fail to submit any evidence to support their implications."

Over 200 communities have voted in favor of fluoridation, he said, and it has been tested for the past 10 years.

The Council is believed to be split on the fluoridation issue with those in opposition to the measure probably in a three to four majority at this time.

Sen. Nixon Told His Policies Here

Sen. Richard Nixon, nominated Friday for vice-president by the Republican National Convention, spoke here, March 19, 1951, outlining his ideas on the need for GOP victory.

He said the party "must be prepared to be faced by a much stronger candidate than Mr. Truman in 1952."

In calling for a successful GOP policy, Sen. Nixon told Lincolnites that the Republican party might possibly win the 1952 presidential election by simply continuing "to point out the failures of the present administration."

He said that a national policy—one that "we as Republicans and Americans" can support—must be effective in keeping militarily strong, in keeping the national economy of the United States strong, in providing an effective program of internal security and in winning the ideological struggle which is going on all over the world.

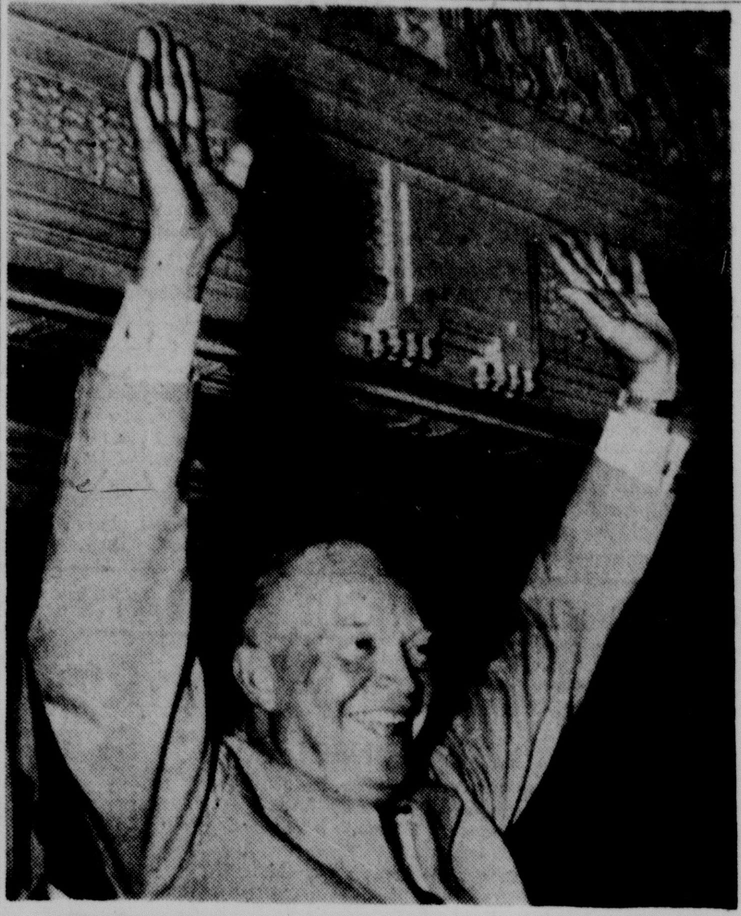
Nixon recommended that the nation's policy program be taken out of the hands of the state department, and set up as an agency similar to the ECA.

Pair Say Not Guilty Of Assault On Relative

Two Lincolnites, Ernest Campbell, 25, and Donald Johnson, 20, both of 2304 No. 70th, pleaded not guilty in County Court to charges of assault and battery upon Robert Campbell, 23, their brother and brother-in-law, respectively.

The alleged incident occurred in Robert Campbell's back yard at 220 West South following an argument over a family automobile. Robert Campbell appeared at the county attorney's office with head swathed in bandages and claiming a broken jaw.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin set preliminary hearing for Saturday morning.



IKE THE VICTOR . . . out of swaddling clothes? . . . (AP Wirephoto Friday night.)

Ike's First Ballot Triumph Surprises Most Lincolnites

Lincoln pro-Taftites, riders of the Eisenhower bandwagon and even the "interested bystanders" of Democratic affiliation — all seemed to have one thing in common Friday. They were surprised that Ike's nomination had been accomplished on the first ballot.

And surprise was not the only element figuring into the picture. Some, especially Democrats, felt that the Republican party's presidential nominee spelled "tough fight ahead" for their party.

The Lincoln housewife in the midst of a washing, the attorney briefing his next case and the harassed businessmen, all seemed to receive the news with surprise, according to a Star survey.

"I didn't expect to see anyone win on the first ballot," said Roy A. Sheaff, president of the Lancaster County Young Republicans.

"I think the nomination of Gen. Eisenhower will make for a strong candidate—one which the Republicans will rally around to win the election in November," he said.

A leading Democrat in Lincoln, Clarence Miles, former mayor and a candidate for Congress, received the news and respectfully commented:

"I must congratulate the Republican party for nominating a man of his calibre. I think the paramount issue is an international one—and Eisenhower is well-versed upon that. For the first time, I think the Republican party has laid aside its swaddling clothes and become a real opponent."

Miles' feeling was re-echoed by Charles Ledwith, attorney and former chairman of the Young Democrats organization of Nebraska.

Other reactions from officials and laymen:

Attorney General C. S. Beck, North Platte: "Gen Eisenhower is a strong candidate and one who can unite the party. From the very beginning, I predicted it on the second ballot and I was wrong."

County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener: "Eisenhower is an excellent choice because he appeals to the independent voter and the Republican party needs the independent voter to win."

Robert N. Jennings, 532 C: "Eisenhower wasn't my candidate, but I guess I'll support the majority's choice."

County Clerk J. B. Morgan: "The Republicans made a mistake. Gen. Eisenhower is of much greater value in Europe than he would be as president, but I will support him, however."

Mrs. Guy J. Crook, 1837 Otoe: "The results suit me fine, so far. But I wasn't too much surprised."

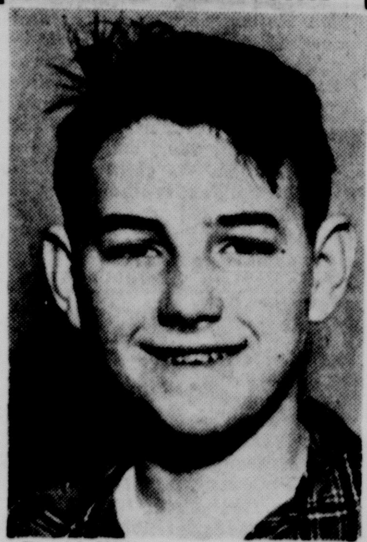
Mrs. S. E. Tooey, 1435 Smith: "I liked the news very much, but I'm a Democrat."

Mrs. Ralph Queen, 825 So. 35th: "I'm very happy about the way things have turned out."

Others who were in accord with the convention's selection included Mrs. Harold Prince, Grand Island, chairman State Board of Control and County Treasurer C. E. Berg, who earlier favored Taft.

Rev. Carroll H. Lemon, executive secretary of the Nebraska Council of Churches, called Ike the "most popular" GOP candidate but expressed concern over UMT and having a military man for president.

Meet STAR Carrier David Wilhelm



David Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilhelm J., 2119 So. 9th is The Star carrier of the week. He has been carrying Route 641 since last January.

David is 14 and will be in the ninth grade at Irving Junior High School next September.

He is an ardent fisherman and enjoys playing baseball very much. With his profits, which are about $26 a month, he buys most of his own clothes, with some cash left over for recreation.

Any boy wishing to provide himself with a background for a sound business future may gain the necessary experience by having a paper route. Boys interested in a Lincoln Star route should apply to The Lincoln Star office, 926 P. If you live outside Lincoln, write to The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb., about having a route in your town.

First Ballot Nominations Not Uncommon; Total: 23

Nominations on the first ballot as standard bearers for political parties are not uncommon. Between 1856 and 1932, there were 13 nominations on the first ballot by Republican conventions, including that of William Howard Taft when first nominated.

Democratic conventions during that period appeared more stormy with only nine first ballot nominations, including William Jennings Bryan by acclamation in 1900.

In 1936, Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated on the first ballot. The Democrats also hold the record for the longest deadlock, 103 votes being required in 1924 before John W. Davis became the compromise nominee with former Nebraska governor Charles Bryan as his runningmate.

'Joy Riding' Brings Jail Sentence And Fine Here

A 28-year-old Lincolnite has been sentenced to three months in County Jail and given a $100 fine for joy riding by County Judge Herbert A. Ronin.

William S. Harding, Milner Hotel, reportedly got the car from a local garage employe, a 17-year-old, who was placed on probation to Adult Probation Officer George Meyer.

Harding said he went to the garage when the youth was employed and asked for a car. He said the youth gave him a new model car, belonging to W. H. Raymond, who had left his car there overnight.

$10,000 Damage Suit Filed

Hubert Knapp has filed suit against Vern Finley for $10,000 claiming injuries in connection with a June 25 auto accident near 21st and P. He also requested $500 for damages to his car.

MiLLER & PAiNE
"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

For A Fresh Smiling Face

By J. E. LAWRENCE

CHICAGO—High adventure is not new to the Republican nominee for the presidency, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. He has lived it ever so fully. He enters upon what may prove to be the greatest adventure of all to the throaty acclaim of hundreds of his countrymen, to whom his name spells affection and esteem.

★

It would be most ungracious and unfair to underestimate the amazing impression Gen. Eisenhower made upon the convention which nominated him. The name itself, more than the man of flesh and blood, was magic. Here was a winner, a standard bearer with a story of unbroken success, and the most dominant undercurrent—which asserted itself in the votes and the addresses of the convention time and again—were thoughts of a winner. Ike's politics, what little the public knows of them, were secondary. Victory was the thing. He owes his triumph to the belief of a convention majority that he is a man who can lead his party out of the wilderness.

★

I chanced to find myself early this morning after a long night session near a street corner not far from the convention hall, looking for a cab. Luck was with me. On my heels was a group of four men bent on the same errand. I invited them to share the cab. One was Sen. Joe McCarthy. The other three were his friends. They were talking of the convention. Two weeks ago Bob Taft had his fight won, they opined. They are right. Even ten days ago Taft was high man on the totem pole. Then the Texas and Georgia contests gave the Eisenhower people the opening and they made the most of it. In the news columns these circumstances are set forth fully.

★

As a candidate Gen. Eisenhower has several advantages few men enjoy. First is the absence of a political record. He cannot be subjected to fire for what he has or has not done. Second is a name known to all Americans. Third is a truly vibrant personality, symbolic of good will towards his fellow men. Finally it should be recognized by political friend and foe alike that the Republican nominee is a wholesome man, devoted to the service of his country. Those are sound resources upon which to build.

★

From his fragmentary expression of views of national policy, sometimes confusing and at all times carefully screened, it is difficult to classify Dwight Eisenhower's Republicanism. He likes to think of himself as a liberal. He never refers to politics without referring to his liberalism. On foreign policy his international position is clearly defined and in sharp conflict with a very powerful element within the party which nominated him. In the domestic field he will start a little to the right of Taft.

★

It will take patience on his part and he has patience. It will call for amicability to heal the deep, red scars of a week of battle, and he has that. It will take a resolute determination to shape Republican policy and that will be his most severe test. His infectious smile, warm and genuine, will take him a long way but it alone will not lead him to his goal. What has happened could be labelled a skirmish, and the skirmishes must be won before the battle can be.

★

The hardest part of it all is ahead. Ike likes people and a President must not like those around him too much. In a saddening sense a man seeing the presidency or occupying it must accept the great loneliness of the presidency. Gen. Eisenhower, the most companionable of men, giving and enjoying friendship, has that ahead. This hour that follows nomination should be free that he may taste fully in the humility of the spirit the trust and hopes showered upon him by his countrymen.

What To Use For Money?

If the American people undertake an experiment as a substitute for the nominating convention to select a President and a vice president one of the chief reasons for that innovation will be the high cost of the convention system. It is not merely a cheap dollar; it is more that the pace is getting swifter.

★

A poor man without rich and powerful friends hasn't a chance. We doubt that anyone will ever know the huge sums of money poured out in recent days in order to select a candidate for the Republican party. There was nothing illegal about it. It is a part of the system, fully recognized and accepted at face value. In the press stands were a good many newspapermen who have been attending these national conventions for many years. The man working next to us was here in Chicago 40 years ago for the convention of 1912. That was bitterly contested, resulted in the formation of a new party which lived briefly, and then was forgotten. We are inclined to believe that the expenditures made in behalf of the two leading candidates exceeded by far all of the spending in 1912, and probably was greater than at any convention ever held in this country. At least that was my neighbor's judgment, and not only his but the opinion of a large section of the press.

★

At the hotel where we are stopping great bundles of mail piled up. It costs a lot of money to print tons of literature and to distribute it to hundreds of persons. The telegraph wires were cluttered with their burden of messages to the delegates to the convention. There was something bigger and better than the Willkie "blitz." The long distance telephone rang incessantly. But that was only a small part of the spending which took place.

★

There was a great deal of ingenuity revealed in the badges and buttons and favors distributed freely on a grand scale.

★

One of the most interesting developments was the employment of large numbers of young men and young women to conduct cheering sections at the hotels where delegates were quartered. Some of them were unpaid—volunteer workers for the cause—But we suspect that the majority were not. We talk a great deal about bringing government to the people. It is a costly job at best, and on the level slightly below the best it can be most cynical.

★

Neither side lacked for money in the Republican National Convention. Both the Taft forces and the Eisenhower supporters were well supplied. And there is where the mounting cost of conducting an adequate campaign poses a real threat. Ordinarily the big contributors to campaigns do not do so out of goodness of heart. They expect something in return. That something may not be political recognition for themselves—usually those who shell out the dough are not thinking of individual terms. They expect to have a voice in government. They expect to have something to do with the shaping of policy. They anticipate that national welfare will be interpreted in the terms of their own views.

★

We doubt seriously that a preferential primary system provides the answer. One of the chief objections to substituting the preferential primary is that it would only aggravate rather than cure the existing situation. On the hopeful side, abuse usually corrects itself.

Caught In The Squeeze

Caught in the economic squeeze, virtually unprotected in an era of high prices and high wages, are those individuals on fixed or inflexible incomes. Congress took some steps in its now-ended session to relieve a few of the hardship cases, but the problem remains a haunting one for many of our people.

Approximately 12 million men and women in the United States are 65 years of age or older, and less than one-third of them—27 per cent, to be exact—had gainful employment in 1951 sufficient to support themselves. Another 20 per cent lived on income from investments and pensions. But 53 per cent, according to figures compiled by an authority on geriatrics, Dr. Charles E. Dutchess, depended for support on public assistance, their families or on charity.

This is hardly a condition to arouse satisfaction. The payments to those in the latter group in most cases were barely enough to keep these individuals going. While members of the armed forces were awarded generous pay raises in the last session of Congress, and retirement insurance benefits for several classifications of employes were increased, those on old-age assistance instituted by the federal government in the middle 1930's were in the overlooked class. The bottom of the barrel had been scraped by the time Congress got around to them.

Living costs continue to rise, and while there are millions of workers whose wages or salaries go up correspondingly, millions of others over 65 have nowhere to look.

Open Letter To Speeders

From the Waukegan (Ill.) News-Sun

We saw you barely miss a little boy on a tricycle this afternoon and heard you yell "Get the h—— out of the way. Don't you know better than to ride in the street?" He didn't answer because he hasn't learned to talk very well yet, so we'll answer for him.

No, the little boy doesn't know any better than to ride his tricycle in the street. He has been warned not to, but little boys don't always heed warnings. Some adults don't heed them either, especially traffic warnings and those limiting the speed of automobiles.

We are going to tell you something about that little boy. He has a mother who endured considerable inconvenience, anxiety and suffering to bring him into the world. He has a father who has worked hard and made many sacrifices to make him healthy and happy. The supreme purpose of their lives is to have their little boy grow up to be a useful man.

Now stop a minute and think. If you should kill a child, how would you feel facing his parents? What excuse could you give them for having robbed them of their dearest possession? More important, what excuse could you possibly offer Him whose Kingdom is made of little children?

Children, you know, were here long before you or your automobile were thought of. All the automobiles on earth are not worth the life of one little boy. We don't know what the little boy may be some day. We could get along without you, but we can't spare a single little boy.

Cause For Delay

The Republican platform makers were attempting to speed up after considerable delay when a newspaperman on the scene observed that he believed he knew what had happened. The boys, he said, had run into a snag—somebody found an issue that hadn't been straddled yet.

Scrapping Republicans Acted Like Democrats

CHICAGO — Regardless of this Republican convention ever electing a President it will set a record for several things.

First, it will last longer than any other recent convention.

Second, it will set a record for snafus.

Third, it will be more like a Democratic convention than any other.

Democratic conventions have become famous for their rebel yells, boisterous behavior, hot tempers, prolonged demonstrations. Things never go quite right at a Democratic convention even when the machinery is all geared to nominate a Roosevelt or a Truman. Either the South walks out, a Chicago sewer commissioner takes over from the basement or a Bob Hannegan switches names on a letter from Roosevelt.

When the Democrats put on a keynote speaker like Alben Barkley they whoop it up for 45 minutes. When the Republicans put on Gen. MacArthur they give him a milk-toast demonstration—three minutes. Of course, Alben gave the boys some phrases they could whoop and holler about while MacArthur was pretty dull. A breast-beater like Barkley shouts: "When Franklin Roosevelt started to brush away the cobwebs of the Hoover administration he found that even the spiders were starving." It's a little easier to throw your hat in the air than it is after 50 minutes of dull platitudes have been droned in your ear.

Aside from the keynote speech and the lack of rebel yells, however, the Republicans came much nearer the hot and humid heterogenousness of the Democratic spirit. In brief, the Republicans have really battled.

And since the Republican Party has been pretty much devoid of forceful leadership of late, these birthpangs of battle probably were necessary. Certainly it was healthy to have the battle over seating southern delegates fought out in the open under the full glare of the TV cameras. The entire Republican Party got a real understanding for the first time of how the GOP has been a captive party in the South. And if it wants to build for the future it has to get rid of absentee political landlordism below the Mason-Dixon line.

The battle over the platform, also healthy, was so heated that it might have been pulled by the Democrats themselves. In fact, one phase of it will win the Democrats a lot of votes.

For, where as the Democratic platform has gone right down the line for a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) with enforcement powers, the Republicans argued for a couple of days over whether to support a purely advisory FEPC or whether to leave the problem of race discrimination up to the states.

Most southern Democrats would be delighted to accept the latter. They've always wanted discrimination left to the states. And many southern Democrats, including Sen. Russell of Georgia, do not frown on an advisory FEPC shorn of enforcement power to step in and tell a southern state what to do.

The GOP battle over FEPC was waged under the picture of Abraham Lincoln, founder of the party. Oratorical outbursts constantly paid tribute to the founder of the party. However, that debate could cost the election next November.

For the big-city Negro vote has been restless of late. After having supported the Democrats about 99 per cent for the last 20 years, Negro leaders were wondering whether they couldn't do better elsewhere. However, when Gen. Eisenhower spurned an inquiry from Harlem Congressman Adam Clayton Powell on Negro rights but answered an inquiry from Jack Porter of Texas on Tidelands oil, Negro newspapers seethed.

Today, following the FEPC argument in Chicago, it's almost certain that the heavy Negro vote of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Kansas City and St. Louis will even go to Kefauver. And that vote, in a close election, can tip the scales one way or the other.

—MERRY-GO-ROUND—

Titian-haired Mrs. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania came to Chicago to hold the hand of Gov. John Fine at the suggestion of another Pennsylvania, Sen. Jim Duff, who hasn't been able to hold Fine's hand himself. After Duff made Fine governor of Pennsylvania the headstrong Mr. Fine decided to run in the opposite direction. So Duff figured that Mrs. Pinchot, whose husband-governor first started Fine on his career, might have some influence. She's been in Chicago keeping him on the track for Eisenhower, not Taft . . . Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase Bank, has been considering a libel suit against the Chicago Tribune for saying he threatened to foreclose on loans of business firms that wouldn't support Eisenhower . . . Three senators got rebuffed by hard-boiled gatekeepers at the convention hall. Sen. Milt Young of North Dakota had got his ticket mixed up with a guest and the gatekeeper wouldn't honor it. Sen. Andy Schoeppel of Kansas wanted to come down to the convention floor to meet some Kansas delegates as did Sen. Henry Dworshak of Idaho but were barred. Finally they convinced an usher a U.S. senator deserves some privileges.

—PLANS MISFIRED—

Sen. Taft was planning to get into Gen. MacArthur's car after the keynote speech and ride with him to the airport but plans misfired. Gov. Fine went instead. Taft wanted to talk about teaming up with MacArthur but after the MacArthur speech fell so flat his friends were glad he hadn't made the contact . . . Not many people had a chance to talk to MacArthur during his quick trip, not even H. L. Hunt, the Texas oilman who put up the dough for Doug's headquarters. About all he had a chance to say was: "Why didn't you bring Mrs. MacArthur with you?" Reply: "She prefers to watch me on TV."

Eisenhower forces didn't decide until 4:30 a.m. that they wanted Gov. Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin of Maryland to make Ike's nominating speech, at which time they got hold of Ike, woke him up, had him put on his clothes and confer with McKeldin. Remarked an Eisenhower aide: "The Army was never like this." McKeldin later complained that Ike's ghost writers failed to help write his speech. Actually they were writing it for him on the q.t., didn't want to get into a hassle over how to praise Eisenhower . . . John Wayne, cowboy hero and Hollywood's No. 1 box-office attraction, was pretty sore most of the week against fellow Californians Warren and Knowland for not coming out for Taft. Wayne takes his politics seriously.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

ONE of the chuckle-producers that has been making the rounds of the statehouse this week concerned the visit to Lincoln of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Donovan

As the tid-bit was wafted to the ears of the Sower, it was in the form of an explanation of the delay occasioned the standing crowd waiting to hear the general speak after his car had delivered him at the Capitol.

The explanation ran that Gov. Val Peterson took the general and party on a tour of the building. On the tour, the story ran, the executive who has won the label, "part-time governor," became lost. Long absences from the building, the story tellers said, caused him to forget the locations of the various corridors.

WHILE no one appeared willing to vouch for the truth of the yarn which caused many hilarious chuckles, one probable effect of his many trips for many varying reasons came to light during the week.

Whether important or not, the 1951 legislature did enact legislation that was a mandate to the governor to appoint a three-member Alcoholics Advisory Board. The law proposed by Sens. Harry Pizer of North Platte and Richard Marvel of Hastings, became effective on Aug. 27, 1951—nearly a year ago.

If the board has been appointed, no announcement has been made by the governor's office.

An inquiry brought forth the information that the governor is considering possible appointees and that an announcement probably will be made a few days after his return from the GOP National Convention.

AFTER the "getting lost" story was told it usually was followed by agreement that beginning in 1953, state business would be the primary consideration of the governor.

Time after time statehouse workers were heard to remark that there was no question that if Walter Raecke, the hard-working, able and conscientious Democratic candidate, is elected he could be depended upon to devote his efforts to looking after the business of the state.

It was also pointed out that Robert Crosby, the Republican candidate, has publically announced that making of speeches will not be his major occupation if elected.

Crosby has stated that after an honest day's work to the state, he expects to be free to spend his evenings with his wife and children.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE Sower has no desire to get in a rut like a cracked phonograph record. But since Mrs. Loretta Walker returned from a Fourth of July visit with her one grandchild, holding a handbag bulging with new photos, you should hear about our trip to visit two grandchildren in Des Moines.

Dan Jones Jr., chief of the bureau of irrigation, also tried to tell Loretta about his visit with two grandchildren in Colorado as she shoved pictures at him.

As we brought Daughter-in-law Nell home from the hospital last Sunday with little Terri Linn on her lap, Big Sister Karen, 2 years old, sat on Jack's lap. Her little hand kept constantly straying over to give gentle love pats to baby sister.

Arriving home, the rubber ball that previously had kept Grandpa involuntarily taking reducing exercises due to Karen's lack of control (she is a southpaw) lay in the corner neglected and forgotten.

Even Susie, her favorite rag doll, and Harry, her stuffed donkey, were completely ignored.

The new doll that cried occasionally but slept most of the time alone proved of interest to her and she pleaded constantly to hold it like she does Susie or cuddle it like she does Harry.

The farewell kiss to Grandpa was perfunctory as she rushed back to stand by Terri's crib.

Personal Views Of Chicago

Foreign Journalists Can't Hide Their Wonder

By J. E. LAWRENCE
Editor, The Lincoln Star

CHICAGO—Over in a far corner of the press stand at the Republican National Convention, a visiting German journalist covering the party's deliberations, slowly pecked away at the keys of the typewriter.

★

"I never knew Americans could be so crazy," he said more to himself than to the newspapermen around him. For nearly an hour Taft demonstrators had been up and at it—shouting, singing under the leadership of Rep. George Benders who knew all the words of a score of stirring hymns and songs, granted that he had trouble staying on scale.

★

Ten seats away in the same row another man sat with chin cupped in his hands. Another visiting journalist, this time from Australia. The GOP convention has had a remarkable international news flavor—kept his thoughts to himself until in weariness he let his facial expression talk for him. Writing for a Sydney paper, he ground out two pages, long hand, allotting himself 10 minutes for each sentence.

★

It was wholly fitting that two of the noisest, wackiest demonstrations in many years should cap the campaigns of Bob Taft and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the nomination. They threw the book at each other, pulled out the stops, and lifted the roof. It was a good show until the demonstrators quit, exhausted. Far into the night it ran, but we doubt that in all of the noise a vote was changed inside or outside the hall in this bitterly drawn rivalry between the two camps.

★

They filled the galleries with workers, equipped with noise devices, banners, flags and leather lungs. They taunted each other. It was synthetic in every sense although in the cheering crowds, now and then something of the earnest spirit of the great crusade took hold.

★

There were others of course —Warren, Stassen and MacArthur. Young Bob Simmons acquitted himself well in front of the microphone in seconding the nomination of Warren.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

COME, YE DISCONSOLATE

Come, ye disconsolate, where'er ye languish:
Come to the mercy seat, fervently kneel:
Here bring your wounded hearts, here tell your anguish:
Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal.

Joy to the desolate, light of the straying,
Hope of the penitent, fadeless and pure!
Here speaks the Comforter, tenderly saying,
"Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot cure."

Here see the Bread of Life: see waters flowing
Forth from the throne of God, pure from above,
Come to the feast of love: come, ever knowing
Earth has no sorrow but Heaven can remove.

★

By HORACE B. POWELL

For several generations, Protestants of the world have been singing this glorious old hymn, loving the sentiments breathed in its verses without realizing that its author was a member of the Roman Catholic faith.

"Come, Ye Disconsolate!" was written by Thomas Moore, better known to lovers of English lyric poetry for his ballads and as the author of such gems as "The Last Rose of Summer," "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls," and "Oft In The Stilly Night." It is probably the best of his hymns—though he wrote more than 30 others—and was given to the public for the first time in a collection of sacred songs published in 1818. Most of the hymns were written to be sung to popular national airs.

Moore was born in Dublin, Ireland, on May 23, 1779. He was one of the few men who made a financial success of the business of writing poetry; one of his poems brought him more than $15,000. The poet's last years, however, were unhappy. He suffered for more than three years from a nervous affliction which left him practically helpless. He died in 1852 at the age of 73.

The People Speak

Taxes, Pensions

Portland, Ore.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: My mother, a resident of your fair city and the state of Nebraska all her 74 years, has had the misfortune of losing her eyesight. For the past seven or so years she has received a blind pension, but now they have taken it away. True, she does have nine children—each with families and responsibilities.

A short time ago I received the enclosed questionnaire (LCDPW Form 10 Rev. 10/1/51, "Legally Responsible Relatives Confidential Report") from the Lancaster County Department of Public Welfare and, to my opinion, they were seeking very confidential information. Has Nebraska adopted a few of Russia's ways of doing things? After reading this questionnaire, it seems as if the rights and freedoms so dear to us are fast being snatched away if it is compulsory to answer all these questions. And all this so the old folks who have made these things possible for us can receive a mere $40 a month. We all know that no human being could exist on that amount, anyhow. All of us contribute and pay taxes for such, so why should there be so much comment on the situation?

If they would let all my mother's children pay to her personally the amount they pay in taxes, she could live like some of today's politicians.

MRS. A. E.

Editor's note: Mr. Leroy Hultberg, Lancaster County Assistance Director, in a check of his files on this particular case, reported that information there indicates the case was closed at the request of a son of the assistance recipient, who had stated he would assume full support of his mother.

Mr. Hultberg stated further that a questionnaire, signed and notarized by "legally responsible relatives"—that is, the children of an applicant for assistance—must be returned to his office and placed on file under a ruling of the state agency, whether or not the child or children of such applicant is financially able to assist in the support of their parents. In case of a refusal to sign such a statement, the local office has no alternative but to close the case.

Influence Of Television

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It becomes clearer every day that television is going to elect our next President. Look what it did for Sen. Kefauver, who was unknown before he got before television cameras and made his name known in places that didn't even know Tennessee had a senator named Kefauver. It also has helped to elect several other people.

Millions are seeing with their own eyes what is going on and getting to know candidates better because of it. Television shows a man at his worst as well as at his best. It can take off a lot of glamor that certain newspapers and magazines put around their favorite candidate.

I think we are going to have more democracy because of television. The bosses have had their day, and now the people are going to take over and elect the man they want.

MRS. H. S.

Post-Convention View

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Now that all the shouting is over, perhaps the people can get back to work and normal things. Conventions are good for everyone, for they let off a lot of steam. The Democratic convention looks as if it will be as exciting, if not more exciting. Regardless of who wins, its great to be a citizen of a great and free country like this.

WILLIAM F. BOWLER

Among NEBRASKA Editors

F. V. Turney, in The Wakefield Republican: "Why is it that we can't get our laws changed so that we can elect a President by popular vote, instead of these conventions and all the mud-slinging about one another?"

Democrats Expect Eisenhower To Be 'Sadder But Wiser' After Election In November

Stevenson Still Avoids Draft Move

(From Press Dispatches)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's first-round knockout victory in winning the Republican presidential nomination has spurred predictions from the Democratic camp that he will be "sadder but wiser" in November.

Two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination—Sens. Richard B. Russell of Georgia and Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma—said they thought they could beat Gen. Ike in the fall run-off.

"After Nov. 4, he will be a sadder but wiser general," Kerr told newsmen in Washington.

President Truman, like millions of other Americans, watched the GOP convention windup via television, but sent out word to White House newsmen that he had no comment on Eisenhower's triumph.

Truman had correctly called the turn two days earlier when he expressed mock fear that his "favorite" candidate, Sen. Robert A. Taft, would get beaten. Truman has indicated all along that he thought Taft would be easier to defeat than Eisenhower.

With Gen. Ike as the GOP choice, political strategists turned to the next big question: Who will be nominated at the Democratic national convention opening in Chicago a week from next Monday?

Open Conflict Gone

There had been widespread conjecture that Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois might yield to a draft on the Democratic ticket if Taft had been nominated—largely because of a conflict in their views on foreign policy.

But that possibility seemed more remote now that Eisenhower has been tabbed as the GOP standard bearer.

Stevenson has been described as seeing more or less eye-to-eye with Eisenhower on foreign matters, and some political seers thought the Illinois governor might want to wait until 1956 before entering the White House joustings.

In Springfield, Ill., Gov. Stevenson issued a statement declaring that his own position "has not been altered in any way" by the outcome of the GOP convention.

GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER . . . to whom Winston Churchill once said: "I like you . . . You ain't no glory hopper."

Spirit Of Co-Operation Evident In Eisenhower From Childhood

By JOE HALL

CHICAGO (AP) — Dwight David Eisenhower's high school class historian at Abilene, Kas., predicted he would become a history teacher.

That was only a fair guess—he actually became a history maker.

But one of his West Point instructors really hit it on the nose. He noted in Eisenhower's record: "Born to command."

The 61-year-old general of the Army came to Chicago last Saturday and took command of the Republican National Convention from its first day. He rolled to victory and the presidential nomination Friday just as his legions rolled across France eight years ago.

Members of the German General Staff called Eisenhower the greatest general of World War II because of his planning, daring and leadership.

"Ike's" closest friends say the Germans overlooked a couple of other points—his skill as a scientific gambler, an expert calculator at a bridge table or on a battlefield—and his ingrained spirit of competition.

None of these qualities will hurt in the new profession "Ike" has taken on at an age when many men think of retiring—politics.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill once credited Eisenhower with a trait conspicuous for its absence among many politicians.

"What I like about you, Ike," said Churchill in good American slang, "is you ain't no glory hopper."

He meant that Eisenhower, throughout World War II, gave generous credit to Allied officers in the glories of victory.

"Ike" was among the best high school athletes in Abilene. He played semi-pro baseball. At West Point he was a halfback of high promise until a leg injury forced him out of football. Then he went in for boxing and fencing.

At 37 he took up golf and soon was shooting in the low 80's. At 46 he decided to learn flying and got a pilot's license.

Of German Ancestry

Eisenhower's ancestors left Germany in the 1600's for Switzerland and Holland, came to America in 1732, and settled in Pennsylvania. His grandfather, the Rev. Jacob Eisenhower, moved to Abilene in 1878.

His parents, David and Ida Eisenhower, went to Denison, Tex., and David Dwight (his mother reversed his name) was born there Oct. 14, 1890, the third of seven sons. The family went back to Abilene when he was two.

The Eisenhower boys tended garden, took care of chickens, sold eggs, delivered produce, and worked on nearby farms.

In Army By Chance

"Ike" almost went to Annapolis, for a naval career, but he found he was just over-age. So he turned to West Point and the Army.

He wasn't a brilliant student at West Point but finished 61st in a class of 164, That was in 1915. The day he was appointed a first lieutenant, one year after graduation, he married Miss Mamie Geneva Doud of Denver. They have a son, John Sheldon Doud Eisenhower, and two grandchildren. The son also is a graduate of West Point.

"Ike" didn't get overseas in World War I. But for five years in the late 1930's he served as chief of staff to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines.

His handling of troops on maneuvers after the war broke out in Europe in 1939 caught the eye of Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff.

That was the break that put him in command of the North African invasion and made him supreme commander of the Allied forces in Western Europe.

At the war's end, "Ike" believed the United States could get along with the Russians. But it wasn't many years before he outlined this formula for dealing with them: "Firmness, patience, a sense of humor—and keep your powder dry."

In the post-war years, he stayed in the public eye as Army chief of staff, president of Columbia University, and then as commander of the mutual defense forces in Western Europe.

"Ike" is a big man with a homely face which splits easily into a wide, friendly grin. But he can be cold and hard, too.

Ike said his most "soul-shaking" decision of the war was to send the paratroopers into Normandy ahead of the landing parties.

Carl Sandburg, the poet and biographer ofg Abraham Lincoln, said after visiting Ike: "He's got what the greatest scholars of all time have had—wisdom combined with humanity."

Lincolnite Dies In Jet Crash; Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Air Force pilot Lt. Lloyd Robertson Jr., a 26-year-old resident of Lincoln for most of his life killed Thursday in a jet plane crash at Las Vegas, Nev., will be at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hodgman-Splain.

Rev. L. L. Blauvelt will officiate. A military burial will be held at Wyuka Soldier Circle.

Lt. Robertson's parents are Lloyd Robertson Sr., of 4907 No. 56th and Mrs. Faye Gregg of Omaha. His wife, formerly Betty Catherine Connell of Cleveland, is now residing in Omaha with Mrs. Gregg.

Bruce Lloyd, 5, and Faye Lou, 3, children of Lt. Robertson, are with their mother.

The Air Force pilot was graduated from Northeast High School and served in the Navy during World War II from September 1942 until his discharge in December of 1945.

He then attended the University of Nebraska until 1948 when he enlisted in the Air Force.

While stationed at Barter Island, Alaska, during 1949 and 1950, Lt. Robertson helped organize the Robertson School for Eskimos, named in his honor. He later attended officers candidate school and received his commission.

The former Lincolnite was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving besides his parents, wife, and children, are two brothers, Jack of Bell Gardens, Calif., and Gene of Omaha.

Custer, Loup Delegations Assured Matching Funds

A Custer County delegation headed by Sen. H. K. Peterson and County Commissioner Rollin Coonrad were promised that state engineers would provide a rough estimate on costs of improving the highway between Calloway and Ansley, State Engineer Harold Aitken said.

Aitken told the group that if the county will contribute one-fourth of the cost the state will match it and the combined funds be used for federal matching.

He said a Loup County delegation that visited him Friday were told the same thing when they sought improvement of the road between Almeria and Brewster.

SEN. RICHARD M. NIXON . . . convinced by little Italian lady that people want to have faith in their public servants.

NU Temple Renovation Work To Begin; Completed By '53

John K. Selleck, University of Nebraska comptroller, has announced that renovation work on the University Temple Building will begin immediately and the new University Theater will be ready for use in the fall of 1953.

Contractors have been notified of the acceptance of their bids on renovation work and are in the process of assembling materials for the project, he said.

The new theater will have a seating capacity of 376.

The appearance of the building will remain the same with the exception of a new theater entrance on the west side. The north portion of the Temple Building will be untouched.

The new soundproof theater will include a larger stage than the present one.

Additions to the theater will include a light and sound control booth above a small balcony.

In the theater basement will be design and workshop space, classrooms, property workshops, showers, rest rooms, light workshops, and locker space. A new elevator will operate from the basement level to three feet above the stage.

Sheriffs Must Turn Over Travel Fees, Beck Says

County sheriffs are required to turn over to the county treasurer all per diem fees they collect for transporting prisoners and patients to state institutions, Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck held in an opinion given Robert V. Denney, county attorney at Fairbury.

The opinion points out that because the sheriff is a salaried officer of the county, he must pay back the per diem fees allowed by the county for services which a non-salaried person would be allowed payment.

Nixon's Bull-Dog Determination Helped Send Alger Hiss To Jail

By IRVIN SAFCHIK

CHICAGO (INS)—The handsome junior senator from California had just spoken at a picnic in San Francisco when a little Italian lady ran up, embraced him and placed something in his pocket.

Richard Milhouse Nixon did not realize it until he was on the plane to his next speech, but the lady had given him a rosary. And the 39-year-old senator who Friday became the GOP vice-presidential candidate came to one conclusion from that gesture—that the people want to have faith in their public servants.

Nixon, according to his friends, has his "feet on the ground at all times," but admits to them that this religious episode "moved me more than anything else in my life."

Sure To Hit Hard

The deep desire to be the kind of public servant the little Italian lady wants to believe in may be one of the reasons why Dick Nixon will put on a vigorous, hard-hitting campaign. And if he is elected, one friend declared, "he'll be more than a gavel wielder in the Senate."

Nixon has not been a public servant for long.

He first entered the public life only seven years ago, when he was picked out by a citizen's committee to run against a Democratic Congressman who had held his seat for 10 years and was considered a sure bet for re-election.

Once a member of the House of Representatives, Nixon won a reputation for bull-dog determination—a willingness to work day and night. It was his patience and his conscientiousness which, perhaps more than anything else, sent Alger Hiss to jail.

Nixon was a member of the house un-American Activities Committee at the time. He had listened to the contradictory testimony of Hiss and Whittaker Chambers and he had a hunch that it was Hiss and not Chambers who was lying.

The young congressman called Hiss and Chambers into a hotel room in New York. Hiss finally admitted that he had known Chambers. More determination by Nixon and Chambers produced the famous "pumpkin" papers.

Appealed To Voters

His work in breaking the "red herring" case did more than send Hiss to jail—it sent Nixon to the Senate in 1950.

He won the election against former congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas by a majority of 700,000 votes—the largest plurality in California's history.

Nixon was long considered a brilliant speaker—he had won an international oratory contest while a student at Whittier College, in his home town of Whittier, Calif. But the 1950 campaign proved he also knew how to wage political war.

Once in the Senate, he could not keep away from the investigating work that won him praise and fame in the House.

He became a member of the Senate Investigating Committee and once more put his determination to work.

His sharp cross-examination of William Boyle Jr. about his connection with government loans was followed soon after by the announcement that Boyle was no longer Democratic national chairman.

Nixon was prominent, too, during the investigation into the fabulously profitable surplus tanker deal involving Newbold Morris, who had a short career as corruption-hunter for the government last spring.

Chosen For Three Reasons

To Dick Nixon, corruption is one reason why the Democrats should be defeated this November. But he is also a crusader against the spread of Communist imperialism abroad and its insidious infection at home.

The GOP leaders who chose Nixon for vice president wanted him for those reasons—and also because of his recognized appeal for young voters.

And Nixon is one of the youngest vice-presidential candidates in history.

LINCOLN STAR—SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 12, 1952

Betrothal Is Announced

MISS ANN PENNER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Penner of Beatrice, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to John Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henderson also of Beatrice.

Wednesday, August 6, is named as a wedding date, and the ceremony will be solemnized at Christ Church, Episcopal, in Beatrice.

Miss Penner attended Monticello College, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mr. Henderson was graduated from Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Mo., and from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Not Photogenic? Here's What To Do

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

If you are convinced that you are unphotogenic and if you must be coaxed before you will consent to a snapshot, these may be the underlying causes of your unsatisfactory likenesses!

Your inner reluctance to pose and your self-consciousness are sure to be transferred to your face and, of course, the camera records exactly what it sees. The chances are that what it will find on your face is either a sickly smirk or a scared-stiff mask.

Professional Secrets

Professional actresses and models whose success depends on attractive camera likenesses know that to achieve an unstudied, relaxed and casual effect certain practices must always be followed. Here are a few of their do's and don'ts of posing that will turn the same tricks for you:

However eager your camera enthusiast may be, take time out to tidy your hair, neaten your lipline and take the shine off your nose before you pose. Don't let yourself be rushed; make sure you look your slickest. In doing so, you are not displaying vanity—you are merely co-operating to make your photographer's efforts worthwhile. If he spoofs you, tell him so!

Always avoid full-face poses unless your face is a perfect oval and your nose is classically proportioned and modeled. The best view of any face is usually a near, three-quarter one. To achieve this angle, pose your shoulders and head to squarely face the lens and then turn your head just enough to one side so that you can still "look into" the camera with your eyes without straining toward it.

Tilt your chin down slightly if your nose is flat, short or snubbed; up a fraction if it is long. Otherwise keep your chin parallel to the ground. Tilt the top of your head a mere fraction either toward or away from the camera to relieve wrinkles or strained throat tensions.

Smile with your eyes. An otherwise beguiling likeness will falter without a lively eye expression. Just think of something specially pleasant and you'll have it. Don't ever assume any expression until all is ready or it will stale. Snatch your expression at the last moment and it will achieve the desired spontaneity.

Try all these tricks before your mirror until you can quickly assume an attractive pose. Soon you will feel assured and relaxed—then you'll be sure to click when the camera clicks!

Red Cross Board Holds Meeting

The members of the board of the Lincoln chapter of the American Red Cross met Thursday morning at the home of Mrs Robert Ammon to discuss plans of the organization. Mrs. Blanchard Anderson, chairman of the Red Cross Volunteer services, presided at the meeting, and a report of the national Red Cross convention, held recently in Cleveland, was presented by Mrs. Edward Welch.

Mrs. Paul Watt was named temporary chairman of the arts and skills corps to fill a vacancy. Mrs. Watt, an occupational therapist plans to conduct classes in handcraft. All those who are interested in this phase of therapy are asked to call Mrs. Watt at 3-9244.

Church Wedding At Ord

The marriage of Miss Maxine Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolfe of Ord, to Dr. James Edward Kean of Colorado Springs, Colo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Kean of Dallas, Tex., was solemnized at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, July 6. White and pink gladioli, and lighted white candles in pedestal candelabra, appointed the Methodist Church at Ord, for the ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rev. Keith Shepherd.

Preceding the service, Don Auble sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Orin Kellison, organist. Mrs. Kellison also played the wedding music.

Attending her twin sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Clare Marshall, and bridesmaids were Miss Betty Dunbar of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Miss Donna McCormick of Lincoln. The attendants wore ballerina frocks of blue net over taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations. Miss Judith Hitchman of Callaway, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Duane Wolfe, brother of the bride, served as best man, and the ushers were Loren Wolfe and Leo Wolfe, cousins of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace and satin. A high, pointed collar and long fitted sleeves accented the molded basque of lace, and beneath a ruffled peplum of the lace patterned with rhinestones, the full satin skirt tapered into a train. Lace edged her circular veil of imported illusion and she carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with orchids. Her only jewelry was a wrist watch, a gift of the bridegroom.

Dr. and Mrs. Kean left on a wedding trip to Mexico, and upon their return will reside at Colorado Springs, where Dr. Kean is a member of the staff of the Child Guidance clinic.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Kean have attended the University of Nebraska, and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Lincoln Guest

MISS ROXIE SAMPSON

Pictured above is Miss Roxie Sampson who, with her grandmother, Mrs. William Y. Sampson, came from Clifton Forge, Va., to visit in Lincoln with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Manske. Accompanying Mrs. Sampson and Roxie was Mrs. Sampson's brother, A. D. White who is also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Manske.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Berman have returned home from a week's combined business and pleasure trip to Chicago.

★

In town on Wednesday were Dr. H. F. Starns and his daughters, Sara Sue and Linda Lou, of Ashland, who came to Lincoln to spend a few hours with Dr. Fred T. Wilhelms of San Francisco, Calif. Dr. Wilhelms, a former classmate of Dr. Starns, addressed a dental meeting in Lincoln on Wednesday.

Introducing—
Mrs. Louis Staska And Marilyn

Here are two-thirds of the happiest family we have encountered in quite awhile! Although the Staskas' lives center around music, we were so sorry in our picture to have missed the piece de resistance—a home made violin! After much persuasion, Mr. Staska presented his improvision which was created from a cigar box with "extra-mild" still on its side,—a broom handle, one string, and an authentic bow, for inspection. The tones extracted from this masterpiece that might be emulated by Isaac Stern himself! While Marilyn ad libs through any popular or gay nineties tune her father accompanies her on this contraption; need we say more about the good times this new family from Colorado Springs, Colo., must make for their guests!

The Staskas claim they are not officially "new-comers" to Lincoln, for before their move five years ago, they were residents here. However, Mr. Staska has forsaken the mountains, the cool breezes, and the atmosphere of Colorado for the oil development business in Nebraska. A commercial traveler by vocation, he hopes to travel his way to some wooded lake for a fish or two this summer, before they accept their unlimited invitation to Daytona Beach, Fla., for the winter! His active participation in the Masonic lodge and the Shrine leaves little time for any hobby besides music, and in all seriousness he is an accomplished violinist.

Marilyn, who will be a senior at Lincoln high school this year, leaves the piano bench occasionally for the ukelele, which she plays equally adroitly. In Colorado Springs, she was a member of the a cappella choir, and Young Life, a youth fellowship of the Presbyterian church there, which provided her and her contemporaries with hamburger feeds, house parties, and youth activities, all with a wholesome, Christian connotation. In her high school sorority, she organized a vocal quartet, and found the time for ice skating and tennis, but no skiing! She hopes to follow in her father's tradition by attending the University of Nebraska.

With a twinkle in her eye, Mrs. Staska classes herself as merely a homemaker, but in Colorado was active in the Newcomers Club, Eastern Star and Daughters of the Nile. She is an excellent cook, the only drawback being that she likes to eat as well as to prepare food! She has a full time task of becoming re-acquainted; however, with such a talented, fun loving family, how could their friends bear to stay away!

Another Show Coming Up

WEEK AFTER NEXT — the Democrats—Another week of timing our telephone calls in order not to take people away from their radios and TV—From what we gathered during numerous conversations yesterday, there are those who believe that what the world needs—the United States, anyway—is more dignity in politics—"The only difference between Ringling Bros. 'Greatest Show on Earth' and the convention just closed is the "No Smoking" sign in Ringling's big tent—" said one woman.—

"Television really showed us politics in the raw," said another—"Maybe it was a mistake to televise the convention—or perhaps the result may be a factor in cleaning up politics," said another.

"The only thing I could think of during all of those demonstrations," said a third Lincoln woman, "was the expense—The people they had to pay to get the demonstrations going—the bands, the banners, the hats and so forth—I couldn't help but feel that a political party that would donate all of that money to the Polio fund, the Heart fund, or the Cancer fund, would do more to help this country than a thousand professional politicians."

* * *

BUT REGARDLESS of opinion, everyone watched or listened and read—which made it a little hard for a mere Soc Ed to go about her business in an unobstructed fashion.

But during the lull between the morning balloting and the afternoon's activities, we managed to make a little headway—

Found out, for instance, that Mrs. John Lawlor and her daughter, Miss Nancy Lawlor left Friday morning for a holiday in Colorado—

* * *

THEN WE LEARNED that Miss Ting Lilly and Miss Joan Yeager of Omaha will be hostesses at a dessert luncheon today at Hotel Cornhusker when they honor Miss Nancy Pumphrey whose marriage to Don Winkelmann will take place in later summer. Sixteen guests, all Kappa Kappa Gamma sisters of the hostesses and honoree, have been invited for the luncheon and a kitchen shower.

* * *

HEAR THAT Commander Orville Lund left a few days ago for New Orleans where he is curently stationed—There is the possibility, however, that Commander Lund may be transferred to Texas, and whenever the orders become definite, Mrs. Lund and the two young Misses Lund—Karen and Christine—will join him. At any rate, Mrs. Lund and her daughters will join him wherever he is stationed some time before school begins.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Wendell Groth and their daughters, Gretchen and Gaynelle were off bright and early this morning for Cass Lake, Minn., where Mrs. Groth and her daughters will spend the remainder of the summer—Understand that Mr. Groth is serving only as chauffer and escort—After depositing the distaff side of the family at the lake he will return to Lincoln—At the end of the summer he will return to the lake to bring his family home.

MODAY IS THE day, so we hear, that Mr. and Mrs. J. Burks Harley return from Pelican Lake, Minn., to spend two or three weeks before turning Minnesota-ward again. This week-end, so someone told us, Mr. and Mrs. Harley are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wright at their summer home at Lake Okoboji.

* * *

MENTION OF the Harley family reminds us that Mrs. Carl Burnett of Colorado Springs also arrives on Monday to spend a few weeks as the house guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Harley, Jr.

* * *

ON SATURDAY night's calendar, so someone told us, is the supper for which Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather will be host and hostess at their cabin at South Bend—Twelve guests have been invited for the supper and a pre-supper swim.

Newcomer Is Honored

Pastor and Mrs. W. K. Chapman were host and hostess at their home, 4644 Stockwell, Thursday evening, when they entertained fifty guests at a "wardrobe" shower honoring Betty Ann Thurston.

Young Miss Thurston, who is almost four years old, recently arrived in Lincoln by plane from Kassel, Germany, to make her home with her father, Wilber Thurston, and grandmother, Mrs. Cora Mae Thurston.

Following a program of games and refreshments, Betty Ann, perched in a highchair where all could see her, opened her many gifts which included a doll and large Teddy bear. After modeling her new clothes, Betty Ann, who cannot speak a word of English, blissfully told her guests, "Ich Liebe Dich."

Navy Wives Plan Picnic

Members of the Officers Wives club of the naval air station made final plans for their annual picnic, Friday, at a luncheon of the group held at the Lincoln hotel.

In charge of the arrangements for the picnic, to be held at Capitol Beach, 5:30 o'clock Monday, July 28, will be Mrs. C. W. Folkers, chairman, Mrs. Walter J. Mitchell and Mrs. F. H. Mineberg.

An honored guest at the luncheon, for which Mrs. J. L. Cooper and Mrs. Frederick Harris were hostesses, was Mrs. E. A. Parker, wife of the new executive officer at the naval air station. Mrs. Parker was presented with a corsage, and following luncheon, the afternoon hours were spent with cards.

No Summer Leisure For Club Officers

While the rank and file members of Lincoln's women's organizations, social clubs and study groups are enjoying a few months hiatus in the hurly-burly of club activity, their officers and committee chairmen are hard at work planning programs, arranging for meeting places, contacting speakers, and correcting yearbook schedules for the coming year.

Completing last minute details of the department activities of the LINCOLN WOMAN'S CLUB is Mrs. George Mechling, president, who is ably assisted by her committee chairmen, club officers and department leaders. Many of the departments' traditional programs are being varied this year for the benefit of the members' interest and enjoyment, and outstanding speakers will be a feature of the club year.

Mrs. Mechling, who presided at her first board meeting earlier this week, has announced the appointment of the following chairmen of standing committees: public affairs, Mrs. Nathan Grossman; printing and yearbook, Miss Roberta Jones; social, Mrs. L. T. Shirk; publicity, Mrs. C. M. Stewart; parliamentarian, Mrs. Frank O'Connell; and housing, Mrs. J. J. Grovert.

Club officers include: Mrs. J. G. Vaughn, first vice president; Mrs. Harold Armstrong, second vice president; Mrs. F. C. Klick, third vice president; Mrs. H. A. Schoenthal, fourth vice president; Mrs. Glenn Mooberry, recording secretary; Mrs. Emery L. Blue, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harry Hust, treasurer.

Mrs. R. C. Abbott will direct the activities of the THURSDAY MORNING LECTURE CIRCLE for the fall and winter months, and is currently at work completing the schedule of lecturers for the organization.

Mrs. Abbott, the newly-elected president of the Circle, will be assisted by Mrs. Don Whelan, secretary-treasurer, and the members of the board, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Miss Verna Miskell and Mrs. W. L. Hall. Also members of the board are Mrs. Gilbert Sechrist, immediate past president, and Mrs. L. E. Mumford, past secretary-treasurer.

The first lecture will be held the afternoon of October 2.

Lincoln members of the Daughters of the American Revolution are spending the summer months discussing and selecting projects for the club year of the two Lincoln chapters, DEBORAH AVERY and ST. LEGER COWLEY.

Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, regent of Deborah Avery, has announced that the first regular meeting of the chapter will be held on Friday, October 3, at the Hotel Cornhusker. The monthly meetings, always on the first Friday of each month, are traditionally preceded by a meeting of the board the last Friday of each month.

St. Leger Cowley chapter, of which Miss Juvia Adams is regent, will hold its first meeting of the fall on Tuesday, October 7. The first official meeting of the board will be held the preceding Saturday, October 4.

At an informal coffee held at the home of Mrs. T. C. O'Donnell last month, the members of the TUESDAY REVIEW CLUB received their program schedules for the ensuing year. Mrs. David Dow, chairman of the program committee, which was in charge of the coffee, discussed the club plans and programs to be opened on Wednesday, October 1.

Officers of the study club are Mrs. John W. Delehant, president; Mrs. David Dow, vice-president; and Mrs. R. G. Grubbs, secretary-treasurer.

A Threesome Of Brides-To-Be

MISS BONNIE JEAN LAMBERT

MISS BEVERLY JEAN ROBINSON

MISS JUNE SHIPPS

Announcement is made this morning by Mrs. Cleo Lambert of Nelson, of the engagement of her daughter, Bonnie Jean of Lincoln, to Cpl. Glen Drohman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Drohman of Edgar.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Beverly Jean Robinson, to Sgt. 1/c Dale Helmkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Helmkamp, by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robinson of Martell. An early autumn wedding has been planned.

Sgt. Helmkamp, who at present is stationed at Fitzsimmons hospital, Denver, Colo., has returned recently after serving nine months with the army in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur T. Shipps announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, June, to Lawrence Boots, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Boots.

The wedding will be an event of late August.

State-County Co-operation Brings Benefits

Bids Let On $1,692,400 Road Work

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

Benefits of using sound engineering principles in highway construction and the advantages of state and county co-operation were shown in the apparent low bids on $1,692,400 in highway construction which were up for letting, Harold Aitken, state engineer, said Friday.

Hard surfacing of the remaining 24 miles between of the north-south road between Gordon and Ellsworth, connecting U.S. 20 and No. 2 found Missouri Valley Construction Co., Omaha, bidding $370,792 or about $10,000 below the estimate.

Local citizens and Sheridan County contributed $80,000 as their one-fourth share of the project. The state will pay one-fourth and the balance will come from federal secondary funds.

The completed project will cost about $443,000. In addition to the construction right-of-way will cost an additional $37,000, engineering $11,000 and $24,000 for wells and fences.

It is proposed that the county pay the cost of wells and fences and the balance will be met by the state.

Diagonal Road

By constructing a diagonal road on No. 87 between Alliance and Hay Springs, in addition to reducing the mileage the costs were $100,000 less than had the present route been followed. Grading, culverts and bituminous mat paving was bid at $171,299 by W. A. Biba Engineering Co., Geneva.

Aitken said that a part of the saving was found by location of base material near the site of the road. The new section of road is 12 miles long.

An eight mile improvement south and west of Mullen was bid at $50,082 by Peter Kiewit Sons' Co., Omaha. It will have local contributions of one-fourth and be bituminous mat. The cost of $6,000 per mile, Aitken said, is because it is engineered to meet the fairly light traffic it will carry. High standards of main highways are not necessary on such roads, Aitken said.

Spirited Bidding

Aitken said bidding on 15 miles of grading and bituminous surfacing of 12 miles of U.S. 83 south of North Platte vas particularly spirited.

Apparent low bidders were Stewart Brothers, Lincoln, $137,824 for the grading; Benzing and Bonner Engineering Co., McCook, $29,935 for the culverts and $12,332 for a bridge; and Nichols Construction Co., Geneva, $183,781 for the bituminous work.

The new route cuts through the University of Nebraska Experimental Farm just south of North Platte.

Other projects:

Fillmore County—1.8 miles gravel, Exeter south, Nichols, $3,139.

Thurston—12 miles gravel, Decatur-Winnebago, Lyman-Richey Sand and Gravel Corp., Omaha, $46,111.

Cass—9.1 miles, Murdock west, Mathews and Olberding, McCook, $27,677; culverts, Keim Construction Company, Inc., Tecumseh, $50,238; bridges, Capital Bridge Co., Lincoln, $37,996; 2.4 miles gravel, Cedar Creek south, H. A. Risk, Nebraska City, $2,805.

Colfax—10.2 miles gravel, Leigh-Howells-Clarkson, Dowd and Schutt Gravel Co., Schuyler, $19,701.

Knox—3.2 miles, Winnetoon south, grading, Coutts Construction Co., Creighton, $7,285; culverts, Coutts, $10,578.

Sarpy—9-tenths, grading, pavement, Bellevue west, Peter Kiewit Sons', Omaha, $88,385.

Saunders—Wahoo weighing station, Roberts Construction Co., Lincoln, $28,437.

Cass—Oreapolis weighing station, Roberts, $29,186.

Merrick County's Wheat Runs Near 40-Bushel Yield

CENTRAL CITY, Neb.—After gathering in yields of from 15 to 40 bushels per acre, farmers in Merrick County late this week were nearing the completion of a $1,700,000 wheat harvest.

The result of the 1952 harvest considerably exceeded expectations. Pre-harvest estimates of the wheat placed the yield at about 22 bushels per acre on the average.

One elevator operator here said the low figure of 15 bushels per acre this year was rare among the fields harvested, and that the higher figure of 40 bushels is much more common.

The only difficulty resulted from a tie-up of boxcars serving the 13 elevators in the county. Quality of the new wheat was described as "good, dry and heavy."

Sidney, State's Wheat Capital, Reports Only 15-Bushel Yields

(By The Associated Press)

Reports of three to 15 bushel per acre yields flowed into Sidney, Nebraska's wheat capital, this week, after the Department of Agriculture forecast a 9-million bushel cut in the Nebraska wheat prospects.

Balancing them were other reports of yields ranging from 25 to 40 bushels per acre, marking a line between the hail damaged and hail free sections of the state's No. 1 wheat county.

Reports still were spotty, however, as some fields are not yet ripe and harvesting on the prolific North Table still has not reached full speed.

Hail Damage High

The wheat was generally testing well and the moisture content has been low but the reports of low yields point up emphatically the damage caused by the recent so-called three million dollar hail storm which sliced across the southern third of Kimball, Cheyenne and Deuel Counties.

Denver elevators at Sidney said most of the wheat coming in has been from the hailed area.

From Lodgepole there were reports of good quality wheat coming in from the north table, testing No. 2 and some of it No. 1. But there's been nothing from the badly hailed South Table and H. W. Quinn of the farmers Elevator said there's not likely to be any.

By contrast, the harvest was gaining momentum rapidly around Dalton and the indications are the yield will be better than expected—ranging from 25 to 40 bushels.

About 85 loads came from the Colton area, most of it testing 55 to 60 pounds per bushel. Keith Deaver of the Colton Grain Co., said North Table harvesting would be well under way by the week-end. The south Colton area was virtually wiped out by the hail storm.

Testing Good

Gurley's harvest is just getting under way. What wheat is coming in is of good test.

A jackpot wheat harvest is reported at the Westerville Community near Broken Bow.

Most fields are running from 30 to 40 bushels an acre, some even more.

Wheat raised on the Oscar Rhoads farm near Rulo tested 65 pounds to the bushel, an almost unheard-of circumstance. Wheat weighing 62 pounds is considered exceptionally good.

The wheat is a variety called Bluejacket and in spots where a good stand was obtained, it ran about 30 bushels to the acre.

A spot check of Production and Marketing Administration county chairmen in southwest Nebraska and Northwest Kansas showed 75 to 90 per cent of this year's crop was "in the bin."

These men hazarded that the average yield of wheat in their counties would run between 22 and 25 bushels. Some yields went down to 12 bushels where hail struck.

Resurfacing Of No. 79 Slated

Highway No. 79 between North Bend and Morse Bluffs is to be resurfaced, State Engineer Harold L. Aitken has announced.

State maintenance employes, under the direction of Division Engineer Edwin Olmstead, are to do the work, Aitken said. About 4,400 cubic yards of clay are to be used in building a six-inch base for the highway. When the base is completed, it will be covered by approximately 826 cubic yards of gravel.

Olmstead said that the original surfacing has worn out, making it impossible to maintain the highway properly through this river bottom area. Cost of the work is estimated at $2,356.

Postoffice At Crete Becomes First Class

CRETE, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special) — The federal postoffice here officially became a first class office as of July 1, according to Postmaster E. B. Hardeman.

The postoffice became first class by virtue of having surpassed the $40,000 mark in gross receipts during the last calendar year.

Hardeman attributed the year's record business to a geenral increase in all mailing business.

Crete's postoffice was organized by the federal government on Sept. 16, 1868. J. C. Bickel was the first postmaster.

North Platte Resident Hospitalized With Polio

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Edward Sorenson, 40, advertising manager of the North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin, has been transferred to a Grand Island hospital with polio. Sorenson became ill Sunday. His illness was diagnosed Thursday.

Survey Nears Completion In Mid-State Area

GRAND ISLAND (AP)—Solicitors for the Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District have interviewed landowners or tenants operating 350,393 acres of farm land within the district, in a survey to determine flood damage to those lands and other pertinent matters relating to irrigation needs.

The survey, according to a report made to the July meeting of the Mid-State board, is about 75 per cent complete. The district consists of about 575,000 acres of farm land in Buffalo, Hall and Merrick Counties.

Altogether, the solicitors have turned in 2,080 reports, which show that the 350,393 acres of land have 1,956 irrigation wells; that owners of 71,192 acres ol land (20.4 per cent of the total) are interested in water from the Mid-State's canals, and that one year's flood damage on these lands has totalled $1,303,547.

Merrick Damages Highest

The landowners were asked, in the flood damage questionnaire, to use as a basis any wet year since 1947. Most of the damage is reported to have occured in 1947, 1949 and 1951.

A breakdown by counties shows:

Buffalo county—573 reports; 95,997 acres; 651 irrigation wells; 12,090 acres (12.5 per cent) interested in Mid-State water; flood damage $212,204.

Hall county—840 reports; 145,664 acres; 872 irrigation wells; 39,736 acres (27.4 per cent) interested in Mid-State water; flood damage, $415,888.

Merrick county—667 reports; 108,732 acres; 433 irrigation wells; 19,366 acres (17.9 per cent) interested in Mid-State water; flood damage, $675,455.

The U. S. army engineers have given the Mid-State a tentative and incomplete report on past flood damages in the district. They have established the average annual damage to be approximately $324,600 annually. The agency, however, was unable to complete its survey to establish the frequency of flood damage.

Scotts Bluff Man Named Youngest Demo U.S. Officer

William E. Grubbs, 25, Scotts Bluff County Justice of the Peace, is the youngest elected Democratic office holder in the United States, according to an announcement made by Richard J. Nelson, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

The Scotts Bluff man entered a recent nationwide contest, sponsored by the Young Democratic Clubs, to find the youngest elected Democratic officer.

Grubbs was a precinct worker for the party before graduating from the University of Colorado. He has since served as precinct committeeman and district captain for five precincts. This year, the justice of the peace was elected a delegate to the state pre-primary convention and served as head of the Scotts Bluff delegation.

He will receive a certificate of merit from the Democratic National Committee in recognition of his service in the intreests of gvernment and the Democratic party.

Wenke Will Probe Airline Dispute

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Adolph E. Wenke, member of the Nebraska Supreme court, will serve on the emergency board named by President Truman to investigate a labor dispute on Trans-World Airlines, Inc.

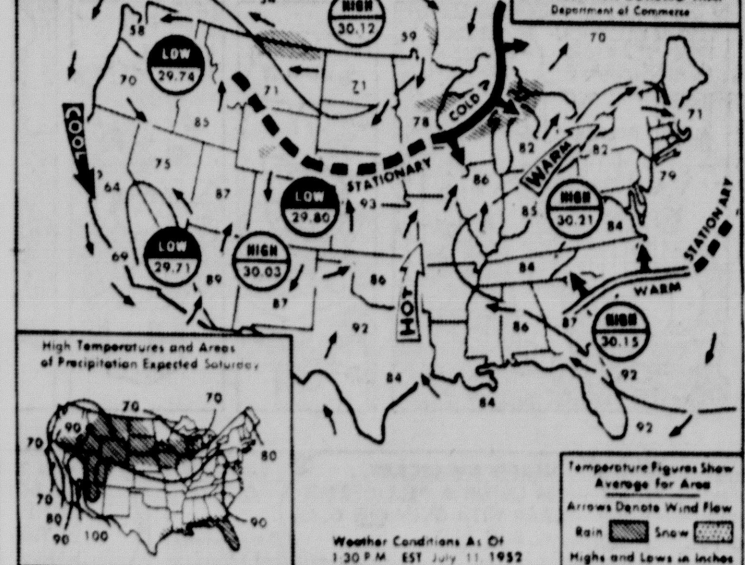
Creation of the three man board postponed for at least 60 days a strike which had been set.

Also appointed to the board were Robert O. Boyd, Portland, Ore., attorney, and Dr. I. L. Sharfman, head of the economics department of the University of Michigan.

1,716 Empty Grain Cars Are On Hand

OMAHA (INS)—The Association of American Railroads said 1,716 unloaded grain cars were on hand in the Omaha area and local elevators were still awaiting the week end arrival of the giant wheat harvest.

Last week end 913 cars were received—the largest total on hand in the yards on one day in several years.



FAIR—Cooler weather with widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast Saturday for the western third of the U.S. and the Lakes States. A trend to warmer and generally fair weather is foreseen for the northeast states. The rest of the nation will have fair skies with continued warm and humid conditions in most of the southern tier of states. The usual afternoon thunderstorms are forecast for the Gulf States. Ike Urged To Make His First Talk At McCook

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—McCook citizens have asked Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to begin his presidential campaign in McCook, where he visited only last week en route to the Republican national convention in Chicago.

As soon as Eisenhower was nominated at the convention in Chicago, a group of McCook citizens joined in sending him this telegram:

"Congratulations. Would like to invite you to make your kick-off campaign speech in McCook, Neb. We understand that you intend to make a very extensive campaign to every nook and corner of the United States, and that no town will be too small for your appearance. In making this campaign to every nook and ocrner of the United States there is no better place to start than in a small town that is almost in the exact center of the United States. We believe that your kickoff speech in a small town would do more than anything else to endear the voters of the United States to your cause during the entire campaign, and would undoubtedly make a tremendous difference at the polls November 4th.

"Signed,
"Citizens of McCook."

$584,061,600 River, Harbor, Flood Bill Signed By Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Friday signed a bill appropriating $584,061,600 for the Army Engineers' river and harbor and flood control program.

One of two measures which nearly thwarted Congressianal adjournment plans, the bill contains $236,788,800 for rivers and harbors and $255,742,800 for flood control work.

Passage of the bill followed a last-minute compromise calling for a study of the need for construction of Hartwell reservoir in relation to the Savannah River plant of the atomic energy commission.

Sens. Maybank and Johnson, South Carolina Democrats, had threatened to filibuster against the bill because it contained no funds to build the South Carolina-Georgia reservoir.

Gavins Point Funds

The funds are for the year which began July 1.

This bill provides 7¾ million dollars for the Gavins Point dam on the Missouri River along the South Dakota, Nebraska border.

It is the newest of the main stem projects inaugurated under the Pick-Sloan plan.

President Truman had recommended 13 million dollars for this year. Last year $2,077,000 was appropriated to start the project.

Other Missouri Basin funds included in this bill were: Ft. Randall Dam, S.D., 32½ million dollars; Garrison Dam, N.D., 31 million dollars; Oahe Dam, S.D., three million dollars; Tuttle Creek Dam, Kan., five million dollars; local protection for the Kansas cities $3,750,000; local protection Havre, Mont., $350,000; Navigation work on the Missouri River channel from Kansas City to Sioux City, $4,250,000; similar channel work from Kansas City to the mouth, $2,300,000; agricultural levees on the Missouri, $500,000.

Earlier this week the President signed the interior department money bill, which included $3,124,000 for the Bostwick division in Nebraska and Kansas, a system of irrigation works on the Republican River in South Central Nebraska and North Central Kansas, designed to irrigate approximately 90,000 acres of land; and one million dollars for the Frenchman-Cambridge project, a system of dams, canals and irrigation works on the Republican River in Southwestern Nebraska. The dams are the Enders, Medicine Creek, Trenton and Red Willow.

Theories Vary On Phenomenon Of 'Crow's Nest'

CRETE, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special) — The famous "crow's nest" on the Doane College campus is no more.

The nest, a bushy growth atop one of Doane's lake-side pine trees, was a victim of a recent high wind storm.

For several years now there has been a controversy among plant experts from near and far as to just what had caused the elongated "nest" and what kept it alive.

One theory advanced was that the growth had been caused by bacteria. Another expert claimed it was the result of lightning; and still another said it was a "growth similar to a cancer in the human being."

A close examination of the growth revealed to laymen that it was a series of small trees which appeared to be taking sap from the main trunk of the 30-foot giant of the Doane forest.

Business Manager G. W. Buck said he was taking the "nest" to the University of Nebraska where it could be examined and to see if it can be determined what caused the phenomenon. Buck said the nest weighed 75 pounds.

Elisha Pool, 76, Retired Farmer At Pleasant Dale, Dies

PLEASANT DALE, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral services for Elisha Pool, 76, retired farmer, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Lutheran Church here.

A Seward County resident for 72 years, he died in a Seward hospital Friday.

Surviving are his wife, Bertha; two daughters, Alta and Mrs. Henry C. Ficke, both of Pleasant Dale; two grandsons; two brothers, Charles of Pleasant Dale and Guy of Torrington, Wyo.; and two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Condit of Saratoga, Wyo., and Mrs. Ralph Platt of Encampment, Wyo.

Rev. F. W. Falkenroth will be in charge of the services, and burial will be at the Pleasant Dale cemetery.

State Briefs

School Budget Hits $159,650

CRETE—A budget of $159,650 has been set by the Crete school board for the next school year, according to Superintendent C. H. Velte. The budget will be $3,350 higher than the budget of the previous year. Salary raises to teachers account for the bulk of the higher budget figure. After estimating the income from tuition, state apportionment, vocational education and other items, the board asked for $120,000 for general school purposes to be raised by taxes this next year.

FREMONT—Dates for the mothers vacation camp here this year will be August 25 to 27, according to County Home Agent Elizabeth Grant. Committee members planning the affair are Mrs. Fred Westergaard and Mrs. Edward Eagleton, both of Blair, Mrs. Sylvester Snover and Mrs. Lee Wagner, both of North Bend; Mrs. J. L. Aperstedt of Hooper, Mrs. Victor Koyen and Mrs. Louis Roy, both of Fremont; Mrs. Adolph Travnicek of Cedar Bluffs and Mrs. Grant.

KEARNEY—Joe Cording, druggist for the past 52 years and with a Kearney drug store for eight years, has announced his retirement. Prior to coming to Kearney, he was associated with drug stores at Loup City, Litchfield, Mason City and Fremont.

TILDEN—Clem Baker has been named noble grand of the Tilden IOOF lodge. Other officers are Straley Bartee, vice grand; Charles Hauschildt Jr., secretary; C. O. Baker, treasurer; Charles Beal, right supporter to the noble grand; Arthur Rasmussen, left supporter to noble grand; Archie Kilmer, right supporter to the vice grand; Dr. Robert Hodgsen, left supporter to the vice grand; Merlin Thompson, warden; George Horn, conductor; John Bellar, inside guardian; Price Scott, outside guardian; and S. A. Baker, chaplain.

TRYON — (AP) — A $225,000 building project is under way at McPherson County High School in an effort to win from the state department of public instruction the accredited status which the school lost last spring.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

CHICAGO—The Republicans are packing and you can buy at a discount those "special handling White House" labels several candidates bought for their luggage.

☆ ☆ ☆

Word was going around that Warren's daughters got 900 telephone votes on the first ballot and will join the California unit now playing in San Francisco.

☆ ☆ ☆

One fellow was in every parade last night, but it turned out he was breaking in new shoes and he hates to walk without a reason.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is not to say that a Republican can't get a key to the White House oval room, but they've been arguing with the room clerk for 20 years and they're still on the petitioner's side of the counter.

☆ ☆ ☆

There's nothing in the book that says they always have to lose but it must be in the Democrats book although this year could be different.

Phillies Halt Cards, 4-3 To Sever Win String At 10

Town Team Topics

By JIM CLARK

PRE-GAME warmups took its toll this week, with one player and a batboy falling victims to the initial drills.

At Kearney, the Irishmen lost the services of Catcher Bob Stickney when he threw a trick knee out of place during batting practice. Bob is also player-manager for the Ravenna Beavers and his loss forced them to cancel their last two games.

Bill Jensen

At York, a line drive off a Stromsburg bat struck the Burgers' batboy, 12-year-old Bill Stauber, on the forehead. But after a period of dizziness, he returned to his place on the Stromsburg bench.

Seward's Dale Harnish was the victim of a bean ball in their game with Fairbury, but x-rays showed no serious effects from the incident.

The most futile effort of the week goes to Bradshaw's Don Brackhan. In Bradshaw's game with Henderson, Brackhan collected four home runs, a single and a double, yet Henderson went on to win 18-12.

Lefty Dale Kruger has been one of the great disappointments for the Broken Bow Indians this year. Considered one of the league's greatest lefties while pitching for Ravenna and Loup City in the Mid-Nebraska League, a sore arm has kept Kruger on the losing end of the only four tilts he has hurled for Broken Bow.

HUSKER Fran Hoffmaier cleared the first hurdle in the Nebraska state semi-pro tournament at Plainview as Crofton put across an unearned run in the seventh frame to edge Clearwater, 1-0. Hoffmaier held Clearwater to three hits, while the victors were picking up a mere two singles off Gary Hicks.

The shift of Marv Kranda to the managerial post at Columbus proved to be a successful venture with three straight wins chalked up. Columbus made it two in a row over the holiday week end with a Pioneer Nite League win over David City and an exhibition win over Stromsburg.

Husker Pat Mallette gained credit for the win over David City and then went in for relief the second night against Stromsburg. Another Husker, Jim Cederdahl, collected three hits to lead the Stromsburg batters.

Lincoln high's baseball Coach Bill Jensen took batting honors for the Columbus nine during the first half of league play. Jensen led the team with a .304 average. Garnering three doubles and a home run, Jensen also led the team with runs batted in with 10.

A STEAL from third to home against Kearney's Frank Sajevic earned Holdrege's Bill Giles a couple of steak dinners. The prize was the last of the many awards given by the Holdrege merchants for various feats and remains a standing offer the rest of the season.

Holdrege's Dick Sander beat out a line drive to the mound in their tussle with Kearney to extend his hitting streak to 15 games. Sanders has hit safely in every game except the season opener when Lexington's Al Thune held him hitless.

The U.S. Marines, stationed at Hastings, pulled a "to-the-rear-march" during their fourth of July exhibition tilt with the Grand Island Jaycee All-Stars.

Trailing, 20-0, it was decided to delay the game at the end of the sixth so that the fireworks display could be held as advertised. But when the lights went on to resume the game, there were no Marines in the area. They had retreated ot a more promising position—away from the ball park and the crowd.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Don Erway, who caught for Lincoln High's state championship baseball team, is drawing many plaudits at Columbus for his brilliant backstop work. He has another season with the Links.

In two straight games, Harvey Stroud's North Platte Cubs have run their scoring total to 61 runs. The Cubs took Tryon in hand 32-0 and then blasted Maxwell 29-8.

Hurling a briliant four hitter and striking out 11 men for Creighton was to no avail for Dr. Roman Roh as Hartington protected its Elkhorn Valley lead with a 1-0 conquest. It was Roh's last ball game for Creighton before leaving for active duty with the Navy.

Locke Wins British Open

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England. (AP)—Stern-faced Bobby Locke, who threats his golf like a problem of mechanics, worked his way through pelting rain and blustering winds Friday to capture the British Open Championship by a single stroke.

It was a story-book finish for the South African, who had captured this crown both in 1949 and 1950. Locke went into Friday's final round of 36 holes trailing the leader, Irishman Fred Daly, by four strokes. But Daly blew under pressure, and had to be content with third as 22-year-old Peter Thomson of Australia carded 288 to Daly's 289.

Four Americans who were among the 46 finalists after the week-long series of elminations, finished deep down in the list. The best showing was turned in by Willie Goggin of Montclair, NJ. He had a 298 to finish in a six-way tie for ninth place.

Gen Sarazen of Germantown, N.Y., who won this title 20 years ago, got an even 300, along with the defending champion, Britain's Max Faulkner.

At 302 was Jimmy Hines of Chicago, while Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, one of six amateurs in the final rounds, shot a 309.

Daly held the lead most of the two days but Locke finally got to him and took the lead after the first nine on the afternoon hour.

Mead Coach Reported In 'Fine' Condition Now

Mitchell Bodzek, 32, Mead High School coach injured last week in a haying accident, was reported in "fine" condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

Bodzek, employed by a milling company, lost part of a foot in an alfalfa cutter. His leg was "shredded."

Hospital attendants said they expect to save the remainder of the injured foot.

Humphrey Falls To Randolph, 9-5

RANDOLPH—Host Randolph defeated Humphrey, 9-5, in a first-round game in the Nebraska Semi-Pro Tournament. The winners sewed it up with a six-run first inning. They scored on two doubles, two singles and a pair of walks. Line score:

Humphrey	000 002 111—5	9	3

Spangler To Meet Irwin In Finals

OMAHA—(Lincoln Star Special)—It will be Lincoln's Dick Spangler Jr. and Omaha's Dick Irwin matching strokes today in the finals of the Nebraska State Invitational Golf tournament at the tricky Omaha Country Club course.

Spangler reached the final round by beating fellow townsman Jack Heckenlively, 5-4, in the 36-hold semi-finals Friday.

Irvin came from behind in the morning play Friday to edge Jack Moore of Grand Island 1-up on 38 holes.

At the completion of the first 18 holes of play Friday, Spangler held a three up edge over Heckenlively while Irwin trailed Moore three up.

Moore led the semifinalists with a 71 for the first 18. Spangler had a 72, Irwin 74 and Heckenlively a 75.

Calumet Mares Lead Field At Hollywood Park

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (INS) — Calumet Farms' mares, Two Lea and Wistful, Friday led the list of 12 horses named for today's 13th guaranteed $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup Classic at Hollywood Park.

The mile and one-quarter race will be a wide-open affair, but the Calumets will prevail as betting choices over Clifford Mooers' Cyclotron, a Calumet farm castoff, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Phelps' Sturdy One and Moonrush.

The field includes Great Circle, Stormy Cloud, Last Round, Cyclotron, Wistful, Piquancy, Two Lea, Skelter, Sturdy One, Count Me Out, Arroz and Moonrush.

Missing from the race will be such horses as Intent, Lights Up, Miche and Phil D. They dropped out through injuries or illness, and their absence left a field with very light weights assigned.

The race will have a gross of $137,000—first money $102,000, $20,000 for second, $10,000 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Spasmodic Lincoln A's Drop 5-3 Tilt To Bruins

By NORRIS ANDERSON
(Sports Editor, The Star)

GIVING Old Man Opportunity a merry run around, the Lincoln A's dropped a 5-3 decision to the Des Moines Bruins at Sherman Field Friday night.

Skipper Les Bell's spasmodic Athletics thus ended their series with the seventh-place Bruins in a 2-2 deadlock.

The A's now are off on a 12-game western road trip, starting at Denver tonight. They will return to Sherman Field, July 24, against Wichita.

Failure to hit in the clutch, plus a seven-hit pitching job by Dick Verbic and a bit of opportune slugging by Freddy Richards, contributed largely to the A's delinquency Friday evening.

A Sherman Field audience of 911 saw Des Moines go into a 1-0 lead in the second, add solo runs in the fourth and sixth and ice the issue with two tallies in the ninth.

Lincoln, meanwhile, picked up a run in the sixth and added two more in the ninth. It was what the A's didn't pick up this trip that counted.

Des Moines scored in the second on doubles by Richards and Bob Dant, interspersed by a walk. The Bruins parleyed two singles and two Lincoln errors into a run in the fourth. They added another in the sixth on two walks, a stolen base and Dant's single.

It was Richards, who draws a major league minimum salary ($5,000) since he's on direct option from the parent Chicago Cubs, who earned his salt by smashing a triple to deep right in the ninth. This drove in John Magliolo and Ed Lavigne with the assuring runs.

The A's appeared set to contest Des Moines' 5-1 lead in the ninth when Verbic walked Ken Weiss, Billy Shantz and Bill Hockenbury with none out. This opportunity of purest gold died suddenly when Jim Trey, next man up, hit into a double play which scored Weiss.

Junior Reedy then singled to center, bringing home Shantz.

The rally officially died, however, when Bobby Gardner, following Reedy, fouled out to the catcher.

Stewart's single to right, followed by a walk and Mangini's double to left, brought in Lincoln's score in the sixth.

The A's added to their frittered opportunities in the sixth and eighth when Des Moines double plays left two men on base in each instance. All in all, the Bruins contributed four double plays and fielded like demons.

Harry Kume, the A's starter, yielded to a pinchhitter in the seventh after yielding seven hits and three runs. Harry "Sahara" Desert, his successor, give up three hits and two runs during the last two innings.

Jim Bell (4-5) will be on the mound for the A's in Denver tonight.

Footnotes. . .Fielding highspots for the A's were Trew's stop and throw of a difficult grounder in the fifth and Stewart's running catch in the seventh. . .Reedy was relieved of a certain hit in the seventh when Magliolo made an electrifying catch of a well-wooded drive to center. . . Umpire Keith Myers, per usual, drew the ire of Lincoln fans. . .His call on a third strike to Reedy was especially disputed. . .Dick Srb, former Husker basketballer, assisted Hank (Blank) Cech at the public address. . .Dick is on leave from Oxford U. in England where he has one year to go on his Rhodes Scholarship. . .Attendance for the three-night series with Des Moines totaled 3,495. . .The reason Danny Holden wasn't permitted to score in the sixth was because Mangini's blow was ruled a ground rule double.

Attendance In Western League Shows Increase

Believed to be the only minor league in Class A or higher to show an increase in attendance for the first half of the season, the Western Baseball League Friday announced its official figures through July 4 showing that 621,714 fans have passed through the turnstiles as compared with 502,554 through July 4, 1951.

This is an increase of 119,160, or more than 20 per cent, which is divided between the following clubs: Denver, 54,558; Colorado Springs, 37,327; Lincoln, 14,065; Wichita, 11,451; Pueblo, 5,596; Sioux City, 5,249.

Denver has drawn 207,347 through July 4 and was nearly 100,000 ahead of Seattle, last year's minor league attendance leader, in its "attendance derby" with the Pacific Coast League city.

Colorado Springs rates the highest percentage in the increased attendance, upping its figures from 55,907 to 93,234. Lincoln, by averaging about 1,000 per game for its last ten openings, has come close to doubling its attendance although the number of playing days up to July 4 this year was greater than last year due to the flood of Sherman Field in June, 1951.

Wichita likewise has done well in increasing its figures from 72,022 to 83,480.

Last year's official Western League attendance was 1,155,249, and if the July 4 attendance this year is doubled in the last half of the season the final figures would be 1,243,428, or an increase of 88,179. To accomplish this the attendance for the last half must be 533,535.

Many special nights have already been scheduled in the eight cities and many more are being arranged.

Following is an attendance table through July 4 with comparisons for July 4, 1951:

Savitt Reaches Net Semi-Finals

CHICAGO (AP)—Dick Savitt and Art Larson steamed into the semifinals of the National Clay Courts Tennis tournament Friday with brisk quarter-final victories.

Savitt, the Orange, N. J., netman who is topseeded, lost his opening set to Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., 1-6, then took the next three handily, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

No. two-seeded Larsen, of San Leandro, Calif., whipped Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., 6-4, 6-2, 8-6.

The other quarter-final victors were Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif., fourth seeded in the tourney, who conquered Jiro Kumamaru, of Japan, 6-2, 6-2, 5-7, 6-1, and Don Candy of Australia, who ousted third-seeded Noel Brown, of Los Angeles, 4-6, 6-3, 0-6, 6-0, 6-4.

The Larsen-Candy match will precede the Stewart-Savitt match on today's afternoon semi-final program.

New JC Loop Being Proposed

FAIRBURY—A new all-sport junior college conference to include three Nebraska schools is being considered by officials of five midwestern jucos.

Athletic representatives of Fairbury, Norfolk and Luther of Nebraska, and Worthington, Minn., and Northwestern of Orange City, Ia., will meet some time next month to consider formation of the league.

Fairbury and Norfolk are now members of the Nebraska 4-JC league which also includes Scottsbluff and McCook, and would continue to compete in that league if the new one is formed. Luther, an independent, has been plagued with schedule difficulties.

Fairbury's 1952 football schedule already includes its three 4-JC opponents; Worthington and Luther, and four other foes.

The Bombers play three games in the first ten days. The schedule:

Sept. 17—Highland JC. 20—Kansas Tech at Topeka. 26—Northeastern at Sterling, Colo.
Oct. 2—Luther at Wahoo. 10—Wentworth Military. 23—McCook. 31—Worthington.
Nov. 7—Norfolk.

Dodgers Win As Pirates Stop Giants

(From Press Dispatches)

The Philadelphia Phillies threw out three St. Louis Cardinals trying to score on doubles and then broke through in the tenth inning to score a 4-3 victory, breaking the Redbirds' 10-game winning streak.

Even though he gave up 14 hits—including five doubles—and issued five walks, righthanded ace Robin Roberts struggled to his twelfth triumph on the strength of brilliant outfield relay work that cut down the Cardinal's best scoring chances.

The Phillies, limited to eight hits, scored the winning run in the tenth off Al Brazle, third St. Louis pitcher, on singles by Hamner and Willie Jones followed by Stan Lopat's long outfield fly.

The Brooklyn Dodgers stretched their National League lead to five and a half games Friday by beatin the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, while the second-place New York Giants were losing, 6-2, to the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Boston Braves beat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-1, in the day's other league game.

Rookie Shortstop Dick Groat drove in three runs on a pair of singles and slugger Ralph Kiner blasted his 14th homer to pace the Pirates' win over the faltering Giants.

The victory gave the Bucs the sweep of their two-game series with the 1951 National League champions, now in second place. It was the New Yorkers' sixth loss in eight games.

Little Murry Dickson went the distance for the Pirates, scattering 10 hits, to pick up his sixth victory of the season. He's lost 13. Sal (The Barber) Maglie was charged with his fifth loss against 11 wins.

The Bucs belted Maglie for 10 hits in seven innings and added a harmless single off Reliefer Dave Koslo in the eighth.

The Dodgers gathered only seven hits off three Chicago hurlers, but, as it turned out, the Brooks didn't need much batting this cloudy afternoon. For the Cubs made four wild tosses and booted one ground ball.

A three-run rally in tne eighth by the Chicagoans fell short, and Clem Labine picked up his seventh victory, although he was knocked out in this inning. Carl Erskine finished up.

Willie Ramsdell started for the Cubs—and he was his own worst enemy. The righthanded knuckleballer made two errant tosses, and both allowed runs to score. Willie, who was followed to the mound by Turk Lown and Dutch Leonard, suffered his third loss.

Duke Snider smacked his 11th home run for the Dodgers but this almost was lost in the shuffle of the Cubs' five-error performance.

The Braves backed Warren Spahn's good pitching with 16 hits and good base running to defeat the Reds. The southpaw allowed seven hits.

Johnny Logan drove in a couple of runs as he hit safely behind the speedy Sam Jethroe in the first and second innings. He had three hits for the day, as did Earl Torgeson. One of Torgeson's hits was for the distance.

It was Spahn's eighth victory against nine losses. Wehmeier lost his seventh game. He has won four.

Sam Snead Drops To 2nd At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A couple of old hands—Henry Ransom and Sam Snead—shot six-under-par 66's Friday to stand one-two at the half-way mark in the $15,000 St. Paul Open tournament.

Ransom's 36-hole score was 130—14 under par. Snead was two strokes back with 132, having duplicated his opening day count.

Dentist Cary Middlecoff added a 68 to his 65 of Thursday for third place. Ted Kroll, new Hartford, N.Y., another 65 shooter Thursday, got a 69 Friday to take fourth with 134.

Horse Player Beats 'Mutuel Machine

NEW YORK. (AP) — Pinkerton detectives Friday sought a horse player who beat the races by taking over a pari-mutuel machine at Aqueduct.

Somehow, without anyone the wiser, he punched out $4,400 worth of tickets on a horse that had already won. Then he cashed them in the next day.

The winning tickets were on Edna's Choice. She finished first in the last race July 4 and paid $13 to $2.

The Pinkertons, who guard the nation's race tracks, called it the first theft of its kind they ever heard of.

The unidentified thief was presumed to have slipped into a deserted pari-mutuel booth after everyone else went home. But nobody could figure out how he made the pari-mutuel machine work. It is electrically locked.

STROMSBURG —, Stromsburg cut Sutton's lead in the Cornhusker League baseball race to one game by beating the Clay Country entry, 4-3, with a three-run uprising in the last of the eighth inning.

The Swedes' winning runs came on a single by Ron Keefer, a walk to Jim Cederdahl and doubles by Bob Sterup and Neil Hafemeister.

Max Quick pitched a four-hitter for Stromsburg, while Jerry Schmid of Sutton gave up eight hits.

Geneva beat York, 6-3, after trailing, 3-0, going into the sixth inning when the winners got all their runs on three hits and four errors.

Bob Wells, Geneva starting pitcher was succeeded by Jake Bornschlegl in the seventh inning. Red Neujahr, on the mound for York, struck out 12.

In other games, Seward nipped Aurora, 3-2, and Utica edged Fairbury, 4-2. Line score:

No Food Shortage For Olympic Stars

HELSINKI (AP)—United States Olympic athletes have no food problems at the games.

The U. S. Committee had 6,000 ten-ounce steaks flown in from the states, also 3,000 pounds of bacon, 3,000 pounds of ham and 6,000 pounds of poultry. Fresh bread is flown in daily.

A typical dinner: large glass of fruit juice, soup, steak, salad, three vegetables, and dessert of grapes, melon or ice cream. Milk is furnished not by the glass, but by the quart.

Nats Get First Win Over Chisox

(From Press Dispatches)

Eddie Yost's single with one out in the tenth inning scored Hal Keller from second base and gave Washington a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Spec Shea went the distance for the Senators to win his fifth straight decision and his eighth of the year.

Harry Dorish, third White Sox pitcher, was the victim of Yost's blow and suffered his first loss of the year after winning five in a row.

Keller doubled in the tenth inning with one out and after Shea walked, Yost singled sharply to left, scoring Keller.

The game marked Washington's first triumph over the second place White Sox in eight games at Griffith Stadium this season.

The Senators scored in the second inning off Joe Dobson when Mickey Vernon singled, took second on Pete Runnels' grounder and scored on Floyd Baker's single.

The White Sox tied the score in the fourth inning on singles by Orestes Minoso, Ed Stewart and Sam Mele.

Successive home runs by Al Rosen and Larry Doby brought a ninth-inning 8-7 victory for the Cleveland Indians over the Philadelphia Athletics.

A third-inning rally in which Ferris Fain extended his batting streak to 23 consecutive games and Joe Astroth tripled with the bases loaded scored all seven Philadelphia runs and drove Bob Feller from the mound. Mike Garcia got the win, his 12th, as Rosen clouted his 16th homer and Doby connected for an inside-the-park homer, his 14th.

Lefthander Tommy Byrne won his first game in two months Friday when he let his former New York Yankee mates down with seven hits as the St. Louis Browns won, 6-3. The victory cracked a nine-game losing streak for the Browns.

Byrne, who recorded his previous triumph on May 10, fanned five and walked only three. The only earned run he permitted was Joe Collins' sixth homer in the eighth inning. The Yanks were handed unearned tallies in the third, due to a passed ball by Catcher Clint Courtney, and in the seventh, when Cass Michaels erred.

The contest was a tight one for six innings. Each team scored an unearned tally over that period. The Browns' tainted counter came in the fourth after third baseman Gil McDougal booted a grounder.

Bill Miller, rookie lefthander, opposed Byrne at the outset. Miller worked because Eddie Lopat, the scheduled starter, came up with a sore shoulder. Miller had to quit after the fourth as a result of a sore leg.

The Boston Red Sox took over fourth place in the league by dumping the tail-end Detroit Tigers twice, 16-6 and 5-3.

Billy Goodman got three hits and knocked in three runs in the first game. Then he got four hits and knocked in three more runs in the nightcap to make Mel Parnell's four-hitter a winning one and take over the American league batting leadership with a .348 average.

Vern Stephens hit two homers, Hoot Evers hit another with the bases loaded, and even Rookie Pitcher Dick Brodowski hit one as the Red Sox butchered the Tigers in the opener.

Goodman added a bases-loaded triple to the assault which produced Boston's biggest run total of the season and tagged Ted Gray with the defeat.

Illini Laborer Reaches Finals In Publinx

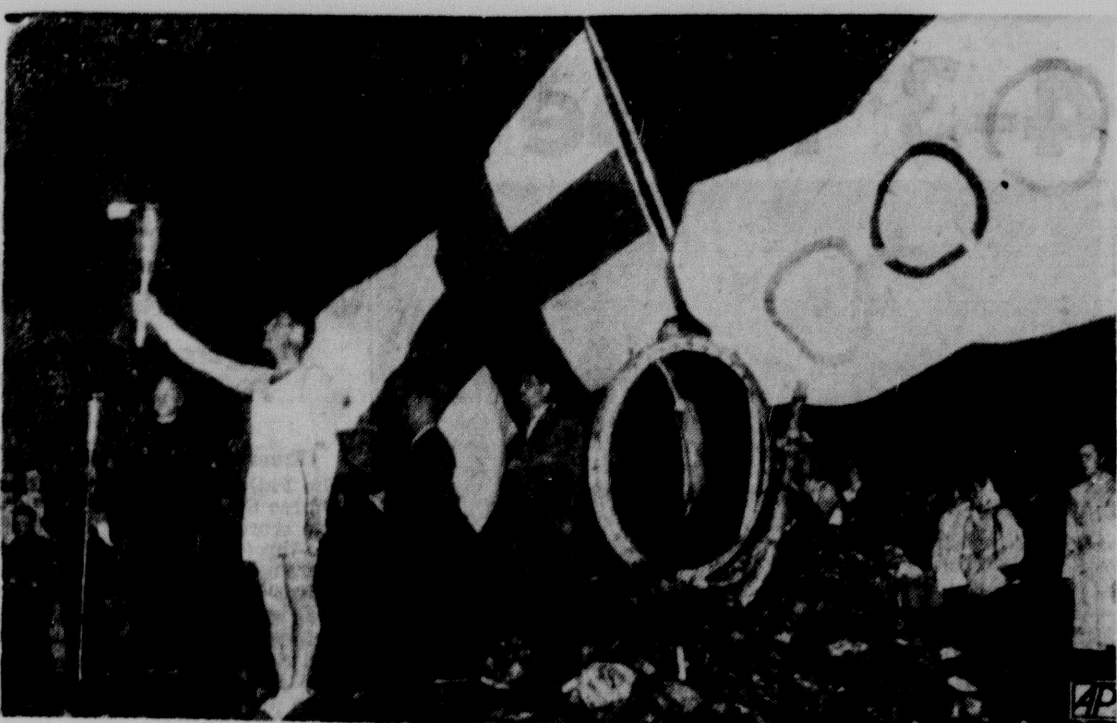
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Iron-nerved Bob Scherer, a young Illinois laborer driving toward a professional golfing career, and Omer (Pete) Bogan, 35-year-old South Gate, Calif., furniture salesman, smashed into the finals of the National Public Links tournament Friday.

Scherer hung a crushing 10 and eight defeat on John Halin, Spokane, Wash., college student, in one 36-hole semifinal match. The slender Bogan grabbed the other finals berth by outshooting Bob Kurz, Miami air line pilot, 5 and 4.

Scherer, 21-year-old workman from a Decatur manufacturing plant, hacked out a 4-up edge over Halin, a long, lanky scrambler, on the first nine, and although Halin rallied to hold him on even terms through the second nine, there never was a doubt as to the outcome.

Scherer built a towering 9-up lead over the third lap of their semifinal battle, then finished the 19-year-old Washington State College player by outdriving him to capture the 28th hole.

One more 36-hole test faces Scherer in today's finals, and if he survives they'll give him the keys to Decatur. Mayor Robert E. Willis wired Friday that "the whole town is proud" of his magnificient performance in one of golf's longest and toughest tournament grinds.



KINDLE OLYMPIC FLAME FROM MIDNIGHT SUN — Pekka Niemi holds aloft one of two Olympic flames, after it was kindled by the light of the Midnight Sun in a tiny village in Finnish Lapland. Niemi later ran with the flame to the Swedish-Finnish border where it was joined with an Olympic torch, lighted in Greece. Both were en route to Helsinki for the opening of the 15th Olympiad. Hurley Questions Marciano's Ability As Heavyweight Fighter

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Hurley, the voice and brain trust of Harry Matthews, is in town, his agile mind and long spare body a study in angles.

Hurley manages Matthews, who has a date with Rocky Marciano for a 10-round bout in Yankee Stadium July 28, and Jack's mental angles concern the publicizing of the engagement so that nobody will have the excuse that he stayed away because he hadn't heard of the gigantic, colossal, and even probably very good, heavyweight struggle.

Jack admits he didn't want the fight, as he could make as much money out West with less danger, but he also says the International Boxing Club didn't want the fight either. But there was no way either party could get out of it without losing face, which is something the fighters themselves usually lose, literally.

We wondered out loud what Matthews thought of the fight. Hurley's eyebrows raised behind his steel-rimmed specs, and he gave us a bland, surprised look. To replace our usual dour expression, no doubt.

"Why," he said, as if we had asked him some debatable question such as the direction of a sunrise, "what's he got to do with it? He knew about it when he read it in the papers. Somebody mentioned the fight to him, and he said: 'Heah, I read about it.'

"'How do you feel about it?' the guy asked. 'I don't know, you'll have to ask Hurley,' the athlete said. Why should he have anything to do with it. I'm his manager, aren't I?

"I told him when I took him over that all he had to do was follow orders. If he won, he got the credit; if he lost, I'd take the blame. He'll do anything I say."

He mentioned that a lot of supposedly ring-wise folks around here though he was leading "Harry The Kid" to slaughter.

"Did I ever put a fighter in over his head?" Jack asked with some indignation.

"In this fight, there is doubt that either man can fight. Or the fans doubt it. I know Matthews can fight. I think Marciano is green. He'll get hit long before the athlete gets hit. Let's see if he can take it."

Star On INS Special Wire From Helsinki

A star team of writers, editors and experts of International News Service has arrived in Helsinki to bring readers of The Lincoln Star every thrill and every tense moment of the Olympic2 games in the Finnish capital July 19-August 3.

The INS team is headed by Charles A. Smith, INS London manager and veteran of the last Olympics, who will direct the overall coverage.

Daily roundup stories will be handled by Marvin Stone, former college athlete already familiar to sports fans through his brilliant coverage of the Winter Olympics at Oslo.

Roy Cummins, veteran West Coast sports expert and track and rowing specialist, will concentrate on the doings of American athletes.

A host of other top newsmen and sportswriters, including Joseph Thomas, Fred Smith, Joseph Singer, Arthur Roissiter and Paul Brink will report all facts of the many-sided spectacle.

For the best Olympics coverage, be sure to follow these stars daily in the Lincoln Star.

International Olympic Group To Decide On China's Entry

HELSINKI (AP)—The dispute over whether Red China or Nationalist China can compete in the Olympic games was placed squarely before the International Olympic Committee Friday.

Both were included in the draw for the Olympic basketball elimination tournament.

The decision is now up to the plenary session of the Olympic Congress, which meets next Thursday and Friday following a two-day session of the Olympic Executive Committee.

The issue was forced when Gun-Hoh, Olympic head of Nationalist China, arrived with a claim for recognition and appeared at the basketball draw. Red China was not represented.

Previously both groups had been told they were ineligible because of failure to pay dues.

The International Federation of Aamteur Basketball first decided to include both teams. Then the press headquarters announced the draw had been rescinded. Finally it was decided the draw would stand but two blank places would be left for the Chinese teams. Neither figured in the early rounds.

The elimination tournament will determine which six of 15 teams will join 10 others previously qualified. The United States as defending champion, is already in the regular tournament.

The snarlup over China highlighted a day of widespread Olympic activity.

The last of America's 400 strong olympic team arrived by plane from New York. Today the flag will be formally raised at the Olympic Village of Kaepylae, although actually the Puerto Ricans already had it up.

And such ailing American Olympic stars as shot putter Jim Fuchs, 400 and 800 meter runner Mal Whitfield, and sprinter Danny Stanfield showed considerable physical improvement Friday.

Beatrice Gun Club Holds Shoot-Offs

BEATRICE — Shoot-offs featured the Homesteader shoot staged by the Beatrice Gun Club.

Only three trophies were won without shoot-offs. They were:

Class C—Johnny Johnsen of Lincoln, 98x100.
Class C runnerup—L. E. Peratt of Fairbury, 97x100.
Handicap—H. E. Mitchell, 50 straight from the 19-yard line.

Class A produced a triple tie with Art Wurtz of Hanover, Kan., Ray Scheer of Arlington and Rex Shaner of Geneva posting 97's. Wurtz broke 20 straight in the shoot-off, and Scheer was second.

Five men broke 97 in the race for the Class B trophy. In the shoot-off James B. Barock broke 49 of 50 targets to win from Albert Williams of Marion, Kan. Carl Boss of Beatrice, W. A. Smiley of Junction City, Kan., and Joe Kotz of Beatrice.

L. R. Mitchell, 13-year-old from Clay Center, won the Class D shoot-off from B. Peterson of Junction City, Kan., H. H. Green of Diller, Harold Fort of De Witt and Art Spier of Wymore.

Mike Wayland of Washington, Kan., took the doubles trophy. He had 22x24 to win the shoot-off from H. H. Wetzig of Junction City and Harry Koch of Omaha.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Long-term U. S. Government bonds climbed sharply Friday while corporate obligations held their ground.

Most short-term and intermediate treasury bonds did not budge. The new 2⅜s were unchanged at 100 12/32 bid. But the victory 2½s rose 8/32 at 98 10/32 as did the 2½s of 1964-69 at 98 28/32 bid. The bank-eligible Sept. 2½s were 2/32 higher at 98 22/32 bid.

The showdown at the Republican Convention, plus the hint of a showdown in the steel strike kept trading at a minimum. Secret negotiations between representatives of labor and the steel industry were held Thursday and Friday.

Government bond traders said gains were registered on scattered sales.

Railroad obligations were mixed, though some changed more than a point. Utilities were neglected and industrials registered only fractional movements.

Sales totaled $2,380,000 par value compared to $1,941,000 Friday which was the second slowest weekday session this year.

Wheat, Soys Rise; Gain Lost At Close

CHICAGO. (AP)—Wheat futures moved upward in early trading Friday on a bullish government crop report, but the gains were lost before the close.

Soybeans moved around 3 cents a bushel early, but also lost most of the advance in late selling. Corn held firm and oats were steady to weak.

During the final hour of trading, many brokers left the pits to watch the progress of the ballotting for presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention.

Wheat closed ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher than the previous finish, corn was unchanged to 1⅛ cent higher, oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, rye ¼ to 1 higher, Soybeans ½ up to ¼ down, and the lard unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Upward Stock Tilt Reflects 'Ike' Boom

NEW YORK (AP) — Without creating much excitement, the stock market advanced Friday under strong leadership of steel and railroads with plenty of support from the rest of the list.

The forward movement coincided with the build-up in strength in Chicago for General Eisenhower's nomination as the Republican presidential choice.

But Wall Street brokers said the Eisenhower boom didn't cause the stock market strength although it may have contributed to buying enthusiasm to some extent.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 60 cents at $106.70, equal to the rise on June 25 but not exceeded since June 4.

The industrial component of the average was up 90 cents, rails up 80 cents, and utilities up 10 cents.

Volume came to 1,040,000 shares—a disappointment to the bulls who have long contended that an expansion of the volume on the upside could well be the signal of a resumption of a sustained advance. Thursday's total was 1,010,000 shares.

The list was composed of exactly the same number of issues as Thursday—1,052. Of these 560 advanced and 244 declined with 31 new highs and four new lows for the year reached during the session.

Probation Revoked For Having Beer

An 18-year-old Lincoln youth—on probation for a petit larceny complaint—had his order of probation revoked in Municipal Court Friday after he pleaded guilty to possessing beer.

Municipal Judge John Jacobson revoked the June probation order for Paul E. Dodd, 349 So. 27th, because drinking violated a condition of the order.

Dodd was fined $35 and costs for the petit larceny charge and $25 and costs for possessing the beer while a minor. He was arrested with another youth on West O by a Nebraska safety patrolman.

Bait Signs Stolen

He doesn't know what they'll do with them, but Floyd Perry, 2110 P, told police someone stole three of his homemade signs worth $10 from 2537 No. 12th.

The signs advertised fish bait for sale.

2 Youths Paroled After Damaging Parked Truck

Two boys, 10 and 11 years old, were placed on parole to the Family Service Agency by Juvenile Judge Harry A. Spencer, after admitting breaking headlights, tail lights and the instrument panel in a parked truck.

The boys gave no reason for their actions, except that they wanted the bulbs in the headlights.

Since the truck was parked at the Check Oil Company, 512 No. 17th, the owner of the company agreed to let the boys work out the damage by doing various odd jobs around the station.

Located on the North Side of Paved Highway (20), 30 miles west of Sioux City, 2 miles north of Dixon, 15 miles north of Wayne. An unimproved Half Section, an ideal location for a farmer or feeder—one mile of pavement past farm. Farm is operated at present by Garnin Brothers.
Terms—20 % cash on day of Sale, balance will be due upon approval of title. All farms are clear of encumbrance, but loan representatives will be at the sale to make loan commitments if Purchasers desire terms. Remember you will get immediate returns on your money invested, as the share of 1952 crops are being sold with farms.
Sale by order of the Security National Bank of Sioux City, Iowa and Howard L. Johnson, Executor and Trustees of the Alma Ashby estate. Information on these farms can be obtained from the offices of Leamer and McDermott of Wayne or South Sioux City, Nebraska, Stewart and Hatfield of Sioux City, Iowa, Attorneys for the Executor and Trustees.
For information on these or many other farms, contact White Investment Co., Lyons, Nebraska, Feight Land Co., Insurance Exchange Building, Sioux City.
Check these farms. The crops this year will cut your costs or go along toward making improvements. This can be done by good farm management. The expense of soil improvement, such as contour farming, seed and fertilizers can be charged as actual expense, but are non-taxable or capital gains. The buyer will set the price of these farms. Call or write for particulars to 14

Ex-Lincolnite Brownell Keeping Key Figure Status

By JOHN SWANSON
(Star Staff Member)

Neither the triumphs of the opposition party nor the internal cleavages of his own has kept Nebraska-born Herbert Brownell Jr. from re-appearing through the years as a key figure at the helm of the Republican Party.

The 40-year-old Peru native to all appearances slipped from influence in 1948 when the campaign for the ticket of Govs. Dewey and Warren went down to unexpected defeat. And yet, Friday he emerged as one of the "old pros" who guided the Eisenhower movement to success at the GOP convention.

The Eisenhower coup marked the second major convention victory for Herbert Brownell. In 1948, then only two years out of the chairmanship saddle of the Republican Party, Brownell emerged as a major political strategist as well as executive.

At that convention, the forces of Taft and Stassen concentrated their efforts in a "stop Dewey" movement to block the nomination of the already once-defeated candidate. Brownell captained the Dewey forces through the stormy convention, prevented a unity of the opposition, and then stood back to see the New York governor raise his hands once more in victory over the convention rostrum.

The brilliant organizer was born in Peru, Feb. 20, 1904, the son of Prof. and Mrs. Herbert Browell. Prof. Brownell later moved to Lincoln, where his son graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1924.

Brownell then went east to attend Yale University, and graduated in 1927. His star began to rise later when he became a partner in the large New York law firm of Lord, Day and Lord.

He was a delegate to the Republican National Conventions of 1936 and 1944. After serving as a New York assemblyman, his party in June, 1944 named him Republican national chairman, to direct Dewey's first presidential campaign.

Gov. Dewey and then-Gov. John Bricker of Ohio were instrumental in the selection of Brownell to the top party post. Dewey and Brownell had been associated in state and city politics for many years previous to Brownell's election.

The politician's father, Professor Brownell, taught at the University of Nebraska until his death in 1937. Herbert Brownell Jr., was graduated from Lincoln High School in 1920, bearing the honor of class orator.

The honors given him at the time by his classmates in Lincoln High could be compared to those which he holds today in the Republican Party.

In a flowery language that would make a political convention orator envious, the 1920 year book declared that young Brownell graduated with "his blushing honors thick upon him."

BROWNELL . . . an old hand at organization. . .

Lincoln Base Site Plan Is Told Kiwanis Club

Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, member of the Lincoln City Council, discussed the site plan for the proposed Air Force Base in Lincoln at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Lincoln Hotel.

Two B-47 jet bomber wings will operate from the base, according to Kinsey.

The discussion also included the impact upon Lincoln of new military families coming into the city.

She is survived by her husband, James. Burial will be at Fairview Cemetery.

Floberg Thinks Joint Navy-AF Use Of Air Base Is Possible

Assistant Secretary of Navy for Air John F. Floberg, following a quick but thorough examination of the Lincoln Naval Air Base, reported he thought arrangements could be worked out for joint use of the Base by the Navy and the Air Force.

Reporting on Floberg's impressions of the Lincoln facilities, Capt. Harold Murray, commanding officer, said the assistant Naval Air secretary "seemed quite pleased with the amount of improvements on the Lincoln base."

Floberg was reported as saying he had examined a map sent recently to Capt. Murray showing the location of the Naval Air unit in the plans for reactivation. He wouldn't commit himself on the map, Capt. Murray said, but looking at it and looking over the terrain, he said he thought arrangements could be worked out.

Capt. Murray said the map didn't show dimensions of the proposed Naval unit when relocated. On the possible size of the space given the Navy, the captain said it would be foolish to erect buildings so hemmed in it wouldn't be safe to put into operation plans for future expansion.

He said there must be room for expansion, for ample parking space, barracks, a small BOQ, and other buildings. The captain said at least 70 acres would be needed to meet expansion plans.

Floberg was en route to Los Angeles to speak at an aviation writers annual convention. He is the youngest secretary in any of the four services in terms of points of service and age.

Both Floberg and Capt. Murray said details of the relocation of the Naval unit and its working combination with the Air Force would be worked out in Washington.

Rites For A. A. Miller, Former Garrison Grain Dealer, To Be Monday

Funeral services for Alexander A. Miller, 80, 2718 No. 49th, former caretaker at the University Place library and grain dealer at Garrison, will be at 10 a.m. Monday at Helmsdoerfers.

He died Thursday night at a local hospital.

Rev. Vincent Beebe will officiate with Mildred Ohslund at the organ. Graveside services will be at 2 p.m. at the Garrison, Neb., cemetery.

Mr. Miller was born June 26, 1872, at Braggville, Mass., and came to Nebraska when 12. After retiring from the grain dealership at Garrison, he moved to Lincoln in 1926 where he worked at the University Place library until retiring six years ago.

Mr. Miller was a member of the First Methodist Church here.

Surviving are two sisters, Mayme L. Miller and Annie Miller, both of 2718 No. 49th.
